"Well, you see," answered the young man, after a momentary pause, "American girls won't stand for bores. We have an expression 'Money talks,' but it has got to talk amazingly to the American woman, or flock by itself. But, after all, humor, gaiety, responsiveness, are all rather like safety matches—they must have a box to strike on. Don't you think so? But what a delightful little room. EXCISE WAR.

GOVERNOR IS ANGRY.

Troops at Atlantic City, Threat.

Promises to Send Militia to Enforce Observance of Liquor Law.

Grand Jury in Trouble With Court Over Refusal to Indict.

Judge Charges Jurors With Violation of Oaths and Dereliction.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) Aug. 27.—The action of Gov. Fort in threatening to send troops into this famous resort to enforce the State liquor laws, unless the people of Atlantic City observe the law, caused a sensation today among the residents and summer visitors. Another sensation was sprung at May's Landing, the county seat of Atlantic county, when the grand jury absolutely refused to obey the instructions of the court to return indictments against excise violators.

Supreme Court Justice Thomas W. Trenchard, who had been requested by Gov. Fort to sit with the county judge, was so incensed at the action of the grand jury that he instantly discharged it with a severe reprimand.

The Governor's proclamation was not wholly unexpected, as there had been rumors for days that he would resort to the calling out of the militia if necessary to enforce the excise laws.

Asst. Atty.-Gen. Gaskill, who is here assisting County Prosecutor Goldenburg in the excise cases, says the Governor can call out the troops, although it is an unusual proceeding.

The Governor's power to declare martial law, he says, cannot be questioned.

Sheriff Johnson of Atlantic county, Mayor Story of Atlantic City, and County Prosecutor Goldenburg tonight refuse to discuss the situation.

JURY HAD NO INDICTMENTS.

Last Sunday the saloons and cafés, with but few exceptions, conducted business as usual. When the grand jury came into court today, Justice Trenchard addressed it as follows:

"I understand that all cases have been presented to you. I have sent for you in order that the clerk may take the indictment."

When asked by the clerk if the jury had any indictments to present, Joseph W. Salus, the foreman of the jury, said that it had not at this time, and that it had not considered all the cases presented.

Justice Trenchard then said the court would sit until indictments were found, and the jury retired. This caused a mild sensation, as it indicated that the court intended to bring matters to a head.

The jurors returned late in the afternoon and presented three indictments, two against an alleged gambling house, and one against a man who is charged with selling obscene postal cards.

SEVERE REPRIMAND.

Justice Trenchard read the bills of indictment and finally threw them on his desk and said:

"I notice that you have not presented any indictments for the illegal sale of liquor on Sunday. The Assistant Attorney-General of the State and the Prosecutor of the county have informed the court that they have placed before the jury evidence which justifies indictments in such cases. As no indictments have been found, it seems to be an indication that this grand jury has failed in the performance of its duty. The court is forced to say that, considering the instructions of the court, the state of the law and the evidence presented, you grand jurors have failed in the performance of your duty and have violated your oath of office to the State of New Jersey. You are discharged for the term.

FOREMAN TAKES EXCEPTION.

Foreman Salus instantly arose and took exception to the remarks of the court.

"As grand jurors, we feel no responsibility. We are willing to stand before God and say that we feel that we have performed our duty and have not violated our oaths. We represent the will of the people of Atlantic county. We feel that we are supreme and without affront we feel that no person, however clothed with power or office, has a right to rebuke us in this manner. We, as representatives of Atlantic county, representing $5,000,000 worth of property, do not intend that the deliberations of this jury shall be made political capital. We want nothing concealed. We want a spade called a spade. We grand jurors tried to have presented before us gambling evidences which the county prosecutor caused to be published in the newspapers, but we did not get it. At every turn we were throttled as grand jurors."

Continuing, he said that they had been told that unless they brought indictments in excise cases, no evidence of gambling would be presented to them.

"On these grounds," he said, "we reserved the right in the final analysis here to state that we have not been fairly treated in thus being publicly branded."

KERMIT, HERO IN RUNAWAY

PRESIDENT'S SON SAVES WOMAN AND TWO SONS.

Pursues Frightened Team on Horseback for More Than a Mile and at Risk of His Own Life Grasps the Reins and Brings Them to a Stop Without Damage.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OYSTER BAY, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Kermit Roosevelt displayed his courage and skill as a horseman this afternoon. On horseback, he pursued for more than a mile a pair of runaway blooded horses, dragging behind them a carriage in which was a helpless woman and her two little sons. By stopping the runaway at the risk of serious injury to himself, he undoubtedly saved the three lives.

Frank Hilton, a New York business man, arrived here on a late afternoon train and was met by his wife and her two sons in the carriage. On attempting to pass a disabled automobile the wheel of the carriage struck a post. The shock threw Mr. Hilton from the vehicle and his horses ran away.

Kermit Roosevelt, out for a ride, was a few hundred feet behind. He saw Mr. Hilton thrown and heard Mrs. Hilton scream in alarm. After a hot spurt of more than a quarter of a mile Kermit was abreast of the runaway. He reached out to seize the reins, but the skittish animals swerved and then dashed along with redoubled speed. Half a mile further along, Kermit ranged alongside, shouted a word of encouragement to Mrs. Hilton and then leaning far to one side, he caught the reins. He gave a powerful tug at the risk of being unseated himself and brought the team to a standstill.

TURKEY OPEN TO INDUSTRIES.

END OF OLD REGIME MEANS NEW ENTERPRISE.

From Closed Country to Foreign Trade, Sultan's Domain Will Change to One of World's Greatest Openings for Modern Improvements and Development of Commerce.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VIENNA, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Financiers in Vienna already perceive that the new régime in Turkey will have wider results than merely political, as it opens a field for commercial enterprise unequalled in richness and extent. Turkey hitherto has been a closed country from the standpoint of foreign trade, owing to the hostility of the government's impossible customs regulations and the chicanery and corruption of officials. All these are now disappearing, presenting boundless possibilities to foreign capitalists and manufacturers.

The whole of Asia Minor possesses great mineral wealth, which, heretofore has not been developed on account of the ridiculous mining laws and the difficulty of obtaining concessions. Manufacturing, too, is almost non-existent. Large towns are awaiting the introduction of electric lights, telephones, street railways and drainage systems and the government must build harbors. Great chances thus are offered contractors.

QUARANTINE REMOVED.

WILLEMSTAD (Curacao) Aug. 27.—The government, yesterday, removed the quarantine that was declared against Trinidad some time ago because of bubonic plague. This step was taken in spite of the receipt of a private letter from Port of Spain, declaring that a bacteriological examination there showed the existence of the plague among the animals.

ADD TO PLUMAS FOREST.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There was temporarily withdrawn on August 24 as a proposed addition to the Plumas national forest in California, the unappropriated public lands in an area of about 7152 acres. The tract is near the town of Quincy, in Plumas county.

BITTEN BY GRAY WOLF.

President's Hunting Companion in Serious Affray With Savage Animal.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LAWTON (Okla.) Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John R. Abernathy, Federal marshal by appointment of President Roosevelt with whom he hunted and whom he is to accompany on his African hunting trip, was badly bitten in the Wichita mountains today by a gray wolf weighing 125 pounds, the largest ever seen in Oklahoma, while teaching ten hunters how to catch wolves alive with their hands.

The wolf had been captured, wired by its nose and turned over to Abernathy, who was on horseback. The wire snapped and Abernathy undertook to catch the wolf with his hands. The wolf badly chewed up Abernathy's right hand, severely lacerated a finger on his left hand and seriously bit his knee. Five times the wolf was caught before he was securely placed in captivity.

POOR SLEEP IN MORGUE.

Hundreds Apply at New York Institution for Grewsome Shelter.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two hundred men and women, many of the latter with babies in their arms, slept in the morgue, at the foot of East Sedgwick street last night. They were glad to accept the grewsome hospitality of the municipality and to rest side by side, practically, with unknown pauper dead. Driven by the storm of yesterday and last night, they are willing to sleep even under the roof of a morgue.

At 6 o'clock this morning the unfortunates were sent into the streets by official orders, and their shelter for the night was once again reserved for the use of the dead. It was the first time in the history of the city that the dead house was improvised for a lodging house. The demands of the homeless men and women were too great for the capacity of the municipal lodging house at No. 198 First avenue. During the height of the storm they applied for shelter in such numbers that every chair and bench was taken before the usual hour.

A. O. BROWN WAS ABOUT TO WED EDNA WALLACE HOPPER.

Two Other Officers of Defunct Brokerage Concern Had Just Been Married, One to Chorus Girl and One to Old Sweetheart—Question Is, Will Actress Consent.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] As an aftermath of the $2,000,000 failure of A. O. Brown & Co., New York brokers, it became known today that the head of the concern had made all preparations to marry Edna Wallace Hopper, the actress.

With this came the news that Edward F. Buchanan, general manager of the concern, had married Miss Lillian Keith, a chorus girl in a Broadway theater, and that Cornelius O'Connor, manager of the firm's main office, twelve days ago wedded a young woman to whom he has been attentive for years.

Whether or not the failure of Brown's company will end his love affair with the actress is a subject that is being much discussed.

Mrs. Hopper and Brown were to have been married the last of the month, and all plans for the ceremony and honeymoon were completed. Then came the big deal in stocks, which left Brown's concern stranded.

PROUD OF COUNTRY.

SHERMAN SPEAKS FOR WORLD PEACE.

Republican Vice-Presidential Candidate Addresses Veterans and Says That America's Surest Guaranty Against War Is in Army and Navy.

UTICA (N. Y.) Aug. 27.—The eleventh annual reunion of the Oneida County Veterans' Association was held at Summit Park near this city today.

The principal speaker was James S. Sherman, the Republican Vice-Presidential candidate. Mr. Sherman said:

"We are in the midst of a campaign for party supremacy in which contending parties strive to carry out certain govermental policies and principles, but whether we be Republicans or Democrats, we are first, last and always Americans, proud of our country; proud of our position among the nations; proud of our progress, of our exalted standards and splendid accomplishments.

"Although partisan, we all sincerely desire the greatest good for the greatest number. It is not in opinion of the ultimate goal desired to be reached in which we differ, but rather in the safe and sure way to attain that goal.

PEACE WITH WORLD.

"We are today in a condition of profound peace with all the world. Would that that conditions might continue without end; but the most sanguine can hardly have such expectations.

"It is appropriate and natural that in time of peace we give thought to industrial problems. We give thought mainly to commercial progress, and yet a glance at our annual appropriation bills shows that year after year we are placing our army and our navy on a firmer foundation, for we are constantly preparing for that which we hope will never come. We believe that our surest guaranty of peace is found in perfect preparation for war. May I repeat the words of our comrade, President Harrison, spoken before the Chamber of Commerce in San Francisco in 1892.

"'We will pursue the paths of peace. We are not a warlike nation. All our institutions, all our history, is in the lines of peace. Only intolerable aggressions, only the peril of our institutions, of the flag, can thoroughly arouse us. With capability for war on land and sea unexcelled by any nation in the world, we are smitten with the love of peace. We would promote the peace of this hemisphere by placing judiciously some large guns about the Golden Gate, simply for saluting purposes, and yet, they should be of the best modern type.'

SURE GUARANTY.

"And so, let me, gentlemen, give expression to my thought in words uttered on another occasion, that we should at all times maintain such an army and such a navy as will be the sure guaranty of the protection of American citizens and American rights everywhere, and be at the same time an omen of peace, that we should at every exposed point be so fully protected that no power on earth would wish to molest us.

"Let the uppermost thought of the day be of peace rather than of war. Let us glory in the campaign of our country and the happiness of our people. Let us encourage strife for good government and good citizenship. Let us stimulate the effort, not alone to advance our welfare at home, but to give example of good government and good citizenship to the peoples of all the earth. Let us continue to elevate mankind in general by raising still higher our own standards.

HONEYMOON HAPPINESS.

BLISS TOO SWEET TO LAST, SAYS WIFE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "For a month Arthur and I were the happiest couple in the world. That bliss was too sweet to last. Then that horrid story appeared in the papers about anonymous letters received by Arthur's father telling the most awful stories about me."

Such is the statement of the beautiful young twenty year-old wife of Arthur W. Godfrey, the millionaire lumberman who has brought divorce proceedings naming Richard Carle and one other as corespondents.

"Just before Arthur left me," continued Mrs. Godfrey, "a man whose name I cannot divulge, came to my apartments and ordered me to leave the city within twenty-four hours. Though broken-hearted over the affair, I tried to appear happy when Arthur came home that night. I played and sang for him, but he seemed to be worried, and I knew that he must know something of the peculiar incident of the morning. I told him in a careless way about it, so he would not feel bad about it. If ever a tragic moment came into the life of a young wife it came with the words he said in reply:

"'Well, it may soon come to that, anyway, from the looks of things.'

"Then I knew his mind had been poisoned by this man. I almost screamed at the thought. I tried to get him to explain his words. That night he left me.

"I know that this man had detectives in Trenton, Mo., and Davenport, Iowa, in search of something that would injure me.

"At one time this man, who is my enemy here, prevented me from entering the family carriage with my husband, and rudely ordered me away from his sight. Many other indignities were heaped upon me before the separation took place, but I worked to overcome their prejudices."

THE FLOOD.

WATERS RECEDE.

Augusta In State of Chaos.

Damage Now Estimated at a Million Dollars in the Georgia City.

Ten to Fifteen Negroes Are Reported Drowned in the Flood.

Warning by Weather Bureau Saved Lives of Many Who Fled.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

AUGUSTA (Ga.) Aug. 27.—Flood waters at Augusta began receding this afternoon. They reached the height of forty feet, probably as high as the flood of 1888.

Rain has ceased in the upper valley and there is no danger of further losses. The loss approximates $750,000 to $1,000,000, and consists of damage to stocks of goods and private property, destruction of the wagon and railroad bridges across the Savannah River, and breaks in the canal banks.

There are dependent on the canal for power eight large and small cotton mills. While the flood was at its height, five fires broke out. The McDaniel builders' material establishment, North Augusta, burned. A train of forty cars on the Southern Railroad burned in Hamburg, just across the river. Nixon's lime, cement and hardware house, and a huge quantity of lumber belonging to the Georgia Railroad at the Georgia Railroad yards, were burned. The Augusta Railway and Electric Company cannot run its cars for three days.

NEGROES DROWNED.

No power plant is in operation, the telephone lines are not doing business, the railroads are accepting no passengers. The water service is crippled, but intact. The gas company is impaired but not shut down.

There have been ten to fifteen drownings, mostly negro laborers.

From the northwestern section of the city the waters will not recede for two or three days.

Tonight is a night of tension. Missing men and families are being reported.

The Augusta Chronicle got out its third edition in abbreviated form at 9 o'clock p.m.

The Augusta Herald, an afternoon paper, could not publish Wednesday or Thursday.

CITY IN CHAOS.

The Savannah River began rising rapidly early Tuesday, continuing throughout the day up to late hour last night until water six to eight feet deep surged through the city in a territory bounded by Fifteenth street on the west to the extreme eastern boundary of the city.

Reports of capsizing boats in the swift current have been received, but not verified because of the utter chaos the city was thrown in by the sudden rise of the water and resulting confusion.

Lime stored in warehouses coming in contact with the water was said to have been the cause of explosions which destroyed the warehouses of the Nixon wholesale grocery company's warehouses and the Nixon and Danforth cotton warehouse. Neither the firemen nor anybody else could get close to them. The fires were spectacular, added to the disaster already rife, and the people were compelled to stand idly by and watch the new feature of destruction.

WARNING GIVEN.

The local Weather Bureau issued a flood warning Tuesday morning saying the river would reach a height of between 35 and 37 feet Wednesday evening, by which time it was predicted the river would have reached its highest point. This prediction was exceeded by several feet, the river having reached between 40 and 45 feet, the danger line being 33 feet.

Immediately upon learning the Weather Bureau's warning, those living nearest the river began moving out for higher places, and before the water reached their homes they were well on their way to the hills.

There is a great deal of suffering among the poorer classes of white and the negroes who occupied houses nearest the lowlands. When the river began to rise, people could be seen going about the streets with little articles they could readily gather up and what bedding they could carry on their backs. Women were seen with their children in their arms making their way toward higher places, while the men were driving livestock.

SURROUNDED BY WATER.

Thousands of people went to bed Tuesday night with the thought that they would wake up in time to escape from the flood, but greatly to their surprise they awoke to find themselves surrounded by water and cut off from escape except by boat.

The cab men and those possessing boats were quick to see their opportunity and at once began to charge exorbitant prices for moving those unfortunate enough to be caught in perilous positions. Many people in attempting to wade or swim from their homes or from places of business in the flooded district to points of vantage lost their footing and only saved themselves from the rushing torrent

Aeroplane Is Assembled and Will Soon Soar.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Wright Brothers' aëroplane has been put together at Fort Myer and Arville Wright is now looking forward to the flights which he has come here to make.

In its complete form the flying machine measures about forty feet from tip to tip of its wings and from the horizontal planes in front to the vertical tail behind is about twenty feet. Motor, propellors, the two seats to be occupied by the official operator and passenger and all other details are now complete.

Tomorrow the motor will be tried out under the direction of Wright himself, who wants to see the craft in fine working order before undertaking his flights. The aëroplane is now in the hanger or balloon house about a mile from the parade ground where the tests are to occur.

Wright said today he probably would make no flights this week although he would be ready Saturday. He said the aëroplane would be placed upon a wagon Monday morning hauled over the hills to the parade ground and that his first unofficial flight would undoubtedly be made Monday afternoon about 5 o'clock.

Employees in Chicago Federal Building Under Searching Examination by Assistant State's Attorney and Important Evidence Is Said to Have Been Secured.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Every employé of the United States subtreasury in the Federal building was subjected to a "sweat box" examination today, and it is believed that important evidence has been secured that will solve the mystery of the $173,000 robbery for which George W. Fitzgerald, former teller, was arrested Sunday.

The examination was conducted by Assistant State's Attorney Popham under the direct orders of Subtreasurer Boldenweck. It was predicted that arrests would result. All day the prosecutor "sweated" the employés of the subtreasury, and it was said important evidence had been found.

"I can't say a word about this business now," said Attorney Popham, when asked regarding his inquiry, "but there probably will be some startling developments in a few days."

Mr. Boldenweck admitted that all his employés were being thoroughly "sweated," but he refused to disclose the reason for the process.

His personal liabilities he placed at $1750, while debts contracted through indorsing notes and checks for his wife he placed at about $650,000. Among the notes indorsed is one on J. W. Friend for $500,000. Another is one on Judge J. W. Albaugh, Canton, O., for $90,800.

Dr. Chadwick said that he has but $150 with which to pay these debts.

READY FOR ANY EMERGENCY.

EARLE, EXPECTING DEATH, RELEASED.

Artist Engaged in Writing Will in Cell of Jail and Waiting for Dark Angel, Is Rejoiced Over News That Bail Has Been Granted.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GOSHEN (N. Y.) Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Sitting in his cell and busy writing his will, Ferdinand Pinney Earle, who pleaded guilty to beating his affinity and soul mate, Julia Kuttner Earle, today declared he expected the "Death Angel" to visit him ere long, and that he wanted to be prepared.

"I would not be surprised to receive a summons from the Angel of Death at any moment," he is reported by his keeper as saying. "I want to be prepared for any emergency."

Hardly had he spoken before there was a tramping of feet in the corridor.

"That may be he now," he cried.

But he was doomed to disappointment, for his visitor was only the warden and his brother, Victor, who had secured an order for the artist's release on $1000 bail. The news that he was to be free caused Earle much joy. He hurriedly packed up his manuscript and few belongings which he had been allowed to have, and with his brother left the place where he spent two most wretched nights.

The brother's were driven first to Earle's home at Monroe, but his plans for the future he would not reveal. He said, however, he was "no more insane than the President."

"The trouble is that, like Roosevelt, I am fifty years ahead of the time. I am not understood, hence I am thought to be insane. He is called erratic, so am I. I am no more insane than he."

While in his cell Earle's moods changed frequently, and he seemed very much wrought up. He alternately prayed, laughed, lamented and scolded. Despite the cold, he wore only a pair of trousers, an outer shirt and sandals. He has written numerous letters to his wife, sending them to different addresses where she may have taken refuge, but has received no reply.

RAIN IN KANSAS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WICHITA (Kan.) Aug. 27.—Rain to the amount of 4.32 inches fell here in twelve hours last night, breaking the previous record, which was 4.07 inches, June 21, 1894, in twenty-four hours. The most severe electrical storm the city ever experienced accompanied the rain. Property loss will amount to $10,000.

YOUTHS LASH BOYS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Stripped of their clothing, tied to trees and cruelly lashed with switches—such was the punishment meted out to two young boys by two older youths for whom the little fellows had refused to steal. The case came to light yesterday through the arrest of Arthur Holmgren, aged 16, and Joseph Cassiboin, 18. Their accusers are Richard Enger, aged 12, and Richard Keenley, aged 7 years. The attack on Enger occurred Tuesday afternoon and Keenley was beaten yesterday, both in the same woods at Forest Glen.

THAW DEFENDS POPULAR GAMES.

BEST PEOPLE DO NOT GAMBLE AT SPORTS, HE DECLARES.

Slayer of White Agrees With Decision in Favor of Jerome, but at Same Time Regrets That Commissioner's Report Reflects on Billiards, Golf, Baseball, Etc.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

POUGHKEEPSIE (N. Y.) Aug. 27.—Harry K. Thaw made the following statement today after reading the opinion of Commissioner Hand in the proceedings for the removal of Dist.-Atty. Jerome, who is opposing Thaw's fight for liberty:

"I agree with Mr. Hand's decision in favor of Jerome, and think that on the whole public sentiment will support it.

"In his decision, Mr. Hand expresses certain opinions which seem to me mistaken, but two remarks that appear regrettable don't affect Dist.-Atty. Jerome. Mr. Hand might condone throwing dice for money, but his comment that to rebuke that deed is to indict a very large portion of the community, who take part in the games of billiards, bridge whist, golf, baseball and every other popular recreation known to the people of every civilized land will surely shock the best people of the community.

"I have many friends who play billiards, and I know that they don't bet upon the game; that they indulge in it purely as a recreation, with no thought of gambling. Bridge whist is never played in public for money.

LITTLE GOLF FOR MONEY.

"If my own experience over many links counts for anything, not one man in a hundred plays golf for money. I have attended more than a hundred baseball games and found that my own and my neighbors' interest came from the playing of the game itself. Were it otherwise, professional baseball would become a farce. Mr. Hand cannot be familiar with this spirit of amateur baseball.

"That field sports, tennis, etc., are indulged in as a pleasure and wholesome exercise, is, I trust, beyond doubt. Were this otherwise, the votaries of racing would have an unanswerable argument in favor of their diversion.

"The effect of Mr. Hand's statement, coming from such an authority, cannot be otherwise than injurious.

"Another remark I hope will not meet with general approval, is his affirmation that 'I cannot imagine any serious difference of opinion upon the proposition that there were justices of the Supreme Court in the First District who were not entitled to the respect of any well informed lawyer.' It has a disagreeable sound to me. If Mr. Hand believes this and has proof, it is his duty to bring charges against the judges thus accused. If not, this incrimination should have been omitted."

MRS. THAW NERVOUS WRECK.

SENT TO SANATORIUM.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw, broken down in health, has been taken to a private sanatorium.

It was said today that the sanatorium is located in West Sixty-first street, and a favorite resort for women whose nerves have become shattered. In her recent appearance in public Mrs. Thaw's friends observed that she appeared to be on the verge of a breakdown. Her nerves were on edge, her face was pinched and showed traces of late hours and a lively life. The fresh beauty that was her strong characteristic seemed to be fading.

Mrs. Thaw was advised by her physician some time ago, it is said, to give up the whirlwind life which held out such an allurement to her, but she persisted in going the rounds. Last week her condition became such that her doctor ordered her to be taken to the sanatorium.

Mrs. Thaw made strenuous objection against being taken away and placed under restriction, but her physician was inexorable. Her condition is now said to be but slightly improved. The wear on her nervous system was such that her physician believes she will have to take the rest cure for at least a month, and after that a trip to Europe, with more rest and no excitement.

In Addition, Further Amount to Be Assessed Later by Experts Must Be Paid for Alleged Complicity in the Matos Rebellion—British Minister in Conference.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CARACAS, Aug. 24.—The Civil Court of First Instance today handed down a judgment declaring the French Cable Company guilty of complicity in the Matos revolution against President Castro and condemning it to pay damages to the amount of nearly $5,000,000. In addition, the company must pay a further amount to be assessed later by experts. The company may appeal from the decision. It is practically a duplicate of the decision handed down against the New York and Bermudez Asphalt Company.

Declines to Replace Greeks.

GRASS VALLEY, Aug. 27.—A break in the relations between the Nevada County Labor Council and E. W. Tarr, representing the Tarr Mining Company, occurred this afternoon, when Tarr declined to put on American labor at $2.50 per day to replace seventy-five Greeks now digging a big water ditch to Blue Point mine.

FLEET NEARS MELBOURNE.

Crowds Tax Railroads Flocking to Capital.

City Rushing Work of Decorating Buildings.

Formalities Will Be Cut to the Minimum.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MELBOURNE, Aug. 28.—A dispatch received here reports the passing of Gaboisen by the American fleet at 4:10 a.m. The fleet is now off the Victoria coast.

Great crowds are coming into the city in anticipation of the arrival of the fleet, the resources of the railroads being strained to their utmost. The weather is dull and it is feared the early part of the visit will be marred to some extent by rain.

Thousands of persons, including many motor parties, are making arrangements to proceed to the coast to witness the approach of the American ships of war, and their entrance into Port Philip, which is thirty miles distant from Melbourne.

In the city the work of decorating the buildings and public places is making rapid progress. Already there are miles of flags and banners waving, and many pictorial devices have been put into place. These include portraits of Roosevelt and Washington, and numerous groups emblematic of the concord between the United States and Australia.

Experience at Auckland and Sydney has shown that the officers and men of the fleet do not enjoy formal functions at which attendance is compulsory, and there is a disposition here to minimize formalities so that private friendships may be cultivated and informal gatherings enjoyed.

JAP PROGRAMME COMPLETE.

SPLENDID RECEPTION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

TOKIO, Aug. 27.—The programme for the reception of the American fleet in Japanese ports has been finished and submitted to Lieutenant-Commander John A. Dougherty, naval attaché of the American embassy, for approval, but it has not yet been publicly announced, owing to the probability that minor changes will be necessary.

The attention to details, characteristic of the Japanese, is shown throughout the programme. The fleet is due to arrive at Yokohama on Saturday, October 17, and that day and Sunday will be devoted entirely to receptions and entertainments in that city. On Monday, October 19, which will be known as American Day, the rear-admirals of the fleet, with their staffs, will come to Tokio. They will be given apartments in the imperial palace at Shiba, where Judge Taft was entertained during his recent visit, and an imperial carriage will be placed at the disposal of each rear-admiral.

Official calls will be exchanged on Monday morning. A luncheon to the rear-admirals and their staffs, given by Ambassador O'Brien at the American embassy, will be followed by a reception to the American officers on the embassy grounds. On Monday night Ambassador O'Brien will give an elaborate dinner at the Imperial Hotel to the American officers and prominent Japanese officials. On Tuesday, October 20, the entertainments provided by the Japanese will commence.

The arrangements include the most minute details for the entertainment of the American officers and men during every hour of each day of their stay. These include an audience of the officers with the Emperor and daily excursions to outlying points of interest. A Japanese squadron will meet the American fleet as it approaches the coast of Japan and will act as an escort to Yokohama, one war vessel being assigned to each American ship.

EVANGELIST IS PUT TO FLIGHT.

PREACHER, CONFRONTED WITH CHILD, ESCAPES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John Hutcherson, the evangelist who was interrupted during his preaching Sunday, when Mrs. Cora Thompson, the girl who left her home and husband to follow him in religious work, laid their three weeks' old baby dramatically at his feet, last evening applied at Gott's mission home, Garrison and Franklin avenues, and took away his legitimate seven-year-old daughter. He declared that he was about to leave the city. He would not say where his wife was.

At almost the same time that Hutcherson was making these preparations to shake the dust of St. Louis from his feet, Mrs. Thompson, after days of terror at taking any action that might antagonize him, applied at police headquarters for a warrant charging Hutcherson with non-support of the child and with threatening to kill her.

The actions of the man and the woman, who, for more than a year passed as man and wife, were made independently of each other and without any knowledge of the other's move. Mrs. Thompson's decision was made after days of urging by friends who want to see her vindicated in some measure for the disgrace heaped upon her by Hutcherson. She denied that a Mrs. Elder, whose name also is connected with Hutcherson, and who now lives at the same address as Hutcherson, No. 3002 Locust street, was ever inside the mission, although Mrs. Thompson was willing to make affidavit that she was. She was equally indignant over the report that the wife of a furniture man in St. Louis had not long ago left him through the influence of Hutcherson.

Aeroplane Is Assembled and Will Soon Soar.

Inventor Says He Expects to Make Trial Monday.

Will Practice for Some Time Before Official Test.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Wright Brothers' aëroplane has been put together at Fort Myer and Arville Wright is now looking forward to the flights which he has come here to make.

In its complete form the flying machine measures about forty feet from tip to tip of its wings and from the horizontal planes in front to the vertical tail behind is about twenty feet. Motor, propellors, the two seats to be occupied by the official operator and passenger and all other details are now complete.

Tomorrow the motor will be tried out under the direction of Wright himself, who wants to see the craft in fine working order before undertaking his flights. The aëroplane is now in the hanger or balloon house about a mile from the parade ground where the tests are to occur.

Wright said today he probably would make no flights this week although he would be ready Saturday. He said the aëroplane would be placed upon a wagon Monday morning hauled over the hills to the parade ground and that his first unofficial flight would undoubtedly be made Monday afternoon about 5 o'clock.

Employees in Chicago Federal Building Under Searching Examination by Assistant State's Attorney and Important Evidence Is Said to Have Been Secured.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Every employé of the United States subtreasury in the Federal building was subjected to a "sweat box" examination today, and it is believed that important evidence has been secured that will solve the mystery of the $173,000 robbery for which George W. Fitzgerald, former teller, was arrested Sunday.

The examination was conducted by Assistant State's Attorney Popham under the direct orders of Subtreasurer Boldenweck. It was predicted that arrests would result. All day the prosecutor "sweated" the employés of the subtreasury, and it was said important evidence had been found.

"I can't say a word about this business now," said Attorney Popham, when asked regarding his inquiry, "but there probably will be some startling developments in a few days."

Mr. Boldenweck admitted that all his employés were being thoroughly "sweated," but he refused to disclose the reason for the process.

Assistant State's Attorney Barbour, in whose hands rests the prosecution of Fitzgerald, interviewed employés in the office of Subtreasurer Boldenweck. Neither Mr. Barbour nor Mr. Boldenweck would explain the inquisition further than to state that developments of importance in the case might be expected.

EARLE, EXPECTING DEATH, RELEASED.

Artist Engaged in Writing Will in Cell of Jail and Waiting for Dark Angel, Is Rejoiced Over News That Bail Has Been Granted.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GOSHEN (N. Y.) Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Sitting in his cell and busy writing his will, Ferdinand Pinney Earle, who pleaded guilty to beating his affinity and soul mate, Julia Kuttner Earle, today declared he expected the "Death Angel" to visit him ere long, and that he wanted to be prepared.

"I would not be surprised to receive a summons from the Angel of Death at any moment," he is reported by his keeper as saying. "I want to be prepared for any emergency."

Hardly had he spoken before there was a tramping of feet in the corridor.

"That may be he now," he cried.

But he was doomed to disappointment, for his visitor was only the warden and his brother, Victor, who had secured an order for the artist's release on $1000 bail. The news that he was to be free caused Earle much joy. He hurriedly packed up his manuscript and few belongings which he had been allowed to have, and with his brother left the place where he spent two most wretched nights.

The brother's were driven first to Earle's home at Monroe, but his plans for the future he would not reveal. He said, however, he was "no more insane than the President."

"The trouble is that, like Roosevelt, I am fifty years ahead of the time. I am not understood, hence I am thought to be insane. He is called erratic, so am I. I am no more insane than he."

While in his cell Earle's moods changed frequently, and he seemed very much wrought up. He alternately prayed, laughed, lamented and scolded. Despite the cold, he wore only a pair of trousers, an outer shirt and sandals. He has written numerous letters to his wife, sending them to different addresses where she may have taken refuge, but has received no reply.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw, broken down in health, has been taken to a private sanatorium.

It was said today that the sanatorium is located in West Sixty-first street, and a favorite resort for women whose nerves have become shattered. In her recent appearance in public Mrs. Thaw's friends observed that she appeared to be on the verge of a breakdown. Her nerves were on edge, her face was pinched and showed traces of late hours and a lively life. The fresh beauty that was her strong characteristic seemed to be fading.

Mrs. Thaw was advised by her physician some time ago, it is said, to give up the whirlwind life which held out such an allurement to her, but she persisted in going the rounds. Last week her condition became such that her doctor ordered her to be taken to the sanatorium.

Mrs. Thaw made strenuous objection against being taken away and placed under restriction, but her physician was inexorable. Her condition is now said to be but slightly improved. The wear on her nervous system was such that her physician believes she will have to take the rest cure for at least a month, and after that a trip to Europe, with more rest and no excitement.

CASTRO HOLDS UP FRENCH CONCERN.

CABLE COMPANY CONDEMNED TO PAY NEARLY $5,000,000.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CARACAS, Aug. 24.—The Civil Court of First Instance today handed down a judgment declaring the French Cable Company guilty of complicity in the Matos revolution against President Castro and condemning it to pay damages to the amount of nearly $5,000,000. In addition, the company must pay a further amount to be assessed later by experts. The company may appeal from the decision. It is practically a duplicate of the decision handed down against the New York and Bermudez Asphalt Company.

Declines to Replace Greeks.

GRASS VALLEY, Aug. 27.—A break in the relations between the Nevada County Labor Council and E. W. Tarr, representing the Tarr Mining Company, occurred this afternoon, when Tarr declined to put on American labor at $2.50 per day to replace seventy-five Greeks now digging a big water ditch to Blue Point mine.

ATLANTIC FLEET.

City Rushing Work of Decorating Buildings.

Formalities Will Be Cut to the Minimum.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MELBOURNE, Aug. 28.—A dispatch received here reports the passing of Gaboisen by the American fleet at 4:10 a.m. The fleet is now off the Victoria coast.

Great crowds are coming into the city in anticipation of the arrival of the fleet, the resources of the railroads being strained to their utmost. The weather is dull and it is feared the early part of the visit will be marred to some extent by rain.

Thousands of persons, including many motor parties, are making arrangements to proceed to the coast to witness the approach of the American ships of war, and their entrance into Port Philip, which is thirty miles distant from Melbourne.

In the city the work of decorating the buildings and public places is making rapid progress. Already there are miles of flags and banners waving, and many pictorial devices have been put into place. These include portraits of Roosevelt and Washington, and numerous groups emblematic of the concord between the United States and Australia.

Experience at Auckland and Sydney has shown that the officers and men of the fleet do not enjoy formal functions at which attendance is compulsory, and there is a disposition here to minimize formalities so that private friendships may be cultivated and informal gatherings enjoyed.

JAP PROGRAMME COMPLETE.

SPLENDID RECEPTION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

TOKIO, Aug. 27.—The programme for the reception of the American fleet in Japanese ports has been finished and submitted to Lieutenant-Commander John A. Dougherty, naval attaché of the American embassy, for approval, but it has not yet been publicly announced, owing to the probability that minor changes will be necessary.

The attention to details, characteristic of the Japanese, is shown throughout the programme. The fleet is due to arrive at Yokohama on Saturday, October 17, and that day and Sunday will be devoted entirely to receptions and entertainments in that city. On Monday, October 19, which will be known as American Day, the rear-admirals of the fleet, with their staffs, will come to Tokio. They will be given apartments in the imperial palace at Shiba, where Judge Taft was entertained during his recent visit, and an imperial carriage will be placed at the disposal of each rear-admiral.

Official calls will be exchanged on Monday morning. A luncheon to the rear-admirals and their staffs, given by Ambassador O'Brien at the American embassy, will be followed by a reception to the American officers on the embassy grounds. On Monday night Ambassador O'Brien will give an elaborate dinner at the Imperial Hotel to the American officers and prominent Japanese officials. On Tuesday, October 20, the entertainments provided by the Japanese will commence.

The arrangements include the most minute details for the entertainment of the American officers and men during every hour of each day of their stay. These include an audience of the officers with the Emperor and daily excursions to outlying points of interest. A Japanese squadron will meet the American fleet as it approaches the coast of Japan and will act as an escort to Yokohama, one war vessel being assigned to each American ship.

WOULDN'T FACE MUSIC.

EVANGELIST IS PUT TO FLIGHT.

PREACHER, CONFRONTED WITH CHILD, ESCAPES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John Hutcherson, the evangelist who was interrupted during his preaching Sunday, when Mrs. Cora Thompson, the girl who left her home and husband to follow him in religious work, laid their three weeks' old baby dramatically at his feet, last evening applied at Gott's mission home, Garrison and Franklin avenues, and took away his legitimate seven-year-old daughter. He declared that he was about to leave the city. He would not say where his wife was.

At almost the same time that Hutcherson was making these preparations to shake the dust of St. Louis from his feet, Mrs. Thompson, after days of terror at taking any action that might antagonize him, applied at police headquarters for a warrant charging Hutcherson with non-support of the child and with threatening to kill her.

The actions of the man and the woman, who, for more than a year passed as man and wife, were made independently of each other and without any knowledge of the other's move. Mrs. Thompson's decision was made after days of urging by friends who want to see her vindicated in some measure for the disgrace heaped upon her by Hutcherson. She denied that a Mrs. Elder, whose name also is connected with Hutcherson, and who now lives at the same address as Hutcherson, No. 3002 Locust street, was ever inside the mission, although Mrs. Thompson was willing to make affidavit that she was. She was equally indignant over the report that the wife of a furniture man in St. Louis had not long ago left him through the influence of Hutcherson.

Seattle Doctor Finds Soul Mate in Actress.

Tells Wife Love Is Dead, She Gets a Divorce.

Bride-to-Be Is Star of the Danish Stage.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Bans for the marriage of Dr. Elliv Jansen, a wealthy physician of this city, and Miss Bodil Hammerich are now being published in Seattle, and also in Dresden, Germany. The wedding, which is soon to take place, is a sequel to the divorce which was obtained by the wife of Dr. Jansen last March.

Two years ago Mrs. Jansen and her 4-year-old son went to Europe, and Jansen followed a few months later and joined his family at Munich. He later went on a visit to Copenhagen and there met Miss Hammerich, a star of the Danish stage.

About a year ago, Mrs. Jansen returned to Seattle, and told of the breaking up of her home by Miss Hammerich. Her husband told her he no longer loved her and he had found his affinity in Miss Hammerich. She finally brought suit and obtained a divorce.

KEY ROUTE INN ON FIRE.

Blaze Starts on Roof and Drives Out the Guests, but Does Little Damage.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

OAKLAND, Aug. 27.—The guests of the Key Route Inn, one of Oakland's largest hotels, were routed out at half past reven o'clock this morning by a fire that started in the roof of the north wing of the building and burned fiercely for half an hour.

The roof on this wing of the building was much damaged and there was considerable loss to the furnishings of the hotel by water. The absence of any wind brobably saved the building as the fire had burned thirty minutes before water was turned upon it. Most of the guests, numbering about 100, were already awake when the alarm was given and there was no panic, but personal effects were hurriedly got together and taken from the rooms.

The damage to the building will not exceed a thousand dollars, and the loss to the furnishings from water will amount to about as much more.

William Sagehorn of Truck No. 2, had his arm broken by the falling of an extension ladder, and Walter Critiksen, fell through a skylight and was cut by the glass.

KNOCKOUT DROPS FATAL.

SOLDIER FOUND DEAD.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Norman Gregory, a soldier of the One Hundred and Forty-seventh Coast Artillery, was found lying unconscious on Washington street near the new customhouse building today and removed to the Receiving Hospital where he died. The physicians declare, of morphine poisoning. He had spent most of the night in the resorts on the "Barbary Coast," and it is thought the drug was administered in the form of "knockout drops" by some one who afterward robbed him, as no money was found in his pockets. He was 21 years old and enlisted at Fort Douglas, Utah.

JOHN T. LEWIS INJURED.

FELL THROUGH SKYLIGHT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN JOSE, Aug. 27.—John T. Lewis, a prominent contractor of Stockton and Republican nominee for State Senator from the Eleventh Senatorial District, stepped through a skylight here this afternoon and fell to the floor below, a distance of about twelve feet, resulting in a fracture of the femur and a dislocation of his hip and severe bruises. He was in the act of inspecting a building at No. 50 South Second street in the interest of possible purchasers and in taking a backward step crashed through the slender framework.

OBJECT TO JUDGE COFFEY.

DEPOSITORS PROTEST.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Attorney Charles C. Boynton, who is one of the counsel for numerous depositors in the defunct California Safe Deposit and Trust Company, today filed an affidavit, made by Samuel Saloman of the firm of Saloman & Estes, giving reasons to sustain a request that the case of the petitioner against the suspended bank be assigned to some other judge than Judge Coffey for trial.

It is asserted in the affidavit that Judge Coffey is interested in the affairs of the defunct institution, that he is related to other interested parties, and that for these and other reasons the petitioner cannot hope for an impartial trial.

Many other charges are made, including the statement that Receiver LeBreton is improperly and illegally in charge of the bank's affairs and has no authority to handle its assets.

JAPANESE POACHERS CAUGHT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Arrivals from Dutch Harbor on the steamer Grace Dollar, which reached here today, confirm the reports of the recent seizure of Japanese sealers for alleged poaching on the preserves. The British gunboat Algerina, the United States gunboat Yorktown, and the revenue cutters Bear and Richard Rush are now in the vicinity of St. Paul Islands, keeping a close lookout.

The cargo of the Grace Dollar included 14,964 sealskins and eleven bundles of fox skins.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

BELLINGHAM (Wash.) Aug. 27.—Bernice Shaw, aged 21, a well-known society girl of this city, died last night in a dentist's chair of paralysis of the heart, while under the influence of chloroform. The physician who administered the drug has been absolved of all blame by the young lady's family.

The girl had gone to the dentist to have some teeth extracted and requested that the drug be administered. When the serious effects of the anesthetic were noticed two additional physicians were summoned, but failed to save her life.

STOCKTON FEARS PLAGUE.

Board of Health Taking Steps Against the Introduction of Disease from Coast.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCTON, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The discovery of two cases of bubonic plague in Contra Costa county has caused the Board of Health of Stockton to consider the advisability of taking some action to exterminate the rats and squirrels, especially along the county lines to the South and West. It is claimed they carry plague many miles.

The fact that the river steamers and barges tie up to the San Francisco wharves and rats can go aboard even over the mooring lines, has also been discussed and it is possible the dreaded disease can be brought to Stockton on any of the landings between here and the bay. The strict fumigation of steamers and barges will follow.

Shipping Men to Petition Government to Purchase Saratoga on Busby Point.

SEATTLE, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A movement is on foot among shipping men of Cordova to ask shipping interests of Prince William Sound to join with them in a petition to have the government purchase the wrecked steamship Saratoga and convert it into a lighthouse. The Saratoga lies on Busby Point, at the entrance to Valdez Arm, where she went ashore during a snowstorm. Busby Island is the turning point for all vessels entering Valdez Arm, and a light is badly needed there. She is resting in a natural cradle of rocks and as the point is in inland waters, she would not be subjected to the strain of severe storms.

The entire paraphernalia will be set up on exhibit and its workings adjusted by experts. O. C. Wills will have charge of the wireless telephone, while A. J. The principal witnesses, George Nelson and C. H. Clark, failed to appear. Deputy Dist.-Atty. Irwin appeared for the people and H. H. Appell of Los Angeles for defendant.

There was little excitement and the case consumed but a short time.

RUEF TRIAL BEGINS.

HARD WORK GETTING JURY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—The examination of jurors to try Abraham Ruef on the charge of having bribed former Supervisor Eurey began today in Judge Lawlor's department of the Superior Court, with every indication that it would be so prolonged that the hearing of evidence will not begin for several weeks.

Previous to the filling of the jury box from the forty-four talesmen who had been summoned, two important rulings were made by the court, establishing precedents of procedure. These came about through the refusal of the prosecution to examine the talesmen first, as has been the custom heretofore. After considerable argument on the point of precedence, the judge held that the examination should be begun by the defense and concluded by the prosecution.

Judge Lawlor also ruled that the defense must exercise its peremptory challenges in the course of the examination when the rejection of talesmen for cause was refused, and not hold them to be used later when the men had been passed as jurors.

WOMAN INVOLVED.

MASKED MAN SHOOTS BALTIMORE FINANCIER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Shot down in the glare of myriads of electric lights on the board walk last night by a masked stranger, Charles E. Roberts, financier and social leader of Baltimore, is dying at the City Hospital, while his mysterious assailant, who fled immediately after the shooting, is still at large.

The bullet pierced Roberts's side and lodged in the region of the liver. His condition will not permit an operation at the present time.

At the time of the shooting, 10:30 o'clock, an early hour for Atlantic City promenaders, Roberts was in a rolling chair, accompanied by Mrs. W. F. Williams, a handsome society matron, also of Baltimore. Both were stopping at the Hotel Brighton, and are said to have been out on frequent jaunts with each other.

They disclaim all knowledge of the identity of the assailant, and both stick to the story that a masked man fired the fatal shot.

Roberts is president of the Baltimore Supply Company, about 38 years of age, and the son of the late Atty.-Gen. Charles Boyle Roberts of Westminster. He comes from one of the oldest families of Maryland. In 1894 he married Miss Mary G. Sloan, youngest daughter of the late James Sloan, banker and railroad director of Baltimore.

The shooting is most mysterious, and has thrown the entire resort into the greatest excitement. Although it took place last night, the injured man was secretly carried to the hospital and the details of the affair were so carefully suppressed by influential friends of the principals that the news did not became known until this afternoon. So far the police have been completely baffled, but are working on several clews, and arrests are expected in a few hours.

According to statements issued tonight Roberts and Mrs. Williams had supper at the Hotel Shelburne late in the evening, followed by a ride on the board walk in a closed rolling chair. A driving rain had cleared the walk of nearly all promenaders. As the chair proceeded toward Rhode Island avenue, a heavily masked figure darted out of the shadows, snatched away the rubber covering in front of the chair, and ordered Roberts to get out.

Scarcely had the society man touched the board walk than the stranger raised a revolver and fired two shots at him at close range. Roberts fell with a groan.

Two blocks away Fred A. Rust, a policeman, heard the shot, and rushed to the pier. He saw a stylishly-dressed man stagger to his feet at the side of the rolling chair in which a young woman handsomely gowned, was weeping hysterically.

"Quick, take me to the hospital," gasped Roberts, as the policeman ran up.

Mrs. Williams fainted, and the policeman had Roberts removed to his hotel. The description of the assailant as given by the few witnesses of the shooting, is meager, but the police think they know his identity.

At first the motive was thought to be robbery, but now it is thought to have been for revenge.

Roberts is said to have gone to Atlantic City on business to see J. Olney Norris, of Baltimore.

SETS ASIDE TAX.

FRANCHISE DECLARED EXEMPT.

The right of Los Angeles county and city to impose a tax on the State franchise of the Western Union Telegraph Company was denied yesterday by Judge Hutton, who handed down a decision giving judgment for the company in three injunction suits filed against the county of Los Angeles, County Assessor E. W. Hopkins and City Assessor Walter Mallard, respectively, to restrain them from collecting taxes on the franchise.

For the year 1906-1907 the county valued the plaintiff's State franchise at $50,000, and imposed $550 tax on it; for the year 1907-1908 on the same valuation $520 was demanded, while the county for the year 1907-1908 imposed a valuation of $100,000 on the franchise and demanded a tax of $1160.

The plaintiff contended that it does an interstate business under the Federal law of 1866 giving it the free use of all post roads and streets, and that, therefore, it is not subject to taxation in California on such use of the roads and streets for its lines. The defendants contended that under the California code, the plaintiff can occupy roads and streets subject to the condition of not obstructing traffic, and that such obstruction caused the plaintiff in March, 1906, to secure a State franchise, subject to legal assessment, by which its use of the roads and streets in the county is conditioned in part.

TAFT MEN IN FULL CONTROL.

Republican State Convention Meets at Oakland.

Temporary Chairman Is Thomas B. Dozier.

Woman Suffragist Delegation's Reserved Seats.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

OAKLAND (Cal.) Aug. 27.—With more than 500 delegates in attendance and the regular (Taft Republican) wing of the party in full control, the Republican State Convention met this afternoon in the Ye Liberty Theater, which was simply but tastefully decorated for the occasion.

The first half dozen rows of seats in the balcony reserved for them were bright and gay with the colors of beautiful gowns and hats of woman suffragists, who marched to the convention hall in a body, 250 strong, headed by Mrs. Theodore Pinther, Jr., and Mrs. Lillian H. Coffin carrying a beautiful blue silk banner on which was embroidered in gold the great seal of the State. The rest of the balcony was filled by other spectators, a large percentage of whom were women.

It was just 2:30 o'clock when Philip Teller, chairman of the State Central Committee, called the convention to order. He introduced Rev. E. E. Baker, who delivered the invocation. The singing of "My Own United States" by the Elks' quartette was followed by the address of welcome by Mayor Frank K. Mott of Oakland.

Mayor Mott's reference to President Roosevelt and Taft was wildly cheered.

CHAIRMAN CHOSEN.

Following the reading of the convention call by Secretary W. H. Davis of the State Central Committee, Chairman Teller called for nominations for temporary chairman of the convention. W. D. Pratt of Shasta arose and in a few well-chosen words nominated Thomas B. Dozier. It was seconded by John McNab of Mendocino county. Nominations were closed and Dozier was elected by acclamation. Mr. Dozier was escorted to the platform and introduced to the convention as its chairman. In a brief speech he thanked the delegates for the honor, promising to wield the gavel fairly and impartially.

Harry S. Anderson of Oakland was elected secretary of the convention.

The committees on Credentials, Permanent Organization and Resolutions, each consisting of three delegates from each of the eight Congress Districts and three at large, were then appointed. After the appointments were announced by Chairman Dozier the convention adjourned till tomorrow morning.

The Presidential electors will not be elected by the convention until tomorrow, following the reports of the committees on Credentials, Permanent Organization and Resolutions.

Congressman Joseph R. Knowland of the Third District addressed the convention for a few minutes before it adjourned. He was given an enthusiastic reception.

Tonight a dozen of the suffrage leaders, including Mrs. Coffin and Mrs. Agnes E. Pease of Salt Lake City, appeared before the Committee on Platform and Resolutions, and spoke in support of a plank submitting to the people of the State a constitutional amendment extending the elective franchise to woman.

District nominations were made as follows:

First Congressional District; Congressman W. F. Englebright, renominated; Second, Congressman Duncan E. McKinley, renominated.

State Senator—First District, Charles P. Cutten of Eureka; Fifth District, B. F. Rush, renominated; Ninth District, E. B. Martinelli of Contra Costa; Twenty-ninth District, Sall C. Ross, San Mateo; Thirty-first District, Henry W. Lynch renominated.

For Assembly—First District, C. H. Newell of Weaverville; Fourth District, Arthur M. Doan, Redding; Eighth District, Percy A. Johnson, renominated.

BRYAN ON BANK DEPOSITS.

Democratic Candidate Addresses Three Large Audiences at Topeka in a Day.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) Aug. 27.—Before an audience which filled the auditorium to overflowing, William J. Bryan, Democratic candidate for President, tonight spoke on the subject of guaranty of bank deposits. Previously he had delivered three other addresses, two from the veranda of the hotel and the third at Garfield Park, where he attended a picnic by the Knights of Pythias.

The Democratic candidate and his party arrived here at 1 o'clock and were at once taken in hand by a reception committee composed of leading Democrats of the city and State, and conducted to the hotel in automobiles.

Mr. Bryan left at midnight for Lincoln, where he is expected to arrive tomorrow forenoon.

Chicago and Alton President Says Republican Candidate Stands for Fair Deal With Transportation Companies and Appreciates Their Value to National Progress.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "I am for Mr. Taft for President because he stands for a fair deal with railroads and with railroad men."

Using these words as a theme, Theodore Shonts, president of the Chicago and Alton and the Clover Leaf railroads and former chairman of the Panama Canal Commission, today amplified his reasons for supporting the Republican nominee for the Presidency.

"Being a railroad man myself," said Mr. Shonts, "I naturally stand for and believe in railroads and railroad men.

"Mr. Taft's views can be readily gathered from public utterances, both from his speech of acceptance and from the full statement that he made in his speech at Columbus August 19, 1907.

"First, we believe that our national growth and our well-being depend more than any one thing upon the character of the transportation facilities. Mr. Taft, in his letter of acceptance, says: 'Good business for the railroads is essential to general prosperity,' and again, 'New railroad construction in returning prosperous times is sure to be essential to our material progress.'

"In view of Mr. Taft's position on these important questions, it seems to me that every intelligent and thoughtful railroad man, from president to section man, should vote and work for the election of the man who publicly stands for everything that is vital to the well-being of railroads and railroad men."

COUNCIL OF WAR.

INVADE SOUTH, TAFT PROPOSES.

BELIEVES REPUBLICANS WILL CARRY DISTRICTS.

Chairman Hitchcock Receives Reports from Representatives of Virginia, Alabama and Louisiana, and Discusses Plans for Campaign in Enemy's Country.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Some of the plans the Republican politicians in the South are making to increase the Republican representation in Congress from their States were made known to Chairman Hitchcock today by visitors from Virginia, Alabama and Louisiana.

The plan for the "invasion of the South" was outlined by Mr. Taft, the Republican candidate for President, in a recent speech and interviews in Hot Springs, Va. He expressed the opinion that the Republican national campaign managers ought to try to carry close districts, and Mr. Hitchcock concurs in that view.

Alvah H. Martin, member of the National Committee from Virginia, and Representative Slemp, the State chairman, conferred with Mr. Hitchcock, and urged that an effort should be made to carry three districts, at least, in Virginia. These are the Ninth, which Mr. Slemp now represents in Congress; the Fifth, which was Democratic by only about a hundred votes at the last Congressional election, and the Richmond District. Maj. P. D. Barker, the National Committeeman from Alabama, declared there is a good chance to carry some of the northern, or mountain, districts of his State, and A. B. Williams, State chairman for Louisiana, urged that a fight be made in certain Louisiana districts.

STRAUS IN CONFERENCE.

Secretary Straus, of the Department of Commerce and Labor, had a long talk with Mr. Hitchcock today. He is just returning from a fishing trip to Lake Morgantic, Me., where Mrs. Straus, William Loeb, Jr., secretary to the President, and a number of others in official life at Washington, have been spending their vacations.

Mr. Straus is scheduled to deliver two or three speeches later in the campaign, one of them in New York City. It has been suggested that he should be used to reply to arguments made in favor of Mr. Bryan by President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, but no plans have yet been made.

Senator P. J. McCumber and National Committeeman James Kennedy of North Dakota, talked with Mr. Hitchcock, about affairs in the western States. They predicted that North Dakota and adjoining States would cast as strong a vote for Mr. Taft as was received by Mr. Roosevelt four years ago. Senator McCumber declared that the factional differences in North Dakota and adjoining States have been eliminated so far as the national ticket is concerned.

LANDSLIDE ON COAST.

H. F. Alexander, president of the Alaska Pacific Steamship Company, called at the Republican headquarters today and expressed the opinion that there would be a landslide on the Pacific Coast for Taft and Sherman. He declared that the Democratic plank in relation to Asiatic labor was not proving a sufficient argument to change voters who have been Republicans.

E. E. Stotesbury of Philadelphia, has been appointed to organize a Republican Finance Committee in Pennsylvania, and Joseph W. Congdon of Patereson, N. J., to perform similar service for New Jersey.

Plans for gathering the necessary funds to defray the expenses of the campaign are just now occupying the attention of Hr. Hitchcock. Seth M. Carter of Lewiston, Me., Representative John M. Meeks of Newton, Mass., and Col. Henry F. Lippert of Providence, R. I., will have charge of financial operations in their respective States, and they are empowered to name as assistants such men as they desire.

Within the next ten days it is expected the entire country will be organized in the same way. The finance committees of the States will work hand in hand with the National Advisory Committee which was appointed recently to lend aid to George R. Sheldon of New York, the national treasurer, and Fred C. Upham of Chicago, the assistant treasurer of the National Committee. The first formal meeting of the eastern members of the Executive Committee with Chairman Hitchcock will be held tomorrow.

BRYAN FINDS HE IS BROKE.

Loses $500 on Sleeping Car, but Honest Porter Returns Wallet.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KANSAS CITY, (Mo.) Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When William Jennings Bryan arrived here this morning he was broke. In dressing himself on the Pullman sleeper he accidentally dropped his wallet, containing $500 in currency and valuable papers. The negro porter in making up the berth found the purse, returned it to the Democratic candidate and was rewarded by a $10 bill.

LOVING CUPS FOR TAFT.

FAREWELL AT HOT SPRINGS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

HOT SPRINGS (Va.) Aug. 27.—The 350 guests of the Homestead Hotel tonight presented Judge Taft, Mrs. Taft and Master Charles Taft each with a silver loving cup, as a formal farewell expression of their regard. The big hotel family gathered in the ball room, where for an hour Burr McIntosh lectured and showed incidentally a half hundred views of Mr. Taft in his various occupations and pastimes, taken during his stay of nearly two months in this mountain resort.

Speechmaking of a lighter vein, interspersed with music, and followed by a reception wherein the candidate and his family shook the hand of every guest, constituted an evening of good fellowship and animation.

Judge Horace H. Lurton of Tennessee, a long-time personal friend of Judge Taft, presided, and opened the presentation exercises with an expression of the personal interest which has been aroused in the candidate and his family by the daily friendly intercourse in the hotel.

Judge Taft and Col. John C. McAnerney were escorted to the front while "Dixie" was played, and the colonel, in a most happy vein, presented the cup to the candidate, and Mr. Taft responded.

Mrs. Taft was next brought forward and received her cup at the hands of Mrs. Luke P. Blackburn. An even dozen little girls in white surrounded Master Charles Taft and made him the blushing recipient of a miniature loving cup.

DR. DONALD SAGE MACKAY DEAD AT PORTLAND, ME.

New York Pastor Was Once Accused of Heresy Because He Said He Would Rather Break Stones by the Roadside Than Preach That God Would Save Only His Elect.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—The Rev. Dr. Donald Sage MacKay, pastor of the Collegiate Church of St. Nicholas of this city, died in Portland, Me., today. The Rev. Dr. MacKay was one of the best-known clergymen of this city.

The classis of Iowa, in 1905, accused Dr. MacKay of heresy because of an article he had published containing the substance of a sermon in which the clergyman gave reasons for the apparent growing inability to believe in a personal God. The matter to which the Iowa minister objected was a criticism made by Dr. MacKay of the Presbyterian church in Scotland, where he said:

"Eleven hundred ministers have been rendered legally churchless and homeless and property of $55,000,000 taken from the churches they represent in order to satisfy the legal demands of a church of just twenty-four ministers, whose fundamental belief is limited salvation, that God only saves the elect, and that only to the elect can the offer of salvation be made."

In answering the charges of the Iowa classis, Rev. Dr. MacKay said: "If the Iowa classis indorses that type of theology as the theology of the Reformed church in America today, I am ready to step from the pulpit tomorrow. I would rather break stones by the roadside than preach such a caricature of the love of God."

President Roosevelt, when in New York, attended services in Dr. MacKay's church, and Miss Helen Gould and Mrs. Russell Sage are members of it.

BOTH PACIFICS CLOSE AT TOP.

Great Day for Harriman Lines in Wall Street.

Reading Is Third Chief Participant in Advance.

Boost in Securities Starts Rumors Flying.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There was a great bullish demonstration in the stock market today, in which Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and Reading were the chief participants. Excepting for a reduction of ⅛ in Reading, all three of these stocks closed at the top.

Stories affecting the future of Southern Pacific flew around thick and fast. The newest was one to the effect that Mr. Harriman had decided to increase the dividend from 6 to 7 per cent. The story did not appeal to thinking people, inasmuch as a dividend was only recently declared and the road showed a loss of $8,000,000 in its balance applicable to dividends for the year ended June 30, which reduced the earnings on the stock to barely more than 8 per cent. With a recovery in business, however, such an increase in the Southern Pacific dividend might be possible, it is thought.

Another story was that a deal had practically been consummated by which the Southern Pacific would take over from the Rock Island the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad. This was evidently a modification of the recent rumor of Harriman control of the Rock Island. Rock Island officials branded the new rumor as unfounded and absurd.

Still another story actively circulated was the old one without new detail about the retirement of Southern Pacific preferred.

TROUBLE OVER REPORTS.

Railroads Find Interstate Commerce Commission's System Difficult and Misleading.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the approach of annual meetings the railroads are finding a great deal of trouble in compiling their reports to conform with all the requirements of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Unless they issue two reports, one after the plan followed in previous years and one under the new accounting system to be used this year for the first time, it will be extremely difficult for the stockholders to get any idea of what his company has been doing by comparison with last year.

The railroads made strong protest against the new accounting system, and asked that modifications be made, but their efforts were of no avail. Accordingly the railroad accountants are hard at work trying to comply with the commission's order. Their year ended June 30 and most of the annual meeting will be held within a few weeks.

"It is useless to make any comparison of figures compiled under the new rules with those put out in the old way," said the auditor of one of the large railroads today. "No matter how carefully you eliminate and discriminate, you are bound in the end to get results that are misleading.

"Even a comparison of gross earnings will not be fair."

FORFEIT 'FRISCO CHARTER.

Assistant Attorney-General of Oklahoma Declares Statute Has Been Violated.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GUTHRIE (Okla.) Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Oklahoma Attorney-General's office today notified the Secretary of State that the Frisco Railroad Company had violated the statute, which was plain, in appealing the damage suit of Mrs. Gertrude Good, from the District Court at Lawton, Okla., to the Federal court on the ground that the Frisco corporation's domicile is in another State. Assistant Atty.-Gen. Meyer says he will ask Atty.-Gen. West to proceed to forfeit the Frisco's charter when he returns from Denver.

PRESIDENT NOT NOTIFIED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] President Davidson and Acting Counsel Miller said today they had not been notified of an action against the Frisco charter by the Oklahoma State Department, either directly or by local counsel, at Oklahoma City.

"If the revokal ties up operation of trains in Oklahoma, will the railway seek to enjoin the acting Secretary of State from carrying out the order?" President Davidson was asked.

"We will try to do the best we can to save ourselves," he replied smiling.

COL VILAS DEAD.

Member of Cleveland's Cabinet Expires Suddenly from Stroke of Paralysis.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MADISON (Wis.) Aug. 27.—Col. William F. Vilas died at 10:45 o'clock this morning following five weeks of illness.

When Dr. Philip Fox called upon the colonel this morning he found him unusually cheerful and bright, and believed he showed signs of remarkable improvement. Shortly after 10 o'clock while the nurses were administering a bath to the patient, they noticed that he weakened very quickly. An attempt was made to get a doctor, but Col. Vilas died before he could be reached. Dr. Charles H. Vilas of New York, had been staying at the home, but was not present at the death.

Dr. Fox says that the immediate cause of death was a stroke of paralysis.

Col. William Vilas suffered a cerebral hemmorhage early on the morning of July 20, at his home in Madison. His condition was so serious that E. P. Vilas, his brother, of Milwaukee, was summoned and for two days the physicians were unable to offer any hope of recovery. On the third day Col. Vilas's condition was slightly improved.

Since then his condition has remained practically unchanged, although he had moments of seeming rallies and on occasions he would answer questions by "Yes" and "No."

YOUNG PASTOR FACES TRIAL.

REV. C. W. GOW DEFENDS HIMSELF BEFORE CHURCH JURY.

Accused of Immorality in Connection With Death of School-teacher, for Which Dr. Hemphill Has Already Been Convicted of Manslaughter—Defendant Is Calm.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HANNIBAL (Mo.) Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The death of a young woman brought the Rev. Clyde W. Gow before an ecclesiastical court here today, to face charges of immorality that may lead to his dismissal from the ministry in the Methodist Episcopal church, South.

In the Hope-street Church he faced a church jury of thirteen, a prosecutor from the church and listened to the testimony of witnesses. Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Green of Eolia, a small town near Elsberry, Mo., told of the devotion of the Rev. Gow, to Miss Elizabeth Gleason, a young school-teacher whose death has since caused the conviction of Dr. Hemphill on the charge of manslaughter.

"Miss Gleason taught a little school near my home in Eolia and lived with my family," testified Mr. Green. "Mr. Gow, in addition to having a pastorate at Elsberry, came out to a church in our community and held services twice a month. He very often made his headquarters at my house and consequently was thrown much in the company of Miss Gleason. They spent a great deal of time together and seemed thoroughly congenial."

Gow was not greatly moved by the proceedings. He is tall, young, square built, and has keen black eyes. The months of worry since the death of Miss Gleason and his subsequent indictment have put lines of worry in his face. However, he has not lost his nerve, and is fighting the charges at every step.

DAUGHTER OF GOLDEN WEST.

MARIE D'ORO A CALIFORNIAN?

RAN AWAY FROM HOME IN SAN FRANCISCO FOR STAGE.

Mrs. Saunders, Widow of Superintendent of Schools, Declares Famous Actress Is Long-Lost Daughter, Who Disappeared Fourteen Years Ago and Now Sends Remittances.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Mrs. Douglas Saunders, widow of a former superintendent of schools of this county, declared yesterday to several friends that Marie d'Oro, the well-known actress, now playing in London, is her long-lost daughter who ran away from home to go on the stage, fourteen years ago.

Mrs. Saunders, who has lived for many years in this city, recently attracted the notice of a librarian at the public library, owing to the great interest she took in theatrical magazines.

In explanation of this the woman stated that the magazines held accounts of the successes of her daughter on the stage. In support of her assertion, Mrs. Saunders exhibited pictures taken years ago that bear a striking resemblance to Marie d'Oro and Mrs. Saunders also intimated that she received remittances from her daughter.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 27.—Marie d'Oro is the stage name for Marie Stuart and she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Stuart, who formerly lived in this city but are now in New York.

She made a reputation as a child actress here. Later she attended the Central High School and attracted attention by the ability she displayed in amateur theatricals.

UNWRITTEN LAW UPHELD.

Judge Holds Father Blameless for Beating Alleged Abusers of Daughter.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CINCINNATI, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The unwritten law was upheld by Acting Judge Max Levi in Police Court today, when the judge praised a father for beating the alleged abusers of his seven-year-old daughter.

Charles Schroggins and John Arthur were arrested on a charge of assault and battery. F. W. Krolick claimed they beat him. When Schroggins's little daughter told the judge how two men had enticed herself and her younger sister into the back part of the store and mistreated them they were at once dismissed.

"This father should not have been blamed by his fellow-men if he had killed you both," said the judge. "You should be in the penitentiary, both of you."

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Tell Mrs. Bethune that she will not need to offer that reward of $1000. Mr. Bethune is here and he will be able to meet his wife, if she remains at the Annex, in a day or two."

This message telephoned to the information bureau of the Auditorium Annex today leads detectives working on the disappearance of Faneuil D. S. Bethune, the New York lawyer, to believe that he is in Chicago.

An effort was made to learn where the telephone message came from but all that could be found out was that it was delivered through the Douglas exchange.

Dr. Hansen and Mr. Bethune's wife came on to Chicago yesterday and a few hours later W. A. Jenner, Bethune's law partner, and his wife arrived. They are all at the Auditorium Annex.

Mr. Jenner left the hotel early today and a short time afterward the telephone message was received at the information bureau that Mr. Bethune would show up in a day or two.

Man Who Eloped With San Francisco Girl Tries to Get Some Money.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Failing to induce Miss Clara Martin, with whom he had eloped from San Francisco, to marry him, George Sessler sought revenge as well as money by notifying her friends that she had died. He sent telegrams to friends and relatives of the girl after she had ordered him from her presence.

News of her supposed death caused a sensation and although Sessler wired for funds with which to ship her body to San Francisco no suspicions were aroused among her relatives. However, inquiries were sent to Chicago friends, and they wired back that Miss Martin was alive and well.

Investigation was then made by the police and detectives arrested Sessler. He admitted his guilt. Today he was taken before Judge Walker and charged with attempting to obtain money under false pretenses.

OMAHA (Neb.) Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Filson Vanwert of Milton, Or., applied for a license here today to wed Miss Jessie King of Omaha.

In Villisca, Iowa, where the bride and groom went to school together, Vanwert had introduced Oscar Holmes to Miss King. Holmes was prescription clerk in a drug store and Vanwert was soda fountain clerk.

Holmes went to Milton and wrote Miss King he was "making good."

Vanwert, a few months later, was running a cut-rate drug store in his rival's town and the race was on in earnest. WATERS RECEDE.

by catching limbs of trees or anything else they could get hold of.

It is reported that a number of people were caught in these positions and when the boatmen came near enough to be hailed they refused to go to the assistance of the unfortunates unless they were assured of getting paid unreasonable rates. One man was seen in a tree who was pouring forth pitiful appeals for assistance and offering $50 to any one that would rescue him.

WIRES FAIL.

The police department early established temporary headquarters at the health and drainage department office on May avenue, outside of the high-water district, and patrolmen were placed on boats up to the water line. They made few arrests, however.

At the Western Union telegraph office, when the water began to rise, many operators left the building for their homes.

Five remained, however, and they were compelled to abandon the telegraph office and seek safety in the Chamber of Commerce building, where the wires were found intact, and they got into communication with the Atlanta office about midnight. No business was handled, however, as there was no means of handling it.

At daybreak this morning the weather bureau reported that the water had fallen four and a half inches since midnight and if the fall continued, telegraph communication with the outside world from Augusta would be reestablished by noon today.

At the Postal telegraph office the operating force was compelled to desert when the water reached the top of the operating tables. No business was transacted by the telegraph companies after dark Wednesday.

The telephone service in Augusta was held up until 7:30 p.m. and finally collapsed.

Every business house, every bank and store was submerged in from four to eight or nine feet of water and nearly all the residence portion, including the fashionable residence district of Green street, with all its churches, in from three to six feet of water.

RIVERS STILL RISING IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

COLUMBIA (S. C.) Aug. 27.—The rivers throughout South Carolina continued to rise today as a result of Wednesday's rains in the upper part of the State, and the added loss in private and public property will run into the millions. The estimates of losses in Columbia alone are more than $300,000.

The railroads are almost completely tied up, the Southern's Charlotte line being the only road north of Columbia in operation. Notice has been served by practically every road in the State that perishable freight will not be accepted for shipment to points north of Columbia.

Three additional lives were lost today, three negroes being drowned at Saluda.

WITNESS FOR HAINS.

HEARD ANNIS BOAST OF HIS CONQUEST.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—The name of the hitherto mysterious witness who had represented himself as ready to testify to having heard William E. Annis boast of his conquest of Mrs. Peter C. Hains, wife of Capt. Hains, was revealed tonight after a conference between Gen. P. C. Hains and the lawyers retained to defend his two sons, Capt. Peter C. Hains, Jr., and Thornton J. Hains, now awaiting trial on a charge of murdering Annis on August 15.

He is C. A. Curtis of No. 21 Bank street, Princeton, N. J., and No. 307 R street Northeast, Washington, D. C.

The general made public the following letter written to him by Mr. Curtis August 18, from Princeton:

"Allow me to offer to you and to your family my deepest sympathy in all your trouble and to offer any assistance in my power. Apropos of this letter, I beg to say that I have heard Mr. Annis making boasts as to his relations with your son's wife, on two occasions in clubs in New York, and once on a yacht near New York. Kindly keep all I have written from all except your attorneys and family, as I dislike notoriety. If, however, it becomes necessary, I will, of course, testify to all the pertinent facts in your sons' defense. I hope however, that this will not be necessary."

MAIDS WILL TESTIFY.

The general also made public the fact that the two colored maids whom Mrs. Hains had had in her employ during her husband's absence in the Philippines, would be called as witnesses for the defense.

The correspondence between the general and Mr. Curtis culminated in an interview at the Hotel Martinique, at which Mr. Curtis identified himself as a lawyer and former officer of volunteers descended from a military family. Mr. Curtis claimed that his mother was a daughter of Gen. Rodman, formerly chief of ordnance of the United States army, and inventor of the Rodman rifle.

GOV. HUGHES ACTS.

Gov. Hughes, in a letter received today by Dist.-Atty. Darrin of Queens county, stated that he would empanel a special grand jury to hear evidence in the case of the Hains brothers, accused of the murder of William E. Annis. The Governor also said he would select a judge to preside. The District Attorney announced that the jury would probably sit about September 21.

Hains will probably be placed on trial early in October, according to a statement made by Mr. Darrin today.

ANGELS DEMORALIZED.

HIS DELIVERY IS MYSTIFYING.

Pitcher Suter Plays With Visiting Batsmen.

Southerners Play in Poor Form Against Seals.

Two Champs Only Ones Able to Reach Second Base.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Harry Sutor pitched another mystifying game for the benefit of the Angels this afternoon. It is true that the fumbles and miscues of the southerners, who were in anything but good form, had a world to do with the score that was run up by the Seals, and while all of the tallies had something to do with errors or wild pitches, Sutor didn't give his enemies a chance to retaliate.

Two of the "champs" got as far as second base, and they wound up with a general result of 5 to 0. The Texan had on his strike-out clothes. He fanned eight all told, and had young Killifer been able to hold foul tips a bit closer Sutor would have made it ten.

Koestner was wild and ragged. Three wild pitches are charged against him, and all three counted in advancing the San Francisco runners on the bases. The infield support was like his control, and the rattled Angels let runs get by them when they should have squeezed the ball tight. Father Dillon was chased to the bench in the second half of the first inning for yelling at a decision of O'Connell that called Hildebrand safe at first base. Frank's language must have been somewhat volcanic, for he was repeatedly waved aside. Brashear had to come in from right, and the busher, Briswalter, was given a chance to shine in the outer garden.

The Seals sprinkled their runs all the way along. In the first, with Mohler down, Hildebrand beat out an infield hit, went to second on a wild pitch, to third on Zeider's out, and home on a nicely placed right-field single by Melchoir.

In the second it was another case of too much Koestner. The raw-boned right wheeler hit McArdle in the ribs, let him take second on a wild pitch, and then gave Sutor a single to right, the pair executing a double steal that was successful chiefly because of Hogan's bad throw down to second.

McArdle also scored the third run when in the fifth he hit to Wheeler and took second on an overthrow by George, being advanced by Sutor's bunt, and squeezed home by Hildebrand.

After that the Angels were more and more ragged. In the sixth it was Brashear's fumble on a thrown ball that put Williams on first. A hit and an out advanced the blond first sacker, and he was scored on a wild pitch.

Mohler tallied the last run when he hit to hight, and went to second on a walk for Hildebrand, finally making the circuit as Delmas let a grounder from Zeider pass between his legs. The score:

THREE STRAIGHT.

BEAVERS FALL BEFORE OAKS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Oakland made it three straight today, winning from the Beavers by the close score of 3 to 2. It rained all forenoon, and the grounds were wet, but despite their condition there was but one error made by the two teams. Loucks and Garrett were the slabsters today, and the Californian had the better of it from the first inning. Loucks struck out six men to Garrett's three, and passed one, while the Portland pitcher passed two, one of whom brought home the winning run.

Patrick, Portland's latest in the pitching line, was put in for the ninth inning, and made a good impression on the fans by his pretty delivery and speed. He retired the side in quick order, striking out two men and getting an assist to first on the other.

Raftery started the run-getting for Portland in the first by driving a three-bagger to right, after Casey had gotten a scratch single and Johnson had dropped a Texas leaguer over short. This was all for Portland, as Loucks held the locals down to three scattered singles for the rest of the game, Danzig getting two and Casey one.

Oakland evened up in the second with Eagan's two-bagger to left, Slattery's pass, LaLonge's sacrifice and Lewis's single back of second.

It was nip and tuck until the sixth inning, both teams going out in one, two, three order in the third. In the sixth, Heitmuller, the first man up, walked, and was sacrificed to second by Eagan. Heitmuller took third on a fielder's choice of Slattery's grounder, and scored a minute later when Garrett made the only error of the game. The local twirler juggled LaLonge's bunt, giving the visiting catcher a chance to perch safely on first.

For the remaining three innings both sides went out without scoring, in quick order.

GROUND RULES NECESSARY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Chicago defeated New York 5 to 1 in the first of the series of three games, the winning of which means much in the close pennant race.

It was a hard-hitting game, in which Pfeister kept his hits well scattered, while Wiltse suffered the Chicago batters to bunch theirs. Ground rules were necessary, and two of Kling's hits, one an obvious triple and the other much resembling a home run, only went for two bases. Score:

Chicago, 5; hits, 11; errors, 2.
New York, 1; hits, 9; errors, 2.
Batteries—Pfeister and Kling; Wiltse and Bresnahan.
Umpires—O'Day and Emslie.

PIRATES TAKE FIRST.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 27.—Pittsburgh won the first game of the series from Philadelphia today, 4 to 3. Score:

Pittsburgh, 4; hits, 8; errors, 2.
Philadelphia, 3; hits, 11; errors, 2.
Batteries—Willis, Vail and Gibson; Sparks, Richie and Dooin.
Umpires—Johnstone and Rudderham.

REDS PLAY LOOSELY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CINCINNATI, Aug. 27.—On two occasions Cincinnati had the bases full, with only one out, and still failed to score. Poor fielding by the locals helped the Bostons to most of their runs.

Cincinnati, 4; hits, 9; errors, 6.
Boston, 7; hits, 9; errors, 0.
Batteries—Spade, Volz and Schlei; Tuckey, Ferguson and Graham.
Umpire—Rigler.

PLAY CLOSE GAME.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 27.—Brooklyn defeated St. Louis this afternoon in the first game of the series. Score:

St. Louis, 1; hits, 6; errors, 1.
Brooklyn, 2; hits, 6; errors, 0.
Batteries—Beebe and Ludwig; Wilhelm and Bergen.
Umpire—Klem.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

BROWNS TAKE TWO GAMES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BOSTON, Aug. 27.—St. Louis defeated Boston twice today by the same score, 3 to 1. Scores:

First game:
St. Louis, 3; hits, 8; errors, 0.
Boston, 1; hits, 7; errors, 3.
Batteries—Bailey and Hendricks; Young and Criger.

Second game:

Batteries—Dineen and Stephen; Cicotte and Donohue, Criger.

GAMES ARE POSTPONED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—The New York-Chicago game was postponed because of wet grounds. There will be two games tomorrow.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 27.—The Detroit-Philadelphia game was postponed on account of wet grounds.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The Washington-Cleveland game was postponed because of wet grounds.

ELKS' BENEFIT GAMES.

EWING'S GOOD SUGGESTION.

According to the Coast League schedule, the Los Angeles and San Francisco ball teams will be here the week beginning Tuesday, September 29. In a conversation, yesterday, President Ewing of the league stated that on his return to San Francisco he would confer with the other club owners there on the question of having a big benefit game here on Monday, September 28, between the Los Angeles and San Francisco teams, the entire proceeds to go to the Elk's entertainment fund for the Elks big gathering here next year.

The teams have a postponed game to play and it can be decided on that particular Monday. The Oakland team also has a postponed game with Los Angeles and Ewing will try to have it played here under the same conditions, on Monday, October 12.

Happy Smith Going.

Jud Smith, third baseman of the Los Angeles team is to leave for San Francisco tonight to join the Champions. He did not go North with the club last Monday, remaining over to welcome the arrival of a daughter at his house, who came Wednesday morning.

LOCAL MEN ENTER.

Two Members of Local Country Club to Play Golf at Del Monte—Card for Saturday.

S. S. Parsons and W. R. Millar of this city have gone to Del Monte as the representatives of the Los Angeles Country Club in the golf contests that will be played every day of next week. Almost every club on the Coast will be represented.

The programme at the Los Angeles Country Club tomorrow afternoon is a four-ball foursome, 18 holes handicap match play against bogey, one ball sweepstakes.

FRANK G. CARPENTER'S letter in The Times Magazine the coming Sunday will give much interesting information about the Cape-to-Cairo Railroad

ANOTHER ON ITS WAY.

NEW COAST LEAGUE BALL TEAM ASSURED.

THE new Coast League ball team to be known temporarily as the Los Angeles Athletic Association Club, was formally launched yesterday morning when the local sports who will play angel to the organization "showed" President Cal Ewing of the league, that they had the necessary $20,000 in sight with which to start the team. Those at the meeting were Ewing, Henry Berry, Mayor Harper, Frank Goings, Henry Lyon and Police Chief Ed Kern.

The men backing the new club will meet next Monday to effect a temporary organization and elect temporary officers, Mayor Harper being slated for president, and Shay of the Stockton team as captain. Next week the incorporation papers will be filed and within ten days permanent officers will be selected. The capitalization will probably be $25,000.

Mr. Goings is still confined to his house by a severe cold, but stated last night that next week he intends to visit the various beach towns and consult with the sports and business men in each as to the inducements that will be offered the club as a home town. There is ample time to make these arrangements, but as the Coast League will hold a special meeting in San Francisco September 27 to hear reports on the Sacramento franchise and the one for the new local club, Goings wants to be ready to state at that meeting that everything is in shape. The franchise was granted to the Los Angeles Athletic Association, and the new club will be organized under that name, and then the name will be changed to fit the particular town it will represent.

The club will be backed by Goings, Harper, Kern and Charles Fox, and at the start Henry Lyon and Danny Shay will take probably five shares, with the intention of increasing their holdings later on.

Within ten days it is expected that Shay will be busy looking for ball players for next season, and in all probability he will bring several with him from the Stockton team or other State League teams, as of the seventy-five players in that team, only Henderson, Hackett and Moriarity are ineligible for the Coast league.

President Ewing reiterated yesterday his former statement that Los Angeles was to have continuous ball next season, and in this connection the rumor has leaked out that at the special meeting to be held in San Francisco next month the Portland end of the league will ask for more baseball than Portland has had this year. Under the six-club idea as proposed for next year, Portland cannot have continuous ball if Los Angeles is to get it, owing to the fact that Sacramento must needs have a good share of games.

Two new teams next year will doubtless have the effect of making an eigth-months' season, instead of seven months, as there will be this season. Ewing said yesterday he was in favor of eight months, and would advocate it at the next meeting. It will be a good scheme, for last year every day in November was as bright and clear as an August day, and games could have been played until well into December.

WRESTLERS TO CONFER.

Young Leo Wants to Work Without Rest Until a Fall Is Registered at Chutes Sunday.

Fred Johnson and Young Leo, who are to wrestle at Chutes Park Sunday afternoon, are to meet tonight to decide whether there should be any limit to their bouts. Heretofore it has been the custom of the bouts to be limited to twenty minutes each if there is no fall meanwhile, this three bouts aggregating one solid hour of wrestling. Young Yeo has expressed a desire to let the first bout continue until there is a fall, without the rest at the end of twenty minutes, so that if there is no fall it will go on toward the hour.

Leo figures he is better able to rest on the mat while his huskier opponent works and thus he can tire Johnson out, as the latter is less experienced and would be apt to force the work and thus tire quickly.

It is probable that Johnson will accept the conditions as he is confident that, after last Sunday's exhibition, he can best Young Leo. The management will give Johnson the option of wrestling for twenty minutes at a time or continuing to a fall. If, at the end of an hour's work there shall have been no fall, the bout will be declared a draw and the men be rematched. It is figured that at the present stage of the game an hour's work is all the men should have. This, with the preliminary, and the rests takes up all the time the fans wish to give the bouts.

SLUGGERS BUSY.

KETCHEL AND PAPKE WORKING.

BOTH PUGS ATTRACT FANS TO TRAINING CAMPS.

Stanley Is Handicapped by Lack of Suitable Sparring Partners, the Local Tryouters Being Chary About Taking Chances—San Pedro Will Have Fair Card on Tonight.

It is probable that moving pictures will be taken of the fight on September 7 at the Jeffries arena between Ketchel and Papke, as the managers of the two pugs are in correspondence with a picture firm.

Both boxers carried out the customary programme of stunts yesterday before fair-sized crowds. Ketchel has not as many sparring partners as he would like to see for he is too rough in his work for the ordinary try-out fighter. The only two who faced him yesterday were Kid King and Paul Ackley and each had enough after two rounds. Ketchel's programme consisted of handball, bag punching, hammering of the sand bag and four rounds of boxing.

Down at Venice Papke had plenty of work cut out for him, for after the morning run and the gym stunts, he boxed with Joe Wade, Hugh Martin and Jim Tremble. Bill Aldridge is head trainer and part of his duty every day is to wrestle with Papke.

The San Pedro sports will have a fight card this evening that should furnish them more or less excitement. Leonard Lauder of this city and Kid Trendall of St. Louis will furnish the main event of twenty rounds. Young Bosen and Dick Winters of this city are down for six rounds and Kid Murray of New Jersey and Young Patrick of Los Angeles are also carded for six rounds.

MORAN A SLUGGER.

PUNCHING BAGS ARE SCARCE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Owen Moran is following the pace set by Stanley Ketchel in the mauling of sparring partners, and probably will soon experience some difficulty, as Stanley, in finding human punching bags, which are not as plentiful as they used to be. He gave three boys all they wanted, and a little more, at Shannon's villa today. He has the punch of a lightweight and his muscles are enormous for a little fellow.

The English champion now tips the beam at 126 pounds, but he has not yet begun to do any hard work.

From his system of training, it would seem Moran is preparing to make a quick, rough fight. Evidently his sparring partners think so, for one day is usually enough for them. Owen has no regular punching bags, but takes on all comers, regardless of weight or color.

Trainer Tiv. Krelling has introduced a novelty into Moran's training camp in the shape of an electric battery. He gives Moran a treatment every day, which may account for the Englishman's ginger.

WHIPS THE FAMILY.

BEAL BEATS BOB SLAVIN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Before Gate City Athletic Club, Harry Beal, colored, of Redlands, tonight knocked out Bob Slavin, white, of Del Rosa in the fourteenth of what was scheduled for a twenty round go.

Beal forced the fighting from the first round and really had his man whipped after the sixth, Slavin merely being able to hang on doggedly until a stiff left full on the jaw knocked him to his knees. He took the count, only to go down again under Beal's terrible right, and suffering under his awful punishment, he threw up the sponge.

Beal was the favorite from the start, but a large amount of money changed hands on the result.

Beal recently knocked out Bill Slavin, Bob's brother, in the same ring.

NELSON IS ROUGH.

BEATS UP HIS PARTNERS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Battling Nelson had a great crowd at his training quarters today at Millett's, including a number of gayly-dressed women. Bat sized up the crowd, and concluded to give them some entertainment not down on the bills. He tore into his sparring partners, Red Cornet and Perry, as though he were going to eliminate them from the map.

When the Battler gets rough there are none rougher, as Red Cornet and Perry can testify. Red's beauty was more or less damaged by the impact of Danish mitts, and Perry was also somewhat chewed up. It was a startling exhibition to those not used to Nelson's ring manners, and it made a great impression on the crowd.

Certainly the Dane was never stronger or more full of ginger than at present, and apparently he can't get enough work to do. Willis Britt has to tone him down, but Britt believes in rough boxing, as he argues this is Bat's strongest card in the ring, especially against a finished boxer like Gans.

KETCHEL FAVORITE.

GANS SHOWS UP BETTER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] San Francisco fans have begun to bet on the three big fights slated for early September. Thus far there is more betting on the Ketchel-Papke fight at Los Angeles on Labor Day than any other.

Odds of 2 to 1 are being offered on Ketchel with few takers and the favorite gamble will be even money that Stanley knocks out the Milwaukee man in fifteen rounds.

Ketchel has the call on local fans and they will bet their dollars on his success.

Attell is a strong favorite at 10 to 9 over Moran, though the little Englishman's strong showing in training has made a deep impression. Attell is hurt by the fact that he is already under weight, which doesn't look good for his staying powers.

For the Gans-Nelson fight, even money is offered, as Gans has shown up very strong and quick in training and sparring, as he used to do several years ago.

COLOR LINE IN FOOTBALL GAME.

TUSCALOOSA (Ala.) Aug. 27. A contract was signed yesterday by managers of the University of Alabama and the University of Cincinnati, football teams, for a game on October 17, in Birmingham. The contract calls for the drawing of the color line.

Fans Are Onto Jack.

BOSTON, Aug. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Philadelphia Jack O'Brien-Marvin Hart bout scheduled for September 15 at the Armory Club here has been declared off, opposition to O'Brien boxing here forcing the club to abandon the bout. Sandy Ferguson, the Chelsea giant, will probably take O'Brien's place against Hart.

SANTA MONICA CRICKET.

Sunday's Game for the Championship of Southern California and the Dudley Cup.

The team chosen to represent Los Angeles against Santa Monica next Sunday, at Vineyard Station, is as follows:

P. J. Higgins, captain; C. P. Hurditch, N. Tempest, A. E. Barwell, P. J. Tompkins, J. W. Heavens, L. E. Nash, T. D. Bamford, W. Meggett, M. J. Bhumgara and J. McCombe.

Santa Monica will be represented by C. C. Le Bas, captain; H. P. Justice, C. S. Hardwicke, P. J. Dudley, H. Little, E. P. Rock, H. W. Walker, W. Hunt, W. G. Cochrane, F. E. Lee and C. I. Sweet.

This is one of the most important cricket matches of the season in that it is for the Dudley cup and the championship of Southern California. Los Angeles has won the first two games, and if it is successful on Sunday the cup will remain in its possession for another year. Last season Los Angeles won all five matches against Santa Monica. The cup has to be won three years in succession before it becomes the property of the winners.

Santa Monica is particularly strong this year, and if H. P. Justice had played in the second match the tables might have been reversed. It is rumored that Elliott of San Francisco is coming down to play for the beach team next Sunday, and if such is the case, Santa Monica will be more than a match for Los Angeles.

Wickets will be pitched at 11 o'clock and stumps drawn at 6 o'clock. There will be a basket picnic.

MANY ENTRIES IN.

Twenty-one Members of Los Angeles Athletic Club Are Candidates for Run to Beach.

From all the indications the cross-country run from Los Angeles to Venice on September 9, should be one of the best exhibitions of endurance the local sports have had offered to them in many months, for up to date, or almost two weeks before the race starts, there are twenty-one entries from the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

The list contains the majority of the best all-around athletes who are members of the club and is as follows:

George Retzer, Sam Wood, Ed Dietrick, Sam Coulter, Joe Pensa, Ray Dunnigan, Jay Welton, E. M. Caley, Henry Heineman, Charles Gahan, Lou Guernsey, Joe Goldstein, Paul White, A. M. Bonsall, E. G. Derby, L. L. Burke, S. Schepps, C. A. Fitzhenry, F. W. Young, H. B. Plummer and J. W. Routzahn.

This will be a Marathon race of considerable importance to the club athletes, as it will prove whether or not their club training has developed stamina.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SPOKANE, (Wash.) Aug. 24.—The Carlisle Indians' team, conceded to be one of the greatest football machines developed in America, may be seen in Spokane the coming season, playing against the Washington State College team, which trounced Cochem's Crack Missouri gridiron experts to the tune of 11 to 0, last Christmas, on local grounds. Strenuous Talks

BY THE "OFFICE BOY."

The first rule for driving a nail into a board is to get your eye on the nail. The first rule for driving a fact into a man's mind is to see that fact clearly yourself. It takes a long time to explain what you don't know. A man can't sail a catboat in a straight line unless he picks out some particular object to point at, and a man can't talk with any effect unless his mind is fixed on definite specific ideas. When you talk about a proposition, don't talk generalities, get down to brass tacks. In merchandising the first rule for selling an article is to know the article, know it inside and out, from every point of view, have a chart of its good qualities worked out in your mind. In selling goods, as in every other line of human activity, nine-tenths of the prescriptions for success consists of plain every-day hard work. Every establishment has its compliment of drifters, dreamers and luck seekers, who hope to ride into the harbor of success on the crest of some fortunate wave that will relieve them of the necessity of effort. If it were not for the old man's determination, backed up by the salesmen in the clothing department, we'd probably carry over several hundred summer suits, but they've marked the finest ones $12.50 and all the others $7.50, and I don't believe there'll be one left Monday night. TO ESTABLISH RANGES.

Southern California Rifles to Hold Meeting Tuesday Evening at Chutes Park.

The Southern California Rifles are to hold a meeting next Tuesday evening at Chutes Park to discuss plans for fall and winter target practice. It is proposed to establish permanent ranges, both indoor and outdoor, and permanent headquarters.

Chutes Park has offered facilities for headquarters and the rifles had planned to construct an indoor 150 range there for gallery pistols and 22-caliber rifles, but the Police Commission refused to grant the permit, and some other locality may have to be selected.

Members of the rifles say that the matter was not fully explained to the commission and that another application may be made. A petition was presented to the commission signed by a large number of residents in the neighborhood, but the rifles say that the majority of the signers live a block or more away and cannot possibly be interested, as the report of a 22-caliber will scarcely be heard outside the grounds, and the range would be made absolutely safe by bulkheads and backgrounds. It is believed that if the situation would be explained to the residents in the immediate neighborhood their objections would be withdrawn.

The matter will be brought up at the meeting next Tuesday and the members will examine the site and decide whether it will be worth while to make another application.

FRANK G. CARPENTER'S letter in The Times Magazine the coming Sunday will give much interesting information about the Cape-to-Cairo Railroad.

The turquoises referred to opened wider than usual. The American was getting over the ground faster than she had expected. "I did not know, Mr. Vandraken, that I was giving tea to a poet as well as a humorist."

"Oh, is that poetical? Yes, I suppose it is." On reflection, he was surprised at having said it at all. Prose had always been more in his line.

"I think it is a very pretty idea. Oh, yes, you are quite poetical this afternoon; and yet, do you know, I would not have thought you could be. I should have put you down as frivolous, but matter of fact."

Then Ancester's warning, "You will have to learn yourself all over again," flashed into his memory. "But are there no frivolous poets on record?" he said, rather aimlessly.

Lady Kitty clapped her hands joyously. "Yes, there is deward Lear. Don't you remember the Pelicans' Chorus?

"'By day we fish, and by night we stand
On long bare islands of yellow sand;
And when the sun sinks slowly down,
And the great rock cliffs
Grow dark and brown,
Hand in hand we dance around ——'

Why, if Tennyson had written those lines, people would have raved over them."

"But not the last line," he laughed. "'Stamping our feet with a flumpy sound.' Tennyson wouldn't have written that."

Lady Kitty clapped her hands again. "Oh, I am so glad you knew that last line. I should never have forgiven you if you hadn't known it. No; of course, Tennyson couldn't have written the last line, but that doesn't make the others less poetical. I imagine that the comic devil in Edward Lear wouldn't let the poet in him talk, but the poet was there."

"What a delicious person she is," thought the young man. "Her gaiety is spontaneous."

"If I were an artist, Lady Kitty, I should paint your picture, and call it 'The Joy of living.'"

"I certainly do love life, there is no doubt about that. There are some alterations I could suggest, but I don't insist upon them."

"Not alterations in yourself," he said, looking at her exquisite face longingly with his red-brown eyes. "You are perfect as you are. Perhaps I shouldn't have thought aloud. I didn't mean to."

"But, Mr. Vandraken, it is all the greater compliment, if you really think it; though, of course, you don't know. I may be horrid, and you wouldn't know it. As long as I had one nice side to show, I wouldn't let you see the other, any more than you would let me ——" An idea seemed to strike her. She got up suddenly and stood where she could see the other side of his face. "Yes, it looks all right—just the same as the other," she murmured, half to herself.

"Whatever do you mean?" he said, startled.

"Oh, it was only a silly idea I had that if I could see the other side of your face quite quickly it would look different from the side you turn to me. The way children try to get behind a mirror."

Vandraken dropped his empty teacup with a clatter of spoon and breaking Dresden. "Oh, I say, Lady Kitty. I'm awfully sorry! It was unpardonably clumsy! Such a pretty cup, too!" He began to pick up the pieces to hide his agitation. Good heavens! he thought, there must be some horrid flaw in Von Tarsenheim's invention, if people were already spotting something wrong about his face.

"It was my fault," said Kitty. "I startled you. I was abominably personal. I always am when I like people."

"Like people!" Vandraken's face lighted up, and the pink in his cheeks deepened. "Does that mean you like me, Lady Kitty?"

"Well, it's not hard to like you. I think you are quite likeable, Mr. Vandraken."

"In spite of that other side of my face?"

"Oh, no!—on account of it! You are so delightfully baffling. It was the mystery about Bluebeard which made him so attractive to women. I am convinced that it was because his wife lost interest in him after she cleared up the mystery that he killed her."

"But suppose when you got round to the other side, you found a Bluebeard chamber? What then?" He spoke earnestly.

"I should say to the little devil that lived in it, 'You have been here long enough, and we are going to houseclean. I give you a month's warning,'" and she laughed again and resumed her seat.

"I see you won't take my little devil seriously. Poor little devil!" They both laughed, and Vandraken felt relieved, and picked up the wreckage of the china.

"So you know, I feel as though we had known one another much longer than twice. It is absurd, the way people walk round and round one another for weeks before they stop boring one another and begin to talk. I always feel like saying, 'Skip all that!' But it would make them cross. You may smoke, if you like. This is mamma's smoking room."

"And you? Don't you smoke, Lady Kitty?"

"Only with mother. I once overheard a man say that I looked like an adventuress when I smoked, and I looked in the glass the next time, and saw that he was right. I suppose it is the color of my hair."

"It isn't that," replied Vandraken, as he lighted his cigarette; "it is because women often get their first impression of a woman smoking a cigarette from seeing it done on the stage, and always by the adventuress of the play. So, when they light a cigarette, they unconsciously take on some of her characteristics—a process of mental suggestion."

"I wonder if there is anything in that?" meditated Kitty. "I remember now that the first impression I ever had of the kind was seeing Sarah Bernhardt in 'Camille;' so perhaps there is."

"What a darling she is!" thought the young man, getting more infatuated every moment.

"I am sure you are unusually impressionable, Lady Kity." The speech gave him an excuse for looking into her eyes. They were full of unspent laughter. He wondered whether the possession of such a fund of gayety and joy would not more than compensate him for the saturnalia he would have to relinquish to get it.

"I hope by that you don't mean suspectible. I can't afford to be susceptible, you know, and I have been very well brought up—at least, so mamma says, and she ought to know."

"What a wonderful woman your mother is! You might be sisters—Joy and Sorrow."

"Sorrow! Do you think mamma has such a sad face?"

"You can't see it, but you can feel it. The more brilliantly she talks, the more one is conscious that she is being crushed to produce the cleverness. Very happy women hardly ever strike me as being clever women."

"What a blow! What a reflection on my brains!" Lady Kitty pretended to be overwhelmed. "You just accused me of being a happy woman—and I fancied I was making such a good impression!"

"Be comforted, Lady Kitty. You have the cleverness of the child—a most exquisite possession. 'Knowledge comes, but Wisdom lingers,' you know. That's the kind of cleverness I mean."

"I have always thought that line extraordinarily true," said Lady Kitty, thoughtfully. She worked back into the corner of the sofa and sniffed up the smoke of Vandraken's cigarette with enjoyment.

"What did you mean just now when you said you couldn't afford to be susceptible?" asked the young man, after a slight pause.

"I might fall in love, and that would make marriage so difficult. According to mamma, mixing up love and marriage is as dangerous as mixing business and sentiment. If I were very rich I would marry the first man I fell in love with; but, being poor, I must marry the first rich man who falls in love with me."

(To Be Continued Tomorrow.)

CALIFORNIA LEAGUE.

Second Baseman Lucero of the Edison team has gone to San Francisco to play with the outlaws. He promised to return to play with the Edisons in the California Winter League.

Manager Hahn of the Chutes has signed a fast man in Nast for third base. He is a good infielder as well as a heavy hitter.

Milligan, a left-hander, will be given a try-out by the Chutes team. He played college and professional ball in the East, and shows up well in practice.

Catcher Tom Leahy, who was tried out by the Edisons last Sunday, has been turned over to the Athletics, as they have only one catcher at present and double-headers to play. Leahy more than made good, but Ward has Huckaby and Eagle to do the receiving work.

Frenchy Lamar intends to leave during the week for Colorado to enter the Colorado School of Mines. He has been the mainstay in the box for the Hoegee team, and he has broken up many a game by his perfect bunting. He is known to every baseball player in Southern California, and is very popular with them all.

Shortstop Kelley of the Athletics still continues his brilliant work. There is not a baseball manager in Southern California who would not be glad to have him. This will probably be his last year in amateur ball, for several managers of league teams are after him. San Pedro of the Pacific League has been after him, and he finally consented to leave the Athletic team and play with them, but Manager Ward of the Edisons, seeing that the Athletics were going to lose him, got busy and got his release from the Athletics and has signed him up.

The Edisons are the best fielding team in Southern California, while the Hoegees are known as a bunch of sluggers.

Center Fielder Encoe of the Edisons played a star game for his team last Sunday, his work being of the classy order.

McKnight, pitcher for the Chutes, would give the rest of the teams of the league a run for their money if his team-mates would back him up.

Secretary Ward of the California League received a letter from Manager Hawley of the Santa Ana team stating his club would join the California Winter League. A meeting will be held about the third Saturday in September at the Edison building, when the California Winter League will be organized to play the winter series.

Thorsen of the Los Angeles team will pitch one of the games Sunday against the Hoegees.

NORTHEASTER RAGING.

Despite Storm, Golf Players Brave Elements and Complete Courses With Good Scores.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

HAMILTON (Mass.) Aug. 27.—A dry northeaster was thrashing itself out over the hills and dales of the Myopia Hunt Club when play was begun in the fourteenth open gold championship. The field, which was sent away in pairs at five-minute intervals, included seventy professionals and thirteen amateurs. Among the former was Alex Ross, the winner of last year's event; Willie Anderson, a four-time national champion and the winner of the open championship at Myopia; Al Smith, the 1906 champion, and his brother, Willie Smith, who captured the event in 1899.

The amateurs include Walter J. Travis of Garden City and Eben M. Byers of Pittsburgh, both former amateur champions.

The first players to finish the first nine holes were Ernest Way of Detroit and James Campbell of White Marsh Valley Club, the former covering the course in 44 and the latter in 42.

W. J. Travis came in this afternoon with 90.

SWAMPED BY AUTOS.

Heavy Importation of Taxicabs for New York Overworks Customhouse Force.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Heavy importations of automobiles have fairly swamped the customs appraisers warehouse in the past fortnight. Several years ago the entries of the machines became so heavy that the government was obliged to secure special quarters in the Christopher street barns of the Metropolitan Street Railway for the appraisal of the cars. This plan worked satisfactorily until recently, when French manufacturers began the delivery of a large number of Taxicabs for New York firms.

Last week seventy machines reached port and were examined by customs officials. So far this week, Deputy Collector Corts has given permits for the removal of sixty cabs. It is understood that several hundred more Taxicabs will enter this port between now and the holidays. While there is little variation in the cabs, each one has to undergo a separate examination at the hands of the customs house men.

HUNDRED PLAYERS OUT.

California Has Seventy Freshmen Candidates for Football Team and Thirty Veterans.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Aug. 25.—Seventy freshmen and thirty upper classmen who were new to football turned out on California Field last evening for the first football practice of the year. Dr. Taylor and Jimmy Schaeffer put the "babes" through an hour and a half of running, passing and kicking. From the showing made last night, there is going to be an abundance of fine material for the freshman team and several of the entrants give promise of making a strong bid for 'varsity honors.

Many famous prep school stars were on the gridiron last night, including such men as Powers of Los Angeles, Armstrong and Evans of Pomona, Livingstone of Santa Ana, and Hanson and Reid of Belmont. The biggest freshman to show up was one Clark from Yreka, Siskiyou county. He stands about six feet, five inches and weighs 198 pounds in his football suit. He is also fast on his feet and gives promise of making an exceedingly fine scrum man.

The coaches will devote their entire attention to the freshmen and the new upper classmen this week. Next Monday the old 'varsity and other men who have been out for Rugby in the previous seasons, will have the first practice. Dr. Taylor will then pass practically all his time with the 'varsity, leaving to Schaeffer the training of the freshman fifteen.

Trainer Volz plans to put the men through a series of systematic runs and calesthenics, such as were used with such success by Prof. Magee last year.

The first freshman game will be played against the Barbarians on September 7, while the first 'varsity contest will be on September 19, with the Olympic Club as the opponent.

Walter Christie, who was operated on for appendicitis some days ago and who was thought to be on the road to recovery, was forced to undergo a second operation last night and his condition at present is very serious. The whole campus is alarmed over his situation, both because of "Walter's" popularity with the entire student body, and also because of the serious effect his loss would have on California athletics, particularly in track.

SALISBURY BROTHERS WIN.

Inter-Mountain Champions Given a Hard Fight by Challengers McBroom and Garnett.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SALT LAKE CITY, (Utah) Aug. 27.—The Salisbury brothers were given a hard fight in the doubles here today by McBroom and Garnett. McBroom weakened in the last two sets, however, which gave the game to the former inter-mountain champions. The following scores weer made today:

Men's doubles—T. G. Griffin defeated A. Nettleton, 6-0, 6-1; A. Myers defeated McQueston, by default.

Men's doubles—Roberts and Roberts defeated Neel and Whitney, 6-0, 6-3; Salisbury and Salisbury defeated McBroom and Garnett, 2-6, 6-0, 2-6.

ARIZONA AUTO RACES.

State Fair Association Prepares to Conduct Extensive Contests for Prizes.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Aug. 27.—Dist.-Atty George P. Bullard, placed in charge of the automobile racing at the Territorial Fair, has seclected as assistants Arthur Ainsworth and E. W. Bacon of Phoenix, Dr. Purcell of Tucson and M. J. Cunningham of Bisbee.

The fair will begin November 9 and the auto races will be held either Wednesday or Thursday following. There will be an automobile parade, in which every car owner in Arizona will be asked to join, a prize of $50 being given to the best-decorated car. The racing events listed are:

A motorcycle race of five miles for a $50 cup.

A runabout race of ten miles, open to machines costing less than $1000. Four-cylinder machines will be handicapped four minutes, two-cylinders two minutes.

A ten-mile race for a $100 cup for machines costing between $1000 and $2500.

A ten-mile race for a $100 cup, free-for-all.

A novelty five-mile race for a $50 cup, open to amateur drivers, who will stop and take on a fresh passenger for each mile run.

Two $50 cups will be offered for a run here from Tucson, this plan giving the lower-powered and cheaper machines a chance for a prize.

CANDIDATES ABSORB FRIENDLY FEELINGS.

Also Acquire Fine Dinner and Dispense Eloquence—Feud Hatchets Buried Deep by Good Republicans at Union League Feast.

ALL the little boundary lines in the Republican party were merrily swept away last night at the candidates' banquet at the Union League.

The hatchet was buried so deeply that a hardware expert will never be able to find the spot.

All the candidates, of whatever complexion, were cheered and made speeches.

At the end of the banquet Former Senator Robert N. Bulla, the toastmaster, rose in his place and said: "Before the election of the Governor of this State, I stated in the public prints that I knew him to be a man of integrity and courage. Gentlemen, I know no reason why I should change that opinion. I propose the health of His Excellency, Gov. Gillet."

He was lustily cheered.

In addition to the local candidates for office, Senator Flint was a guest of honor, and made a speech in which he defended himself from the charge that he has opposed President Roosevelt and his policies.

Those who gathered to smoke the pipe of peace were so many that the banquet room of the Union League fairly dripped over the edges. Impropmtu tables were scattered around wherever they could be crowded in.

The decorations were simple, but unusually effective, and the table arrangement unconventional. The candidates and toastmaster sat at a long table extended across the end of the room forming a T, with another table that ran the length of the banquet hall. At either side of the shank of the T were smaller tables.

Mr. Bulla, the toastmaster, was flanked on either side by United States Senator Flint and Superior Judge Conrey.

An informal reception preceded the dinner. At the signal the throng of banquetters entered the dining-room and informally found seats where they liked.

After the black coffee, which has always been the signal to turn on the eloquence, Mr. Bulla rose. He spoke as follows, being frequently interrupted by applause; his remarks were tactful and conciliating:

BULLA'S ADDRESS.

"When an application is filed for membership in the Union League the applicant makes two pledges—one, loyalty to the government of the United States; the other, to support the principles of the Republican party. Under our present system of political procedure, there is just one way in which the principles of the Republican party can be declared and established, and that is by the adoption of party platforms by conventions duly held and empowered for that purpose. Prior to the holding of the convention, every intelligent citizen is entitled to entertain his own views, and form his own opinions as to what should be embodied in the party platform. It is his privilege to go as a delegate to the convention, if he can, to be appointed on the Platform Committee, if possible, and to use every legitimate effort to secure the adoption of his individual views by the Platform Committee. It is even his right to go before the convention with a minority report and there exert his eloquence and influence to induce the delegates to accept his views, and incorporate them in the platform.

"It is the same with candidates. Before the primaries it is the right and privilege of every man or group of men to advocate the nomination of some particular man whom they think best fitted for office. These contests may even lead to what may appear to be factional fights within the party, but so long as the lode star is kept in view, namely, the support of the principles of the Republican party and of the candidates finally chosen to represent that party, these so-called factional fights are not detrimental, but beneficial to the party and to the people. It is through these differences that we secure the adoption of better principles and the nomination of better men.

"Does any one suppose for a minute that the Republican party would be advocating some of the planks in our present national platform if it had not been for the determined demands of our courageous President Roosevelt, made in direct opposition to the views and wishes of some of the old-time leaders of the party? [Applause.]

"Put (and here is the crux of the whole situation,) when the platform has finally been adopted and the candidates nominated by the convention, it then becomes the bounden duty of every true and loyal Republican to support the principles so declared and the candidates so nominated, assuming always that the candidates are worthy of the suffrages of their fellow Republicans. [Applause.]

"Of course, if a citizen cannot con-

FOR NEW MARKETS.

Traveler Tells of Chances in Sonora Now That Railroad Has Opened Up That Section.

"By the extension of the Harriman system through Sonora, a vast district has been opened up to Los Angeles jobbers that will be of great commercial importance," declared W. T. Garrett, a representative of a San Francisco construction company, last night at the Angelus. "We have passed weeks in the section about sixty miles south of Guaymas and were amazed at the richness of the country. It is easy to foresee a great trade in that country for Los Angeles merchants.

"The Southern Pacific takes one to Nogales by way of Benson, and from there a Pullman over the Cananea, Yaqui River and Pacific carries one in luxurious ease to the rich agricultural district known as the Yaqui River Valley.

"A splendid canal has been constructed 50 miles in length and the railroad is there to transport the products of the soil. I believe when the country is once advertised, that thousands of hardy settlers will pour across the border to this land of promise."

Mr. Garrett said he was informed that land could be purchased for a few dollars an acre, and that the Mexican government guaranteed safety to the colonists. "That section was formerly occupied by the Yaqui Indians," he said, "but they are no longer in that part of the State."

"Railroad men informed me that Col. Epes Randolph, Mr. Harriman's personal representative in that section, is planning to construct a branch from Nogales direct to Tucson, that will save several hours in time. As it was, we came from that valley to this city in about thirty-six hours."

In the exploring party were C. N. Andrews of Mountain View, T. B. Gray, Frank Bradford and Garrett, all of San Francisco. While reticent in regard to their own plans, it was intimated that the four men went to the valley to obtain at first hand an accurate description of its situation and resources, with a view of making large investments. The construction company built the canal and laid out roads.

THEIR HOMES SAVED.

A fire originating in the summer kitchen of George Cochran's house at No. 1024 Blaine street, early last evening, damaged the building to the extent of $100. Before the flames were etxinguished about $50 damage was done to the residence of George Bradbeer, who lives at No. 1026 Blaine street. The Cochran family was away from home when the fire was discovered and the neighbors attempted to put it out with garden hose and buckets before the fire department arrived.

LITLE HOPE FOR HIM.

Charles Foster, special officer of the Bonnie Brae district, is seriously ill at the Pacific Hospital, where he has been for several weeks. His physicians express little hope of his recovery. Mr. Foster has been suffering for more than a year with heart trouble.

FORTUNE.

SHE'D RATHER HAVE NEPHEW.

But Mrs. Woods Will Get Quarter-Million.

News of Sudden Wealth Doesn't Startle

Illinois Man Leaves All to His Aunts.

Mrs. Emily Woods, whose nephew leaves her a fortune

At the age of 76 years, Mrs. Emily Woods, mother of Mrs. E. W. Gillett of No. 1141 West Twenty-eighth street, has come into a fortune of more than a quarter of a million dollars. It is left by her nephew, Charles L. Draper, of Bloomington, Ill.

The news reached Los Angeles last night, but the good tidings did not bring much joy to the heart of the sweet little old lady, who, rocking back and forth in her big arm chair, her eyes half closed, was dreaming of the days many years ago when her little nephew played about her home.

"I wish I had my nephew instead of his money," was her comment.

Charles L. Draper, who left the estate, was a member of one of the best-known families in Illinois. He lived with his aunt, Mrs. Woods, during the greater part of his boyhood, and then became a traveler. Several times he encircled the globe. Finally his health failed, and at the age of 25 he became an invalid. Even then his aunt refused to give him up, caring for him constantly until it was thought best to put him in a private institution at Kankakee.

GROWS FROM A LITTLE.

Hon. E. R. E. Kimbrough, an old friend of the Draper family, was appointed executor of the small estate possessed by Charles Draper at the time he entered the institution.

With far-sighted judgment Mr. Kimbrough invested the money in land and mortgages. So carefully did he handle the affairs that the estate doubled in value, then trebled, and is now worth over half a million dollars.

Thirty-two years Draper remained in the institution. He died two weeks ago.

Even then it was not known that he had property of value. Not until yesterday, when Mr. Kimbrough filed an inventory of the estate in the Vermillion county court, did the true state of affairs come to light.

The document shows that Mrs. Emily Woods of Los Angeles and Mrs. Maria J. Daly of Auburn, Neb., aunts of the deceased, are the joint beneficiaries.

The estate entails 1444 acres of land in five different counties of Illinois, valued at $230,000. It gives a yearly rental of $6864.

Draper had $1856.79 cash on hand at the time of his death, and personal property, building association stock, notes and mortgages to the value of $76,288.98; and other reliable holdings.

Mrs. Woods received the news of her fortune at the home of her son-in-law, E. W. Gillett, former traffic manager of the Salt Lake Railroad, and now traffic manager of Las Vegas and Tonopah Railroad. To have a messenger enter the front door with such an announcement is enough to startle any one.

"JUST AS HAPPY WITHOUT."

But it did not startle Mrs. Woods. She is the grand-motherly type of lady books are written about. Her dress of neat black silk is of another day. The tiny bit of lace pinned to her snow white hair surmounts a kindly face, made radiant by the woman's good deeds.

Last night she rocked leisurely while she talked of the wealth that had come to her so late in life. "Money is a good thing to have when it is used right," she said. "I would have been just as happy without this. I have made my home with my daughter for fifteen years past, and have been perfectly contented. Charlie, my nephew, was a good boy, and although he was nearly 60 when he died, I could not bring myself to think of him other than as a boy when he played about my home. Mr. Gillett will take charge of my affairs, and with my daughter, will go east in a few days to attend to the estate. My sister, who comes in for a like fortune, is now over 78 years of age.

"We were all very fond of Charles Draper, who died in the East two weeks ago, and whose estate will be divided between Mrs. Woods and her sister, Mrs. Daly," said Mr. Gillett.

"I tried to get him to leave the institution and make his home with us, but he become so attached to his acquaintances there that he did not want to make the change. He thought the world and all of my mother-in-law, and was always remarking that he wished he had a big estate to leave her. He did not know at the time of his death that his property had increased in value until he was worth more than half a million."

GETS THE FEE.

Foxy Man Plays Proxy Doctor and Buncoes Patient Out of Gold Piece.

Another phase of the bunco game was played to perfection yesterday, when a clever and unscrupulous rogue palmed himself off as the son of a prominent physician, and collected a bill from an unsuspecting patient.

Dr. James P. Booth is blessed with four sons and one daughter, all grown up. This fact evidently was known to the fellow, who was in the doctor's office when a patient entered. As the doctor was busy, he was about to leave without seeing him, when the bunco man asked him his business. The patient admitted he was there to pay a bill.

"I have forgotten the bill, and do not know the amount," was the rejoinder of the patient, whereupon the pseudo son asked how often he had been treated.

"I think about $3.50 would settle it," is the way he placed the amount.

The patient gave him a $5 gold piece, and the man left to get some change. He never returned.

WANTS HUSBAND BACK.

Mrs. Breen Fears He Grew Despondent and Sought Relief by Obliteration.

Returning from the funeral of her niece on the 9th inst., Mrs. J. L. Breen, of No. 447 Sierra street, found her husband gone and no note of explanation. From others to whom he spoke during her absence she learned that he had taken his clothing and gone to seek work. Since then Mrs. Breen has heard nothing of him and yesterday the following pathetic advertisement appeared in the papers:

"Any one knowing the whereabouts of J. L. Breen will confer a great favor by letting him know that his wife is prostrated with grief at his disappearance."

Mrs. Breen said yesterday she could account for his leaving only on the ground that he was despondent because he had been out of employment for two months. During that time their niece visited them and became ill with typhoid fever. After three weeks she died. This brought expense to them about which he reproached himself because he was not able to meet it.

Breen is 48 and has been employed variously.

BURGLAR ESCAPES.

When John Heines of No. 2320 Wall street was suddenly awakened about 11 o'clock last night, he saw the form of a man in his room. Jumping out of bed, he turned on the electric lights and the intruder fled downstairs. Heines threw a chair at him. The burglar had gained an entrance by prying open a window. As soon as possible Heines notified the police, but no trace of the man could be found. Nothing was taken.

NATIVE SONS FEAST.

La Fiesta Parlor, No. 236, N.S.G.W., celebrated its second anniversary last evening with an informal banquet at which Grand Third Vice-President H. C. Zitchenberger, upon the occasion of his annual visit, was the guest of the evening. Covers were laid for fifty members and the programme was a most pleasing one.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Democrats who frequent the City Hall are showing a marked lack of faith in the success of the Peerless One; they are willing to forego chances for high Federal positions in order to win a subordinate place under the city government.

Complaint has been made to Mayor Harper that Tony Schwamm is using his place as Fire Commissioner as an asset in his campaign for Supervisor. Schwamm may be forced to retire from the fire board.

While being examined as to the paternity of her child, Mrs. Anna Etta Mayr became so ill yesterday afternoon that court was adjourned until Monday morning.

Judge Bordwell heard evidence yesterday in the maintenance suit of Mrs. Myrtle Coon against Frank Coon.

Judge Hutton gave judgment for the plaintiff in three injunction suits brought by the Western Union Telegraph Company against the city and county of Los Angeles to restrain the collection of a tax on its State franchise.

AT THE CITY HALL.

NO FAITH IN PEERLESS ONE.

CITY HALL DEMOCRATS CAST ANCHOR TO WINDWARD.

Willing to Forego Chances for Federal Places in Return for Appointment to Municipal Positions—May Force Schwamm to Retire from the Fire Board.

The City Hall has become the abiding place during business hours of a number of very anxious Democrats who are trying to scalp the political market. They have acquired a stooping posture through going about with their ears inclined toward the earth listening for the first rumble of the ground swell that is programmed to develop later into a flood tide for the Democracy.

Their lips are framed in the habitual question, "D'ye think Bryan has a chance?" The very eagerness is pathetic. The Mayor's office is a kind of distributing point for campaign literature and the Bryan press bureau sends red-hot bulletins daily, telling how the Peerless One is gaining on Taft.

The interest of the Democratic near-politicians in the Presidential situation is that they must make their choice between now and November, between city and national politics. During the first two months of next year Mayor Harper will appoint half a dozen new commissioners. The most important of these commissionerships will be those on the Board of Public Works and the Water Board. The local Democratic statesmen must decide whether they are going to try for one of these or wait for a position under the government in case Bryan is elected.

Chief of Police Kern is mentioned as the most likely successor to D. K. Edwards on the Board of Public Works. But Kern holds the virtual promise of the place of United States marshal in case Bryan shall win. The chief is paying no attention to "inside" politics just now, but he has a host of friends who insist that it is time for him to raise above his present position. Some of these are pulling for the seat on the Board of Public Works, the rest are grooming him for United States marshal.

To his most intimate friends the chief is reported as expressing a willingness to forego the United States marshalship right now. He would be satisfied with the place on the Board of Public Works, even though the Peerless One should slip past the guard and creep into the White House.

Joseph Mesmer is regarded as a probable water commissioner, but Mesmer has an inside "hunch" that Bryan is going to win. As one of the original Bryan men, Mesmer is in line for postmaster. He thinks he has already heard that ground swell which is going to elect his friend Tony Schwamm Supervisor and some of his other friends to the Assembly at the ides of November.

Of course there is a good deal of Mesmerism about this.

A number of citizens have intimated to Mayor Harper that there should be a vacancy on the fire board right now. These say that Tony Schwamm should resign from the board in order to make his campaign for Supervisor; they object to the use of a city commissionership as an asset by a candidate for a county office.

Mayor Harper admitted last night that complaint has been made to him about Schwamm's continuing to serve on the fire board.

"The only ones speaking to me so far have been persons whom I should judge are not favorable to Tony's candidacy," said the Mayor. "I have not talked the matter over with Schwamm yet and have received no intimation from him of an intention to retire from the board."

In this Tony seems to be following closely in the footsteps of the Peerless One. He has read in the press that Bryan has offered through his business agent to make a tentative contract for a lecture next spring; and Tony is showing similar forethought in holding on to his place as Fire Commissioner. He says he "can't loose" the Supervisoral fight; but he isn't taking any chances on giving up his place on the fire board.

Mayor Harper is holding open a place on the library board. Commissioner Rodman's term expired five months ago, but the Mayor has continued him in office until the library board has attended to all the details of moving the library into the Hamburger building on South Hill street. The Mayor may hold the place open until the first of the year and make two appointments at the same time. The Friday Morning Club has offered to erect a tablet to his memory if he will appoint two women to these vacant places.

There has been a de facto vacancy on the Civil Service Board ever since the first of the year. Dr. John R. Haynes is officially a member of the board; but the official life was crushed out by Dr. Haynes along with his sawdust dummies during the Eclipse fender tests.

This was followed close by the Capt. Kiener Civil Service exposures and Dr. Haynes was a political corpse. A few friendly societies met and passed resolutions of sympathy which were engrossed and sent to his widow and his place at the Civil Service Board is now marked by a vacant chair.

But Dr. Haynes' term of office does not expire officially until the first of next year. He will be succeeded by a Democrat who carries fewer fads and more ballots.

A number of subordinate appointments hang on the selection of the new commissioners and the little place men are condemned to occupy places on the anxious seat for at least three months.

CITY GROWING FAST.
OUTSTRIPS FIRE FORCE.

Battalion Chief Todd reported to the fire board yesterday that the southwestern part of the city is growing away from the fire department. He finds blocks of handsome dwellings where a year ago there was only an alfalfa patch and he says that the owners of these buildings are entitled to at least nominal fire protection.

This report came to the board yesterday morning as a plea for fire plugs and fire hydrants in the western part of the city. The people would like fire houses, too, but they are willing to get along for a while with the plugs and the hydrants.

HIS "COMMON PEEPUL."
TONY'S CHANCE TO GLOAT.

Tony Schwamm opened his supervisoral campaign yesterday morning from his seat at the fire commission table. A complaint was presented to the board that one of the engineers in the department does not pay his bills. It gave Tony a chance to practice on one of his campaign speeches.

Inquiries by other commissioners brought to light the fact that the bill presented was for money the engineer had secured from a money lender. This furnished Tony his cue and he promptly hit the high wires.

When the rehearsal was over the commissioners took the complaint under advisement.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

TEARS CAUSE CONTINUANCE.

WITNESS IN HER OWN BEHALF BREAKS DOWN.

Scene in Court When Mrs. Mayr Testifies—Tells of Pouting Spells of Husband and Their Marital Relations—Boy, Whose Paternity Is Main Issue, Appears at Trial.

Just as Mrs. Anna Etta Mayr's examination in Judge James's court yesterday began to touch the history of her most intimate and delicate relations with her husband, Walter A. Mayr, her 3-year-old son, Joseph Mayr, whose paternity is questioned by his father, came into the courtroom with a friend of Mrs. Mayr, and sat down in her lap inside the rail. It was thought necessary to introduce the child in court, in view of the grave issue regarding him.

All eyes were focused on the black-eyed lad, who laughed and chattered in childish innocence of the inquiry going on to determine his parentage. Many eyes compared him with Mayr, who looked sidewise several times at him, and many comments were exchanged on the likeness between the boy and the man.

It was evident all day that Mrs. Mayr was in a state of high nervous tension, and found great difficulty in answering the bald questions put to her. She choked, her eyes filled with tears, at times she spoke with difficulty, and at the sight of her child, it was evident that she could hardly proceed. But she persisted in remaining on the stand, even when both court and counsel suggested that she retire.

Finally, as the woman was evidently on the verge of a collapse, her counsel insisted upon a continuance, and the trial went over to Monday. As soon as Mrs. Mayr left the witness stand she went to pieces, sobbing hysterically. Leaning on the comforting arm of a friend, she cried out against the torture that the inquiry into her private life had caused her. When at last she had recovered her composure she was taken with her boy to her home.

At his wife's break-down, Mayr smiled slightly in a cynical manner, but did not manifest any further emotion. Miss Marguerite Mayr seemed more affected, but both brother and sister left the courtroom without a backward glance at the woman sobbing out her grief.

"Mr. Mayr often told me that I was too exact about my housekeeping," she said on the witness stand. "He took especial delight in puttering around the house and he always did the dusting on Sunday. He said that he never enjoyed himself as much as when he was doing housework. While I was cooking he would insist on salting the food or interfering in other little ways, and it was very trying. Often he almost drove me crazy, for I never did housework in any way that he didn't have a better way, and he would have a pouting spell whenever I did not do just as he wished. Sixteen days was the longest cheerful period he ever passed during our life together without a pouting spell. Then after these fits were over, he would do more housework than ever, apparently as a penance. He never washed the dishes, though he often dried them, and almost always I got our breakfasts.

"While he did little himself for the baby, he always hung over me as I bathed, dressed, and fed the child and instructed me at every move I made. I couldn't wrap or feed the child without his suggesting a better way. Maybe I didn't know much about the care of a child, but he certainly didn't know any more. I always endeavored to put up with these peculiarities of his, but they tried me almost beyond endurance.

"I do not recall my interest in any Chinese waiter at the Shanghai restaurant, where I went with Mr. Mayr. He also took me to two Italian restaurants that he has mentioned, and I met him there often by appointment. I did take the $50 draft and cash it, signing his name to it, for he had promised me a wedding trip at our marriage and had never kept his promise.

"When he discovered my act, he at first threatened to let criminal proceedings be taken, but I told him that if he insisted on publicly humiliating me I would leave him, and then he settled the matter. He never loaned my brother, Ferd, $1000 at my suggestion, as he has testified. He also promised me before this suit began not to use in it the letters about Ferd.

"An abortion was performed on me in 1902, after I had talked the matter over with him and he had expressed his preference for it. He said at times that he desired children, and then again he said there was plenty of time and he wanted to make more money before we had any, that he might care for them better. The abortion was performed because at the time we were both in ill health, and we felt that we could not give our best to the child."

It was just at this point that little Joseph entered the courtroom. The lad in his natty blue suit, seemed quite unconscious of the sensation he created and looked about smilingly on everyone, laughing gladly at his mother, who smiled sadly at him as she began her answers to questions, that probed so deeply into her marital relations that the court ordered the spectators to retire.

Then Mrs. Mayr was subjected to the most searching questions regarding all the details of her relations with her husband. She asserted in the most unequivocal manner that Mayr is the father of her son, denied with particularity his charges regarding their imperfect sexual relations, and flatly contradicted his story regarding these matters throughout their married life. Under this severe questioning, her composure finally gave way, and the court was forced to adjourn the hearing.

USED HER FIST.
DISCIPLINED HUSBAND.

The radical objection of Mrs. Myrtle Coon to having her husband, Frank Coon, a bartender in a Sixth-street café, drink liquor in their home, was brought into the foreground yesterday in Judge Bordwell's court at the trial of Mrs. Coon's suit for maintenance.

"I told him that he could drink as much as he pleased elsewhere," she testified, "but I said then, and I say now, that he cannot bring liquor into my home. When we quarreled, May 17, and he threatened to leave, I told him all right. I could get along, and I am getting along, all right, too. We had been quarreling for a week over his drinking and his leaving baby and me and going with other company to see the fleet, and when I found liquor in the house I took the bottles into the yard and broke them. That made him mad, and he had been sullen.

"Finally, the morning of May 17, as I was going around the bed, I thought I saw a whisky bottle under it. I stooped, knocked his leg from under him, and he struck me twice on the head. Then I hit him a good lick in the mouth, and I found out afterward that I broke his tooth, but I think that a man who hits a woman deserves all she can give him.

"He threatened to leave and told me to take his things from the closet. I told him all right, got his things, and he packed his trunk and left. My brother saw him choke me and heard him swear at me. We were married in Prescott, Ariz., in February, 1906, and have a daughter twenty-two months old. In June I went to his place and asked him to return to me, and he refused, so I brought this suit. I am willing to live with him, and I do not ask a divorce, but he can't drink liquor in the house."

"I never drink anything but beer, and I always gave all my pay to my wife, who, sometimes when I asked her for car fare, told me to walk downtown," testified Coon. "I work until 1 o'clock in the morning and sleep late, and that morning she came into the room early, shoved up the shade, knocked things around, and woke me up, hunting for trouble. I had brought no whisky home, and there was none in the room. But when I was putting on my shoe she hit me full in the mouth. When I threatened to leave her she told me to go, and helped me pack my trunk. I left, and I will not live with her again, though I am willing to support my child. She had me arrested for non-support and she has dragged me through the Police Court and the Superior Court. I tried not to hurt her when she struck me, and I am a quiet man; but I will not go back to her."

Coon produced testimony that he is a temperate man, of good habits, and highly esteemed by his employers. Mrs. Coon resented vigorously his statement that she was a waitress when he married her. The court took the case under advisement.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.
BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

RELATIVES SOUGHT. Public Administrator Frank Bryson yesterday received a telegram from the Public Administrator of Denver, Colo., stating that J. McDermitt had died suddenly in that city, and that among his effects were papers showing that he had $1000 deposited in the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank, Los Angeles. Investigation here shows that McDermitt probably came from Omaha, but his relatives are not known to the Public Administrator, nor at the bank, where the money was deposited by McDermitt some time ago. An effort will be made to find McDermitt's relatives.

THREATS. Thomas J. Hanna, 24 years old, was committed to the County Jail by Justice Pierce yesterday in default of $500 bail, to appear for examination later, on a charge of threatening to kill Mrs. Modjeska Hanna, 18 years old, July 25. The Hannas were married seven months ago, but quarreled and separated two months ago. Mrs. Hanna says that her husband is actuated by jealousy, and threatened to cut her throat with a pair of scissors.

CHARGES FRAUD. R. W. Davis yesterday filed in the Superior Court a suit against the Manker-Hevner Navigation Company, D. W. Jeffers, and others, to set aside a deed to a Gardena lot that he alleges he gave in exchange for shares in the defendant corporation January, 1907. The plaintiff asserts that he bought the stock on fraudulent representations by the defendants that they controlled patent rights on the "Hydrocurve Hull;" that boats constructed with such a hull had attained a speed of forty-five miles an hour, and that they had orders on hand for such boats to keep a shipbuilding plant running for a long period.

FILES WILL. Capt. Frederick J. Cressey filed for probate in the Superior Court the will of his wife, Mrs. Nellie E. Cressey, who died August 21, leaving an estate valued at $10,350. By her will of July 1, 1907, she appoints her husband executor and leaves him her entire estate, except a total of $507 divided among her sister, Miss Sylvia E. Daniels, her father, R. G. Daniels, her half-sister, Mrs. Sarah F. Baird, her friend, Mrs. Susan Cunningham, and a sister, Miss Lucinda Daniels. In January, 1907, relatives caused the appointment of a guardian for Mrs. Cressey, charging that by undue influence her husband had secured possession of her estate by taking advantage of her mental infirmity. Sensational charges were made, but the court subsequently removed the guardian and dismissed the litigation on a showing that Mrs. Cressey had recovered her reason.

VACATIONS. Justice Summerfield will return to Los Angeles Monday, from a vacation trip to Oakland. Justice Selph is taking a two weeks vacation that he intended to postpone until October. An attack of eye trouble made it necessary for him to change his plans.

WANT INCORPORATION. Judge Bordwell yesterday dismissed without prejudice the citation of Lester A. Adams directing his wife, Mrs. Inez Adams, to show cause why he shall not be permitted to visit his sick son, Lester M. Adams, who refuses to see his father. As Adams's physician reported that the sick youth is not in a condition to receive his father at present, the court dismissed the citation by consent of all parties, with privilege to re-submit the matter when young Adams's condition improves.

"WASN'T LOADED." Charles Garcia gave $1000 bail in Justice Summerfield's court yesterday for appearance before the Superior Court to answer to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon on D. P. Olivera at Los Virgines, August 13. Garcia, Olivera and their friend, Miss Varlarda, all testified that the shooting by Garcia was unintentional, as he thought his gun unloaded. They said that Olivera warned Garcia not to shoot, but that he fired, the shot carrying away three toes and part of Olivera's foot. Miss Varlarda denied that the shooting was the result of Garcia's jealousy of Olivera.

WILL PROBATED. Judge Bordwell yesterday admitted to probate the will of W. F. Beale, the Covina ranchman shot and killed by O. O. Corley near Covina early in August. Beale's will, made August 7, the day before his death in a Los Angeles hospital, bequeathed his entire $16,000 estate to his widow, Mrs. Mary Beale. The dead rancher left one son, Francis A. Beale, 8 years old.

INJURIES. Ralph Green yesterday filed suit in the Superior Court against the Edison Electric Company for $5075 damages, alleged due for a shock to the nervous system, causing eye trouble and abdominal injuries. The plaintiff asserts that in passing the defendants' Second-street station June 27 last, he accidently came in contact with a guy rope charged with electricity and received a severe shock. He alleges that the guy rope was electrically charged through negligence of the defendant.

WANTS DAMAGES. H. P. Fessenden yesterday filed in the Superior Court a suit against the Los Angeles-Pacific Railroad Company for $25,162 damages. The plaintiff alleges that October 17 last his automobile ran into the defendant's unguarded trench at Hill and Seventh streets, and that in the accident he received serious abdominal injuries.

INCORPORATION. Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday with the County Clerk by the Kellum Artificial Limb Company, capital stock $1000.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

WIFE SAYS SHE WAS ABDUCTED

ACCUSED MAN ARRESTED UPON SERIOUS CHARGE.

Young Woman Asserts She Was Stolen from Home of Husband and Threatened With Revolver—Oil Queen Comes to Rescue of Her Foreman, Who Is Held for Trial.

Charged with stealing another man's wife, Frank De Long, a foreman employed by Mrs. Emma Summers, the "oil queen," was held to answer in the Superior Court yesterday. Mrs. Estelle Vanmeter, the 21-year-old wife of Charles Vanmeter of No. 1109 Orme street, is the complaining witness.

Mrs. Vanmeter charges that De Long compelled her to go with him to his room and that he kept her there a prisoner for two days and nights. She claims that he threatened her with a revolver when she tried to leave the room.

The woman declared in court that De Long had forced her to sustain illicit relations with him during the two nights that she remained in his room. She says he would not allow her to communicate with her friends.

The oil foreman did not deny that Mrs. Vanmeter had been in his room, but said he believed she was a single woman. He said he carried the revolver, he said, to protect himself. He says he endeavored to effect an amicable settlement with the woman's husband when he found she was married.

De Long's bail was fixed at $2000, and late yesterday afternoon Mrs. Summers appeared and prevented her foreman from spending the night in jail.

In Jail, but Happy.

F. W. Kline, a bewhiskered man of 66, was arraigned before Justice Frederickson yesterday afternoon on a charge of vagrancy. His case was continued until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

MINES AND MINING.

ARGE PLANT FOR ZAMBONA.

l Company Will Now Aid Cyanide Process.

ens Famous Old Bonanza in Sonora State.

ays Hammond Worked Mine Thirty Years Ago.

The Zambona Development Comny, a Los Angeles corporation, hich is developing the famous old mbona mine in the Alamos mining trict in the southwestern portion the State of Sonora, Mex., will inll a complete 200-ton cyaniding nt this year, and is now consider- g plans and specifications.

For nearly four years the company s quietly prosecuted work and has pended something over $150,000, de- ed from the shipment of about 00 tons of ore. A 125-ton mill has n running for two years, with an raction average of only 49 per cent. d the dumps now show 100,000 tons tailings, averaging ten ounces in ver. The cyanide plant will re- er these values, and will also make satisfactory saving on the ore, as s mined in the future. A new power nt will also be provided to run the chinery and mill with electricity eloped by steam.

t the time the local company took d of the mine the main shaft had n sunk to a depth of 530 feet. ce, it has been put down 240 feet ther, making a total depth of 770 . First and last, the mine has duced 15,000,000 ounces of silver. en running full handed it em- s 200 men, but, since February 1, y about twenty-five men have been ined in development at the lower ls, awaiting the installation of the plant and the consequent greater ng of values. Among other im- vements the company has con- cted a spur to connect the mines h the Alamos branch of the Cana- Yaqui River and Pacific Rail- d.

he company is capitalized at $650,- The principal owners are R. R. man, president; Amos J. Yaeger, eral manager; W. F. Botsford, surer; W. Blennerhasset, secre- ; William S. Cranz, L. Patterson, cy Curtis and Dr. A. Furguson. control rests with Cranz and Yae- and no stock is for sale.

he property is situated on the fa- s granite-porphyry contact, from ch it, the Quintera and the Prom- rio mines have mined nearly 120,- 000 ounces of silver. The ore is ilver sulphide, so finely dissemi- d through the gangue that very crushing is necessary to obtain best extraction results.

e Zambona company owns eight- claims, among them the former za, Purissima, which was ked by John Hays Hammond in , and was really the first property ny consequence with which he was ected after his graduation from . This famous old producer has been worked to any great extent the present company, but a cross- from the 550-foot level has just completed, and its ore bodies ain be opened up through the any's main workings. The Zam- workings show an average width hirty feet of ore, with values av- ing, according to mill runs, about unces in silver. In many places high-grade ore is encountered shipped direct to the smelter. Be- the completion of the Alamos it was necessary to transport seventy miles by wagon, then 125 by sea and 625 miles by railroad. improved conditions under which ations will be resumed on a large e will insure much greater profits he owners.

fter Hammond had presumably ked out the Purissima, it, and the oining claims, reverted to a man ed Coyoolea, who erected a twen- t..p mill, and ran it continu- y for over twenty years—from 1884 l 1905,—when the ground was ac- ed by the present company.

urther to the south, on the south of the mountain, and still on the e great contact, the Promontorio e has mined another great ore- t to the 800-foot level with a total ut of approximately 60,000,000 ces of silver. It is now owned by Alamos Silver-Copper Company, of ch J. L. Obermuller of Alamos, is ager. It is a Philadelphia concern reat financial weight controlled by nk W. Stanton, L. C. Hanks, H. ker and Dr. J. E. Henshall. The stamp mill and other partially an- ated equipment has recently been ndoned and the company is now paring to install a modern plant large dimensions.

More Bullion.

he local office of the Skidoo Mines recently received a $8500 brick as result of a clean-up for the first teen days of the present month. At rate the mine is now producing 000 a month and no results have yet n received from the new cyanide nt which was put in operation with- he last ten days. It is expected that ther $5000 a month will be saved in way. "Bob" Montgomery, presi- t and controlling factor of the com- y and George Mack, secretary, left the mine yesterday, going in by omobile from Mojave. Reports from camp are to the effect that leasers the company's ground are making ellent progress and that the in- llation of increased milling capacity look after the product will be es- tial within a very short time.

RIVALRY.

AFTER SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY BUSINESS.

For the avowed purpose of attempting to wrest commercial territory from the jobbers of this city, a traffic bureau has been organized in San Francisco, as an adjunct of the Merchants' Exchange. It was asserted that Los Angeles has practically taken all of the Nevada trade away from San Francisco and was extending its field of operations into the San Joaquin Valley, a territory that has hitherto belonged to the northern city by right of custom.

F. P. Gregson, traffic manager of the Associated Jobbers of this city, stated that he was sorry to see any conflict between the two cities, but that in his judgment, San Francisco has too long tried to dominate the wholesale trade of the State. He asserted that the railroads had discriminated in favor of the northern city on many occasions and that the local merchants had always been handicapped in reaching out into new territory because of unfair railroad freight rates. He expressed the belief that the Los Angeles jobbers will be able to hold their own in a commercial battle with San Francisco, although he deprecated any strife that would be against the interests of the State at large.

The local merchants take decided exceptions to the assertions of San Francisco that Los Angeles has encroached upon territory that belongs to the North. They state that an effort has been made to divide the disputed territory in an equable manner, but that San Francisco merchants have refused to compromise or allow the southern merchants any latitude for their trade expansion.

According to reports from San Francisco, an aggressive commercial campaign is to be instituted, in an effort to recover territory lost to the San Francisco merchants through alleged indifference, neglect and lack of concerted action. This decision was reached at a meeting yesterday of the Trade and Commerce Committee of the Merchants' Exchange. Steps were taken to organize a traffic bureau with an experienced traffic manager in charge which will be a central organization for the commercial bodies of that city.

One object will be to secure railroad and water rates for the manufacturers, wholesalers and jobbers of San Francisco that will enable them to regain territory taken away by other cities—particularly Los Angeles.

The speakers at this meeting frankly admitted that the territory served by San Francisco was rapidly crumbling away, and that its trading districts were becoming more restricted because of the increasing enterprise of the Los Angeles merchants. They admitted that the business men of this city acted in unison, and were progressive. It was, however, asserted that this city had secured favoring railroad rates—something that the local jobbers will not for a moment admit. At the present time, a campaign is being instituted by the Associated Jobbers for lower freight rates, in order that local merchants may compete on terms of equality with their northern rivals.

But in spite of alleged discriminating rates, Los Angeles merchants, by superior ability and push, have succeeded in getting business in territory heretofore considered by San Francisco as peculiarly her own.

This is "where the shoe pinches," evidently, and San Francisco boldly asserts that she will endeavor to secure railroad rates that will give her merchants a decided advantage over those of this city.

During the past few years local jobbers have secured business in Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico. They have found a virgin territory in the Imperial Valley, and have established trade relations with Mexico. In the San Joaquin Valley many of the cities are favorable to Los Angeles, and their trade is increasing.

San Francisco merchants, realizing the rapidly increasing commercial supremacy of the South, are now endeavoring to stem the tide, but the jobbers here believe that nothing can be done in the northern city that will injure local trade conditions.

EXPERT TELLS OF EUCALYPTS.

EXPLAINS THE USE THIS WOOD CAN BE PUT TO.

Says Climate of California Is Similar to the Australian and Growing of These Trees Will Become Valuable Industry—Red Gum and Iron-Bark Varieties Good.

That the culture of the eucalyptus tree opens a valuable industry to California is the opinion of W. F. Nevill of Kalgoorie, West Australia, who is visiting in East Whittier. Mr. Nevill is a civil and mining engineer by profession, and is not only conversant with the conditions under which the eucalyptus grows in its native land, but he also knows the uses to which it is put.

It is the belief of Mr. Nevill that the eucalyptus can be made to take the place of most of the hardwoods generally used in manufactures in this country. For many purposes he considers it far superior to the wood now in use here and believes that within a few years it is destined to play an important part in American industries.

"Eucalyptus is our universal lumber; we use it for everything in Australia," said Mr. Nevill yesterday. "We have the trees in great numbers and, owing to the nature of the wood, are able to put them to numberless uses. Certainly the eucalyptus tree must in time occupy an important place in the arboriculture of this State.

"There are several varieties of eucalyptus in Australia, each of which has its particular use. The enormous number of the trees, the great rapidity with which they grow, and the quickness with which a district that has been denuded will again become covered with the trees, makes it possible to use the wood in enormous lots without fearing that the supply will become exhausted.

"The climate of Australia so closely resembles that of Southern California that there can be no doubt that the eucalyptus can be grown here with as great facility as in their native land. In fact, the success with which the culture of the tree has met here demonstrates conclusively that it can be easily grown, and at little expense.

"The red gum is the tree found in the greatest quantity in Australia. The trees are to be found everywhere and the wood can be put to a multitude of uses.

"In fact the wood of the red gum can be put to the greatest number of uses of any of the eucalypts. It is the hardest of the woods and is very durable. For railway ties, telegraph poles and like uses the red gum is used almost exclusively.

"One of the advantages which the eucalyptus possesses over most other woods is its immunity from rot when buried in the ground. Where most woods have to be treated to protect them from decay if they are placed under ground, no such treatment is required for the red gum.

"A pest with which we have to contend in Australia is the white ant. The insects will eat the heart out of most woods and destroy it. It is no uncommon thing to see a house built of soft wood which looks perfectly solid to the eye, yet can be punctured with the finger. The white ant can make no impression on the eucalyptus.

"Though the red gum is the hardest of the eucalyptus family, it is not the strongest. That distinction belongs to the iron bark, the tree generally used in bridge building. The iron bark is not as plentiful as the red gum, but it is found in large quantities and can easily be cultivated.

"One of the characteristics of the wood of all of the eucalypts is its grain. It will withstand almost any strain without splitting. Thus it is admirably suited to construction work where heavy strain must be put upon the joints.

"There are several species of the eucalypts which are capable of taking a high polish and are thus admirably suited to the manufacture of furniture. The furniture so made is very beautiful, the only objection to it being possibly on the score of weight. Eucalyptus wood is very heavy, a fact which might unfit it for general use in the manufacture of vehicles.

"For telegraph poles there is no wood that is superior. The trees grow tall and straight, as I have said, they do not decay under ground, they do not bend and they will last practically forever.

"The export of eucalyptus lumber has become a large industry in Australia and is rapidly increasing. Great quantities are shipped annually to England, where the value of the wood is highly appreciated. London is our greatest market.

"It has been the custom to use the Russian pine for railway ties in England. Eucalyptus is rapidly supplanting that material, owing to its strength and lasting qualities. Since the export of eucalyptus first began, it has increased greatly every year and there is every prospect that it will continue to grow.

"There is no reason why California should not reap a rich harvest from the eucalyptus-growing industry. In this age the question of woods for commercial purposes is a vital one and any section of the country which can supply the demand must be amply rewarded. The rapid growth of the eucalyptus makes it possible to supply almost any demand and trees planted now will be available, commercially, within a very few years.

"As is well known to people who have lived near large eucalyptus groves, the trees are extremely healthy, they are clean, handsome and will produce a good revenue. There is every reason why the eucalyptus industry should become one of the great industries of Southern California."

PROGRAMME ALREADY.

Local Elks Prepare Year in Advance for Entertainment at Annual Convention.

Though the grand lodge of Elks will not convene in this city until next July, a tentative programme of amusements has already been prepared by M. H. Flint, chairman of the General Executive Committee. The programme as arranged, provides for automobile rides about this city, and a day in Pasadena, as guests of the Elks of that city. On two other days, Long Beach and Santa Monica lodges will be the hosts. On two evenings, the theaters of the city will be exclusively reserved for the visitors. A grand Elks' parade is scheduled for Thursday of Elk's week.

Friday there will be a fraternal order parade, with every organization in the city represented by floats. That night the ball at the Shriner's Coliseum will be the principal event. Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, there will be special electrical illumination, parades and frolics. During the week, there will be athletic contests, drills, band concerts, Japanese daylight fireworks and other features. Excursions to Catalina, Mt. Lowe, Long Beach, the inland cities and other places of interest will be arranged. There will not be a vacant hour for the visitors, if they elect to take in all the attractions.

Flint promises as one of the star attractions, a rathskeller, open day and night, with beautiful girls in attendance, who will serve free California wines to all Elks. Many changes and additions to the programme will be made before the final order is arranged, but from the enthusiastic reports of the members of various committees, the Elks are bent on outdoing all previous celebrations in this city.

GLAD HE'S ALIVE.

After Two Attempts at Suicide Pico Heights Pioneer Says He Will not Try Again.

After two unsuccessful attempts to end his life, Hiram K. Magoon, of No. 983 Hobson street, says he is glad he failed. While at the home of his sister on Hobson street, yesterday, the old man poured chloroform into an empty keg and put his head inside. He did not lose consciousness.

Disgusted with his first attempt he walked several blocks to his own home and tried once more. This time his wife prevented him from carrying out his purpose. Despondency and business cares are the cause of Magoon's efforts to kill himself.

Twenty years ago, when Pico Heights was a sheep pasture, Magoon came to Los Angeles. He had faith in the future of the city and bought a home far from the business center. Until a few years ago he had a real estate office on South Broadway. He was supposed to be prospering. He gave up his downtown office and opened an office at his home.

FRIGHTENS PEDESTRIANS.

Man Who Appears to Be Insane Creates Scene on Crowded Broadway and Is Arrested.

Pedestrians on South Broadway were frightened yesterday afternoon by the strange actions of a man who tramped up and down challenging every one to fight. He was overpowered after a struggle and taken to the Central Station, but refused to give his name or address. He is now in the County Hospital.

Thoroughly exhausted from his efforts to escape from arresting officers, the stranger quieted down last night. He would not eat, however, and refused to speak. He would close his lips tightly whenever a physician asked him his name.

The man will be examined by a lunacy commission. He had no money in his pockets when arrested, and nothing on his person that would give a hint as to his identity.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

when an insanity charge will be lodged against Kline. He was arrested at Agricultural Park ten days ago.

The old man is apparently enjoying himself in the City Jail. He speaks of the place as a hotel, and inquires of the trusty as to when dinner will be served in the "grill." He told Justice Frederickson that he had been treated to an excellent concert Wednesday night by a group of trained singers. He referred to his fellow-prisoners, who indulge his vagaries.

According to Kline he is the possessor of two horses and three colts. He claims to know A. B. Mosher, a horseman at Agricultural Park, and says he has been in Los Angeles six years.

Proposes With His Fist.

Albert Cohn, who slapped Mrs. Gertrude Seter in the face when she refused his offer of marriage was fined $5 yesterday in Justice Frederickson's court. Cohn says he became almost crazed at the thought of losing the woman he loved, and so far forgot himself as to strike her.

Batters His Friend.

Because H. J. Everett believed his friend, O. Swansen, had made an insulting remark about his (Everett's) wife, the former struck Swansen on the face and knocked him unconscious. When Everett saw the man lying still on the sidewalk he ran away. A 9-year-old boy who witnessed the fight proved a damaging witness. The lad's name is Frank Cuthbertson and after being sworn he told of what had happened between Everett and Swansen.

According to the lad, Everett and Swansen were both intoxicated. Everett without provocation struck Swansen viciously on the chin felling him to the sidewalk where his head struck a piece of glass. An ugly wound was inflicted. Everett was arrested and yesterday was fined $10 by Justice Frederickson.

Woman Acquitted.

Mrs. B. J. Forrester, a poorly-dressed woman accused of begging, was arraigned before Justice Frederickson yesterday afternoon, and after a short trial was acquitted. According to a patrolman who arrested her, she had accosted twelve persons and asked alms. The harmless woman wept profusely when released and falteringly thanked the court.

Slaps His Landlady.

Because he slapped his landlady on the face during an argument over a board bill, O. R. Ensminger was fined $15 yesterday by Justice Frederickson. He could not pay and was obliged to go to jail.

UNITED STATES COURT TO OPEN.

Subpoenaes are out for a number of witnesses who are cited to appear in the United States District Court next week. After a long recess, the fall term will open Monday morning, with a long list of cases to be set for trial.

TAFT'S BIG LEAD.

The national election will take place two months from Tuesday. As the race lies today, Taft is the winner by a large majority. Such will be the verdict of the people November 3, barring unforeseen events; and events which could change the situation are almost unimaginable.

Look at the way the States voted last year. Twelve out of forty-six States were Democratic in sentiment. There may be a change in a few States this year, but they will be unimportant. To shake the Republican column would take a political earthquake, and what could produce that? Concede, if you please, that Kentucky, Missouri and Nevada may go Democratic, there would be less than one-third of the States for Mr. Bryan, and in these would be none of the important ones with a large electoral vote. To win, the Nebraska man must swing a dozen States away from where they stood last year, and among these must be New York, New Jersey and Connecticut. There is absolutely no indication of any radical change of convictions in any of these States.

In 1904 Mr. Roosevelt carried thirty-four out of forty-six States. (This includes Oklahoma, where the election was merely local, it being then a Territory.) In 1900 President McKinley carried twenty-nine of the States, Oklahoma being again included. In 1896 Mr. McKinley carried twenty-three States, including all the important ones, with large votes. Since 1892 there has been no indication of disaffection among the Republican voters of any of the States, while there has been much among Democratic voters.

Taking the country by sections, in three Presidential elections all the New England States have been safely Republican. All the Middle States have gone the same way excepting Virginia, always Democratic. The only break in the Middle West is Missouri, which swung out of the Democratic line into the Republican in 1904, and Kansas, which, from Populism in 1892, went Democratic in 1896, to come back to its almost steady allegiance to Republicanism in 1900, with Nebraska, which gave Bryan its vote in 1896, but not again. In the South the only breaks have been from Democracy to Republicanism, Kentucky going for McKinley in 1896, and Oklahoma voting Republican in 1892, 1900 and 1904. This Territory is followed because it has since become a State and will take part in this election.

The Mountain States show an unstable political condition. Taking them separately, we find that in six elections Montana has gone three times to each party. Idaho has been twice Republican, once Populist, and three times Democratic. Wyoming voted Republican five times to once Democratic; Colorado three times Republican, twice Democratic, once Populist; Utah split even between the two great parties, and Nevada went three times Republican, twice Democratic, once Populist.

In the last election, all these States gave their electoral votes to Mr. Roosevelt. In 1900, two of them were in the McKinley column, four in the Bryan. In 1896 they were all for Bryan. Their combined vote in the electoral college is twenty-one. The vote of Missouri almost offsets them all.

Last we have the three Pacific Coast States, which all went Republican in the last Presidential election, and so in 1900. In 1896 they were all Republican excepting Washington, which had given its vote for Cleveland in 1884, but swung back to the Republican ranks in 1888 and remained steadfast in the great upheaval of 1892. Oregon went Populist in 1892, and was, with this exception, always Republican. California in the six national elections went Republican, excepting in 1892.

The Coast States this year will all go Republican, and reasonable expectations point to the Mountain States going the same way.

The sentiment of the country has been steadily growing more deeply rooted in Republicanism. It is conceded by all broad-minded students of politics that were it not for the negro question, Virginia, North Carolina, Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana and Missouri would become steadfastly Republican in all other issues of the day.

Why should there be any change north of Mason and Dixon's line? The interests which have created so strong a Republican sentiment in the North are more important and more influential today than ever. The Republican party has made a good record ever since its birth. It never made a better one than during the last twelve years. Republican sentiment, outside of the negro question, is growing in the South. Why should it wane in the North?

As to the personality of the two men, Mr. Bryan reached the high tide of his popularity in 1896, and it has been ebb tide with him since. This year will be his low-water mark, and there will be no return of his tide. Mr. Taft is exceedingly strong in his own personality, as revealed by his splendid career; and he has behind him the strong personality of Mr. Roosevelt and the President's great popularity in the West.

FOLLOWING AN OLD FASHION.

The way of man with a maid was a puzzle to the Hebrew sage. It is not yet solved.

Here in this City of the Angels (some fallen, some still in an upright position) a man courted a maid. Nuptial bliss was blocked by "religious differences." He tried to win the maid by "spoiling her face." This "irreligious difference" did not ring the wedding bells. Now the police are looking for the wooer whose ways are so ardent and unusual.

But although unusual, the method tried is not new. William, Duke of Normandy, afterward King of England, with the addition of "Conqueror" to his name, tried this way, and won. The doughty William betook himself to Flanders to woo fair Matilda, daughter of a Duke.

Now William's escutcheon bore a bar sinister. He made no bones of the circumstance, but boldly signed his name to documents of many kinds, important and otherwise, as Guilelmus Bastardus. The fair Matilda knew of this break in the suitor's genesis on the female side, and promptly declined the offer, stating bluntly the grounds for her objection.

Then there was "something doing" in Flanders. The Norman, forgetful of possible international complications, as well as of the chivalry a knight owed to a lady, seized her by her marcel wave and all the wavy locks that lay around the same, and proceeded to convert her into a mop for the benefit of the floor of the paternal domicile. He slung the fair maid this way, that way and other ways until she felt as limp as a boned turkey. And lo, when she came to herself, she had changed her mind and agreed to marry the doughty Duke and follow him to Normandy or elsewhere. The reason of her conversion was that she did not think so strong a man could be found in Europe, and was sure there was not a second.

The underlying philosophy was that in those old wild days an arm so mighty was better to have on your own side in times of trouble than against you.

The Los Angeles swain has been born too late. The way of a maid with a man in our degenerate days is to catch, not the strongest, but the richest. Protectors against physical violence are seldom necessary when few men assault any one excepting their wives, and, therefore, the less prowess the better. A protector against a woman's creditors is the thing now. Therefore it is a question of the heaviest purse, not the biggest biceps.

Lo, the times change, and we change in them!

"The overshadowing question is shall the people rule." So says Mr. Bryan. That has been the question ever since Lexington and Bunker Hill, and the answer has always been, "Yes, by the Lord Almighty and the Continental Congress."

FAITHFUL OFFICIALS.

The city of Los Angeles has been exceedingly happy in the character of the citizens who have served on the Water Board since it was formed, and no less so in that of the members of the Board of Public Works—most of them. They have set an example to all who may serve the public in any capacity. This example has been in rendering the city the service they were appointed to render and letting politics alone.

There has not been a breath of scandal connected with these gentlemen, and their honest devotion to the business of their office has been admirable. They have nearly all been good business men, who had made a record of success in their own affairs. In their public capacity they have carried into the service the same methods through which they reached success in private life.

It is to be regretted that these gentlemen cannot generally be continued in office. They soon weary of the strain, which is much more severe in public life than in private business. Politics is a hard stream to swim against. There are times when a vacancy occurs, when a man even superior to a good officer comes to the front. The city gains by the change. But these occasions are too rare.

FIGURES AND "FIGGERERS."

The adage "Figures do not lie" is old. The addition, "but 'figgers' do," is more modern.

We had occasion a few days since to consult statistics as to the vote of California in a recent election, and referring to a copy of the World Almanac, found the vote of Los Angeles county for Mr. Bryan set down at 1359. Had a novice consulted this usually good authority he would have been misled. Knowing there was a mistake, the writer had recourse to another authority, where the correct figures were given, 13,158. A digit had been left out in the printing.

A more glaring error is found in the Literary Digest for August 22. A table, or rather a diagram, is given on page 237, setting forth the votes of the States in each Presidential election from 1884 to 1904, both dates included. Looking down the list of the States in the first column, we find Pennsylvania credited in 1884 with a Democratic majority of 81,000. How many other errors there are in this diagram would be revealed only by a careful comparison of each item with some good authority.

Of course, it is a typographical error, but the proofreader and all through whose hands the page passed must have been asleep or dead in ignorance as to politics to let so glaring an error pass. The man who finds the old Keystone State in the Democratic column will have to go back to the days of James Buchanan, the State's last favorite son to reach the White House.

PROMOTION OF MINING.

The next great uplift that Los Angeles is to experience will come from a somewhat new influence. Mining is an important part of our industrial movement now, but nothing to what it will be. As Seattle is the natural center of Alaskan mining operations, and as San Francisco is so related to the mining interests of the central part of the State, and of Northern Nevada, so Los Angeles is so situated that here centers the mining interests of the territory all along the great valley of the Colorado River, reaching north to the zone where Salt Lake reaches, and east to El Paso.

The mines of California and Nevada made San Francisco. With the discovery of each rich vein of gold or silver, wealth poured into the Bay City. Magnificent business blocks sprang up under the influence of this new wealth, and splendid residences to crown all the heights. From 1865 for ten years the "Comstocks" made San Francisco hum with life.

Seattle has sprung from a village on the outer edge of civilization to a great city in a few years because of the mines of Alaska. Mines have done more to make Salt Lake than any other impetus, and Denver has been dug out of the mountains in a figurative as well as a literal sense.

Really, Los Angeles has more advantages than any of them. Gold and silver mining has been the only form of the industry to play a great part in making San Francisco. Seattle has no rich mining region near by. About us lie all kinds of mineral wealth. Arizona copper mines are of vast richness. At Needles there is now a large plant in successful operation smelting lead ore. Throughout the territory contributory to the mining interests that center in Los Angeles, there are deposits of iron. There are deposits of greater or less magnitude of a larger variety of minerals of value than in any other district with which we are acquainted.

Little has been done here in the iron industry, from lack of a large market, and from the absence of coking coal. The market is here now and is growing. Mining calls for much machinery, and our agricultural interests have reached a point where implements for this purpose make a heavy line of trade. We are building railroad cars here for local use, and will build more of them from year to year. The difficulty arising from the lack of coal has not been overcome because there has been no impetus to try it.

Think of the trade that must develop with the Latin republics to the south of this city, and of the trade in metal products that must soon open up with the Orient and its teeming millions. As this trade opens, local manufacturing will expand magically, and with such expansion will come a demand for machinery. We may expect to see mills and factories for the reduction of various ores and for the conversion of the crude metals into various finished products to meet the home demand, and that which must come from Latin America and from the Orient.

These mining ventures of the Territories are already bringing a great deal of money into the banks of this city. Bank deposits are for the encouragement of local industries. The late William C. Ralston did much toward making San Francisco a great center of mining industries and a great city by the wise way in which he encouraged legitimate mining. Los Angeles bankers are shrewd men of business and have a personal interest in promoting the city's importance as the mining center of the Great Southwest. They see difficulties, no doubt. Deposits exist primarily to meet the demands of depositors. There are great uncertainties about the mining industry, and honest, conservative bankers will look carefully before risking the money of their creditors. The difficulty had to be faced in Seattle, San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Denver and all other places where the mining of metals has had its home. The mining enterprises were duly financed at these other points, and our bankers lack neither interest in the city's growth nor shrewdness in their business. There are ways to ascertain the probabilities of a mining venture. The amount to be risked is small at first, and increases only as the property opens up and reveals its value. These are facts our financiers will not be slow to seize, and as the need comes they will help legitimate mining schemes, as they do manufacturing enterprises and mercantile ventures.

The Bloodless Sportsman.

BY SAM WALTER FOSS.

I go a-gunning, but take no gun;
I fish without a pole;
And I bag good game and catch such fish
As suits a sportsman's soul;
For the chiefest game that the forest holds
And the best fish of the brooks
Are never brought down by a rifle shot,
And are never caught with a hook.
I bob for fish by the forest brook,
I hunt for game in the trees,
For bigger birds that wing the air,
Or fish that swim the seas.
A rodless Walton of the brooks,
A bloodless sportsman I;
I hunt for the thoughts that throng the woods,
The dreams that haunt the sky.

The woods are made for the hunters,
The brooks for the fishers of song;
To the hunters who hunt for the gunless game
The streams and the woods belong.
There are thoughts that moan from the soul of the pine,
And thoughts in a flower bell curled;
And the thoughts that are blown with the scent of the fern
Are as new and as old as the world.

So, away! for the hunt in the fern-scented wood
Till the going down of the sun;
There is plenty of game still left in the woods
For the hunter who has no gun.
So, away! for the fish by the moss-bordered brook
That flows through the velvety sod;
There are plenty of fish still left in the streams
For the angler who has no rod.

The Old-Fashioned Pie Eaters

[From the Utica Observer.]

The Republicans of Minnesota, having read and inwardly digested the useful lesson of 1904 and 1906, have nominated for Governor this year a plain farmer, who, according to his convention eulogists, "eats pie with his knife." If he should be elected it would be a big triumph for the plain folk of Minnesota. And yet he does but follow the table etiquette of George Washington, John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, James Madison and James Monroe—of each of the first five Presidents—in "eating pie with his knife." It was not until John Quincy Adams entered the White House that the substitution of the fork for the knife seems to have occurred to any citizen of America. "He contracted the habit in France," said Mrs. Adams, in an apologetic tone to some of her guests, "and he finds it difficult to break himself of it since we returned home." So the first great general of the American army, the sturdy patriot of Massachusetts, the author of the Declaration of Independence, the chief advocate of the Federal Constitution and the originator of the Monroe doctrine—all ate pie with the knife.

Henri Knows Already.

Net results of the Roosevelt administration may not show many busted trusts or any great moral reform actually accomplished, but it is believed that before next March Atty.-Gen. Bonaparte may decide "what is whisky."—[Louisville Courier-Journal.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

DRILLING BY NEW METHOD.

AMALGAMATED USES CABLE AND HYDRAULIC RIG.

System Successfully Employed in the North—It Does Away With the Baler and Needs Less Casing—The First Rotary-Drilled Well Being Cleaned and Tested.

The Amalgamated Oil Company is drilling one well at Sherman by a method successfully employed in the north which combines the standard drilling rig with the hydraulic feature of the rotary and dispenses with the use of the baler. With this it is only necessary to pull the tools for changing bits or underrimming, thus saving time spent in baling and the need for two or more strings of casing.

The standard cable has a pipe attached to and moving with it, where it enters the hole at the top of the casing. The top of the casing, instead of being left open, as usually is done, is covered. Below this cap or packing box two streams of mud and water, one on each side, are forced in under pressure. These keep washing up the matter, earth or rock, loosened by the drill, and forcing it up outside the casing. This is precisely what the rotary does.

If the system works as well here as it does in the Associated's northern work, it may be used quite extensively. It enables the work to go to greater depths with a single string of casing, as this is lowered with the drill, and the danger of "pinching" is removed.

Mexico's Great Oil Fire.

A letter has been received from an Angeleño now in Mexico near the oil regions on the Mexican Gulf, in which he describes the great oil fire at the southern end of Laguna Tamiachua, state of Vera Cruz, where one of Pearsons's wells is burning. A picture, that cannot be effectively reproduced, shows the blaze of enormous extent with clouds of smoke enveloping the landscape for miles around.

The letter is dated August 9 and the writer says:

"The well continues to burn with great vigor, although on account of the increasing of its diameter by erosion to some thirty feet the height of the flames has been somewhat reduced, probably one-third. There is now a special train coming loaded with pumps, boilers and other machinery to be used in an attempt to extinguish the flames by overwhelming them with water and steam in enormous quantities from mammoth pumps and boilers. I understand this work has been decided on after consulting with the world's greatest experts.

"Millions of dollars worth of oil has been destroyed, but no considerable damage to other property has been sustained nor is there likely to be. The combustion of the oil is not perfect and a considerable quantity is being saved. This is made possible by the oil not continuing to burn after flowing a considerable distance from the well and the company's ability to store it in earthen dams and ditches."

Expects More Below.

The Elk Consolidated Company, whose offices are at Nos. 401 and 402 Douglas building, Los Angeles, but whose wells are in the Four Forks district in Ventura county, is getting eighty barrels a day from wells Nos. 1 and 3. The company has discovered that its wells are in a formation which indicates a heavier deposit of oil below, and is preparing to deepen No. 2, which is already down 1550 feet. The oil is an especially fine grade, being worth about $1.40 or $1.50 a barrel. The company owns 440 acres of oil-bearing land in that district, and is preparing to push development work in a vigorous manner.

The Brownstone Oil and Refining Company, which has offices in the Bryson Block in this city, has just struck oil at the mouth of the Little Sespe at feet, but intends to drill 1000 or feet farther.

J. Laughlin, Jr., a capitalist of Hartford, Ct., has purchased a large block of the stock in the Rose Oil Company, operating in the Four Forks district, five or six miles from Fillmore, Ventura county. The company recently struck high gravity oil at a depth of 850 feet, but intends to sink 1000 feet before putting the well on the pump. The product is worth about per barrel.

More Reports from Yucca.

The Times is in receipt of a letter from one G. N. Kneisly at Yucca, Ariz., which he writes along the lines of the article published in these columns on Monday. He says also that "the Santa Fe water reservoir, from which water is pumped into the iron tank, is covered with oil two or three inches thick all the time."

He further says: "The formation has been pronounced all that is required by experts who have examined it. The mountains are all sedimentary and sandstone extends over a large area, with schist and blossom on the surface. The valley is eight miles wide and twenty-five miles long, running almost due north and south, and there may be a large district proved in time. Indications of oil have been known south of Kingman, Ariz., for a long time. The ground is being rapidly taken, and while as yet unknown to the outside world many are coming in from the surrounding country."

The letter is given for whatever it may be worth.

Standard to Use Rotaries.

The Standard is to use rotaries at Coalinga, Midway and King City, and has imported its own crews of expert rotary drillers with superintendents from the Louisiana fields. A force of men has arrived at Midway, and will start on section 30. These men say they have bored to 2000 feet and more in Louisiana in fourteen to twenty days.

Instead of perforating, as is the local practice, the rotary well will be what is called screened. Screen, very similar to that used on a fire engine for pumping water from a ditch, only in long lengths, is used. It is usually four inch diameter, and is attached to the end of the casing by means of a lead seal, by a process which makes seepage from the outside impossible. Much pressure is applied in sealing, and in order to dislodge the screen from the casing much force is required. The screen is used the entire length of the oil sand belt, or that part of it which is desired.

The Rotary-Drilled Well.

The Amalgamated is cleaning and testing its first rotary-drilled well west of Beverly. The depth is a little under 2400 feet, and it is as impossible to tell what it is good for until later. The territory is unproven and never touched until this rotary started. Whether it will be necessary to go deeper remains to be seen.

Oil for Japan.

The tanker, W. S. Porter, owned by the Associated Oil Company, and commanded by Capt. J. S. MacDonald, left Port Alcatraz, at Gaviota, last Tuesday with an oil cargo for Juneau. This is the Porter's first trip since being ice-bound in Alaska last when she was for several weeks given up for lost.

The tanker Pinna, an English boat owned by Lane & McAndrews of London, and chartered by the Toyo Kisen Kaisha, a Japanese steamship company, with headquarters in Yokohama, Japan, is due at Alcatraz, and should be there by this time to load a cargo by the Associated Oil Company for Japan, for the Graciosa to fill the latter's Nipponese contract. The vessel is commanded by Capt. Fairfield, an Englishman, with white officers and a Japanese crew.

Busy in Ventura.

The Bard Crude Oil and Development Company is preparing to deepen its wells on the Shaw place, two miles south of Fillmore, in Ventura county. The Lapp-Gifford Company of this city will do the work.

Los Angeles capitalists have located land on Piru Creek, in Ventura county, in township 6, range 19 west, S.B.M., and upon the advice of an expert just returned from an examination, will begin drilling as soon as the machinery can be moved onto the ground. Another company is going in on the Shields property, three miles southeast of Fillmore, with the intention of immediately beginning work.

Ellen Robinson,
yesterday's champion scorer.

Ellen Robinson, the little Presbyterian maid with the winsome ways, was the heroine of yesterday, for by her own courage and pluck she started a boom for herself and planked down over the counter six yearly subscriptions all at one time, with other good business which ran her day's gains up to the astonishing point of $399.

Here's to Ellen, for she did it all by herself. She has conducted her campaign absolutely alone. Her father has been dead for a number of years and her mother has been an invalid all this summer. Ellen has no brothers or sisters and the little girl has had to do her own coupon collecting as well as canvassing, which is no light task, taken together. She is working for a scholarship in music, for she is quite talented, and hopes to become an accomplished pianist. Ellen leads that redoutable worker, Leo Domke, this morning, and puts Leo down to No. 8. There will be merry racing and chasing between the two from now on.

Mary Pearl Pottol came in to headquarters yesterday with a big bunch of flowers from the foothills, and a big bunch of subscriptions from the same delightful locality. She has large ideas of scoring, and registered 5100 points, including two new annuals, and three yearly renewals.

The Covina contestant, Ida May Benjamin, startled them all by sending in a score of nearly 4000 points by means of which she has climbed the scholarship ladder several rungs higher than she has ever been before. Grace Tyler and Lizzie Shapiro jump Gladys Hill this morning in spite of the fact that the hustling Santa Barbara girl scored over 1000 points herself, but Grace Tyler gained 2295 and Lizzie Shapiro nearly 2000.

Ralph Warren had one of the big gains of yesterday. He brought in two new annuals, with 380 points besides. Ralph is a talented young artist in whom the director of the Los Angeles School of Art and Design is greatly interested. Ralph won a scholarship at that institution last year and has made steady progress, laying a sure foundation for future accomplishments. Ralph says that he just must have another year's work at the McLeod school, and he would like a cash prize as well.

The Soldiers' Home girl, Laura Easton, had a big boost yesterday with a new annual suzscription sent from the State of Illinois and other gains, making a score of 2090 points. The sweet young English girl, Mae Simmons, has reason today to remember the Knights of St. George with gratitude, for that knightly organization sent in 1000 coupons for her.

New annuals were thick in the mail yesterday. One came from the Colton lad, Fred Swartz, and helps his standing not a little. Another new yearly was turned in by Lillian Trippensee, who has worked for some time to get this particular plum. Lillian is one of the most interesting young girls in the contest, and very deserving. She is an orphan, and has been adopted by a kind aunt, who takes a mother's care of Lillian and a delicate little sister. The cares of life descended early on the shoulders of this brave little maid. Her mother died four years ago, when Lillian was only 10 years of age; she had been the dying mother's sole dependence for more than a year, and her little hands were calloused and her delicate shoulders bent with household burdens far beyond her strength and years. She has also been a mother to her little sister, Thelma. Lillian is anxious to win musical advantages and entered the scholarship race for that purpose.

The Westminster lad called at headquarters yesterday. Homer Watson is making great efforts for a scholarship at the University of Southern California, but he has met with many discouragements in canvassing through the country and needs the tonic of a big boost. Who will help Homer to win? One of the happiest happenings of yesterday was a new annual subscription sent in for David Boardman by Mrs. L. J. Merritt of Pasadena. This gives David 1000 more points than before. Mrs. Merritt wrote a note to say:

"Since seeing David Boardman's name mentioned some time ago as a worthy contestant, I have been anxious to send a yearly subscription for his benefit. But I was not quite sure of the contestant I most desired to help, as I have been interested in them all. This morning his picture appeared, and another article. I hope many will respond and help a brave, worthy boy."

VISITORS' DAY.

Visitors' day at headquarters was full of interest to all concerned. A number of strangers in the city, who had never seen one of the contestants before, came in to ask about some particular one in whom they had grown interested through the paper, while others, more familiar with the annual contests, came in to express good will for one and all. But the majority had already picked out a favorite. One charming lady from Ocean Park called to see the baby of the contest, Ramona Carter, whom she had been assisting for some time. Ramona came in to score her precious points, and was presented to the friend. When she heard the name she said: "Why, I wrote you a letter this morning to thank you for your kindness." Another lady inquired into the cause of David Boardman, whom she is planning to assist, and just then David's mother came in to call, and the two had a happy little visit together, discussing David's hope for an education, and other matters.

Sister Redempta, from the Immaculate Heart Convent, was one of the afternoon's visitors, and she was just in time to have the little Catholic girl, Celeste Benton, presented to her. Celeste is working for the scholarship at this beautiful convent school, and the meeting was a mutual pleasure.

Today we print a picture of the Immaculate Heart College, with an account of its splendid educational advantages.

IMMACULATE HEART COLLEGE.

The Immaculate Heart College of Hollywood, founded by the Sisters of the Immaculate Heart, under the auspices of Rt. Rev. Thomas H. Conaty, Bishop of Monterey and Los Angeles, is one of the youngest schools in the Southern diocese; but judging by the number of pupils enrolled, it has become one of the most popular, a fact due to the excellence of its work and the charm of its natural setting.

The buildings have been erected at the foot of the undulating Hollywood hills, on the old historic road, "El Camino Real," so often trod by the pious sons of St. Francis, and is said to be the most picturesque convent school on the Pacific Coast. As one beholds it facing the western sea, with its towers and turrets, bathed with roseate splendor, its cloisters and patios standing out in relief one feels that "although the Missioners are deed, their spirits are vital still."

The institution, which is a day and boarding school for girls and young women, provides instruction in the following departments: First, the academy, offering courses of four years each, preparing for the college. These courses correspond to those pursued in the Los Angeles High School and cover the subjects necessary for admission into undergraduate classes in the universities. The college offers a four years' course of study leading up to the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Besides these are splendid departments of music, art, and dramatic art.

The school of music is comprehensive in scope, and the diploma is conferred only on those who have completed the entire course. With it is connected the Saturday Music Club, an organization of students which supplements the regular courses by a broader study of musical literature. Pupils who have acquired sufficient technical proficiency have the privilege of belonging to the Immaculate Heart Orchestra with the advantage of ensemble practice.

The institution, as distinctly Catholic, offers every opportunity to obtain a knowledge of Christian Distrine, religious instruction forms an organic part of the curriculum, and this is supplemented by a course of lectures on Biblical and expository subjects.

The regular class work is supplemented by courses of lectures on the following subjects: History and Travel, Literature, Music, Art and Science. These lectures are given by distinguished lecturers.

Manco Salmon
The Perfect Relish For Tomorrow's Outing And Every Outing
"Packed fresh from the icy waters of Alaska"

Its flavor is exceedingly rich and so refreshing and satisfying. It is always tasty and enjoyable when nothing else seems to quite "touch the spot." And it gives you real strength. There is far more nourishment in salmon than in meat, and of all salmon, "Manco" is the very choicest. It's the select parts of Alaska's large red fish. Enjoy it on your Saturday and Sunday outing. If your grocer hasn't "Manco" insist that he get it for you. 15c, 2 for 25c and 20c cans.

We Appeal To Your Reason With "Detroit Jewel" Ranges

Elevated Oven.

DETROIT JEWEL
GAS RANGES ARE ORIGINAL AND THE GENUINE
A counterfeit is something that pretends to be the true and original; the more value or merit an article or name may have the more liable to be counterfeited—thus some manufacturers have persistently branded their gas ranges "Jewel," without the consent of the rightful owners. It only goes to prove the wonderful efficiency and trade value of the genuine "Jewel," which name is better known than the people who make it, so stated in the United States Court of Appeals' decision. The Detroit Jewel is the only range entitled to use the name "Jewel."

BLOW OPEN LARGE SAFE.

Cracksmen Make Successful Early Morning Haul, Are Heard by Women, but Easily Escape.

Burglars blew open the heavy safe in the office of the Rosedale Feed and Fuel Company, No. 1917 South Vermont avenue, early yesterday morning and secured $50 and $100 in checks. Two women heard the explosion which burst the safe open, but failed to give the alarm, as they did not realize what caused the noise.

Mrs. William Kessler of No. 1919 Vermont avenue, and Mrs. William Field, proprietor of a small restaurant on the corner of Washington street and Vermont avenue, heard whistling and men conversing in low tones at about 2 o'clock. Thirty minutes later they heard the noise of an explosion, which they say sounded like a door being slammed inside a house.

The cracksmen escaped with their booty and there is not the slightest clew to their identity. They were not molested while working on the safe. Papers and books were scattered about the office.

After gaining entrance through a rear door the burglars appear to have gone leisurely about the work of preparing for the blowout. After laying the charge of nitro glycerine around the safe locks, sacks of feed and flour were carried from the inner room and piled around the big iron box to deaden the noise of the explosion. These sacks were pitched about the room when the charge was fired.

Franklin & Son are the proprietors of the feed yard. Fleming Franklin, senior member of the firm, discovered the burglary when he opened the place at 6 o'clock yesterday morning.

COMBINATION PLEDGES.

Owners of Oil-Producing Land Negotiating a Working Agreement for Great Merger.

According to prominent oil men, nothing definite has been agreed upon in regard to a proposed combine of a number of companies. While none of the principals appear willing to talk, it is asserted that plans are now under way for a big merger of concerns now operating in the Whittier, Puente and Fullerton districts. It is asserted that the Central Oil Company, Murphy Oil Company, and other large companies are planning to fight the Union Oil Company, and possibly to dispute territory now occupied by the Standard Oil Company.

From an inside source it is learned that pledges have been secured from owners of between 4000 and 5000 acres of oil-producing lands to enter into either a working agreement or a hard and fast combine. Although several informal meetings have been held, it it stated that the promoters are not yet ready to give any publicity to their plans.

CUCUMBER CONTEST.

A friendly contest is on between various vegetable raisers to see who can contribute the largest cucumber to the Chamber of Commerce exhibit. One of the tables in the exhibit hall is covered with strange-looking specimens. Mrs W. J. King of East Whittier sent a unique cucumber of the snake variety. It is six feet, three inches in length and is twisted at one end something after the manner in which a snake coils itself. A Japanese cucumber was sent in by Miss Laura Antonelli of No. 1661 West Twentieth street. It is thirty-five inches long and measures over thirteen inches in circumference. Secretary Wiggins stated yesterday that he hoped to receive more specimens of queer California vegetables. The Moneta section has fresh exhibits of tomatoes, peppers, potatoes and corn.

THEIR BUSY WEEK.

Salvation Army Workers Have Man-Hunt and Other Activities on Hand—Commander Coming.

The Salvation Army has had an exceedingly strenuous week. Mrs. Thomas Newbold, who came all the way from Iowa in search of her husband, appealed to the Army for assistance. Her story is that Thomas took the family bank account, $500, and came to Los Angeles for a "good time." He had it.

The Army traced him from here to San Diego, and finally found the pawnshop in which he had "soaked" his trunk and contents. The fugitive husband was then lost sight of. Mrs. Newbolt, in despair, is on the way back to Iowa. She left yesterday afternoon.

In addition to this man hunt, which enlisted all the forces of the Army, much interest was stirred by the "onslaught on the devil," at Visalia, by local members of the Army, headed by Capt. Bruce and Lieut. McAllister. It is Maj. Smith's intention to start a branch army barracks there.

Maj. Smith's office also reports the approaching visit of Thomas Estill, recently commander in Japanese territory, who has been transferred to the western territory, being all the United States west of Chicago. Commander Estill will arrive at San Francisco September 12, and it is the hope of Maj. Smith in charge of the Province of Southern California, to be able to entertain the new commander here.

After a hard week's work, Maj. Smith is taking a brief outing at Catalina, and Capt. Norton is in temporary charge of the office.

FAINT HOPE.

TO HUNT HEIR OF MRS. WALDEN.

BRITISH VICE-CONSUL MAY BE ASKED TO AID SEARCH.

Child of a Dead Brother Believed to Be Living Somewhere in Great Britain, Though Entire Family Was Reported Lost at Sea in a Wreck. Dead Woman Helped Many.

Those interested in finding an heir to the $150,000 estate of Mrs. Mathilda Walden, which it now seems must revert to the State school fund, may ask C. White Mortimer, British Vice-Consul, to look into the possible existence of a child of James Wilson, a brother of Mrs. Walden. At the time Mrs. Walden inherited the estate of her brother, John Wilson, an effort was made to find relatives other than Mrs. Walden, but without success. Then it was learned, to the satisfaction of the court, that James Wilson, who was a non-commissioned officer in the English army, had perished in a wreck at sea with his wife and two children.

Mrs. Mathilda Walden, soon after her marriage, thirty-five years ago.

But Mrs. Mary Cunning, of No. 116 Railroad street, a life-long friend of Mrs. Walden, believes there was a child other than those who perished. It is in its behalf, if living, that the British Vice-Consul may be asked to make inquiries.

Mrs. Cunning said last night that she had never been led to expect any great legacy from Mrs. Walden, as has been reported. She had known the old woman for thirty years, and expected to be remembered substantially by her, but only in a small way.

"Mrs. Walden was a true friend to those she liked," said Mrs. Cunning, "and would doubtless have made her will in ample time but for the fact that some who sought to induce bequests clamored frequently for its execution. I do not believe her superstition had anything to do with her proscrastination. Rather it was her stubbornness, for she was contrary, and always resisted the efforts to force her to make a will. I know she often mentioned what she intended to do for Mrs. Webber, who would have doubtless gained a large part of the estate, and for Mrs. Palmer and Mr. Sawyer and myself. But she did a great amount of good every day of her life, and extended her bounty to some who really did not deserve it."

Some who suggested that the relatives of the late Charles Walden, husband of the dead woman, might be heirs, are met with the obstacle that Mrs. Walden did not get the estate until after his death, and that this would not admit them.

Mrs. Walden could remember none of her own in County Caven, Ireland, which had been the home of the Wilsons for generations. The estate is the State's, attorneys say, just as much now as it will be when the seven years elapse unless there should be found a living child of James Wilson.

I Have been asked to define the differecnce between a "proletarian" and "plebeian." Heavens! I don't know. We haven't any "plebeians" in this country. We are all nobles or members of the Sons of Toil, Sons of Rest, or some other cult. "Proletariat" is a word of various construction, some defining it as the masses of "producers," others as the "non-producers." We have all got to eat, even those who have got nothing. Did you ever get the "got" habit? I've got to get a lunch every day, but when I get it at Christopher's I know I've got it. And the same is true of his bon-bons and chocolate dainties. When you get them you know you have the real thing.

Eleven-Year-Old Boy of Redondo Proves Real Hero When Danger Calls.

REDONDO, Aug. 27.—For presence of mind and a splendid exhibition of nerve such as would have done honor to a full-grown man, Robert Hinsdale, 11 years old, of this city, deserves credit.

He was standing on the end of Pier No. 1, this afternoon, in company with several boys about his own age, when little Johnny Carson, 8 years old, son of Janitor Carson of the Pavilion, fell, or was accidentally pushed, overboard where the water is sixty feet deep and a strong current flows. The smaller boy had scarcely struck the water when young Hinsdale dived after him. He succeeded in holding his little friend up until rescued, five minutes afterward.

No braver act has ever been credited to a boy so young.

PLANT ATTRACTS MUCH NOTICE.

CITIES SEND DELEGATIONS TO SANTA MONICA.

Whittier and South Pasadena Municipal Authorities Are Much Impressed With the New Electric Sewage System—Fight Over Dog. Addition to Water Supply.

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 27.—With a desire to improve the sewer system Whittier officials of that municipality today paid a visit to this city and gave the magneto-electrolytic system a thorough inspection. It is possible a similar plant may be installed at the Reform School city. The visitors were President J. S. Todd of the Board of Trustees, J. H. Linkletter, H. A. McDonald, F. E. France, D. Reed, T. H. Woodard and A. W. Tryce. They expressed their satisfaction at the operation of the plant here, and secured estimtes as to the cost of a system of size sufficient for their city. South Pasadena has also during the past few days sent a delegation of city officials to this beach for the purpose of making a similar inspection. Santa Monica having the only plant of the kind in the world, this city is very much in the public eye at this time. Inquiries have come from Pittsburgh, Taunton, Mass., and many other eastern and western cities. Technical and scientific publications and magazines have contained illustrations and descriptions of the plant and the method of its operation. Chemists from a dozen cities have secured samples of the treated sewage and many municipalities are delaying action, awaiting the reports of the operations of this plant on its trial run.

Snyder is angry and talks of a damage suit. He says there was nothing wrong with the dog, at least nothing more serious than a passing fit, and that the officer was not warranted in killing it. The dog was valued at $300.

Louis R. Stinson, grand keeper of records and seals for the Knights of Pythias of the Oregon jurisdiction, was a visitor today. His home is in Salem.

MAN OF ADVENTURE PASSES AN EXAMINATION.

"Capt. Pete," Who Has Been Sailing Avalon Waters for Thirty Years, Now Eligible to Take Command of Steamer—New Arrivals at Island. News Notes.

AVALON, Aug. 27.—"Capt. Pete" of Avalon has just been commissioned to sail a 200-ton vessel. He went over to San Pedro, passed the examination, and is now eligible to take command of a steamer the size of the Hermosa. For thirty years he has been in the employ of the Banning Company, residing continuously on Catalina Island, and has commanded in turn every craft the company owns that plies around the island.

"Capt. Pete" is a regular sea dog, and the story of his life would read like fascinating fiction, for he had adventures galore before he landed here. Born in Austria, of a seafaring father, he went to sea almost before he can remember, and at 10 years old, when he landed in Boston on his father's ship, he ran away and went to sea on his own hook. He roved the world over, sailing on all seas, and skirting all shores.

"Capt. Pete" scorns land travel, and has a particular contempt for automobiles. "Catch me in one of those honk-honking things," says he in disgust, "I guess not. I'm afraid of 'em—give me the sea—that's the place to live." He is a great favorite with the young people, and never so happy as when piloting a pleasure launch around the island with a crowd of young folks aboard.

"MERRY WIDOWS" IMMERSED.

Two very stout ladeis involuntarily furnished amusement for a crowd of on-lookers yesterday when they fell into the water from a row boat near the pleasure pier. Clad in tailor-made suits, white gloves and "Merry Widow" hats, they were in a row boat and about to board a yacht lying in the bay to go on a yachting party. Fred Brainerd, a Los Angeles boy, proved the hero of the occasion. He was a passenger in the row boat and, as it capsized, he went under it. One of the women could swim and she promptly rescued herself. The other held aloft a Japanese parasol full furled as a signal of distress before she sank, and young Brainerd rescued her, pulling her to the shore.

PLANS ANOTHER MAMMOTH HOTEL.

VIRGINIA SHAREHOLDER TO GO ONE BETTER.

Long Beach Property Possessor Thinks There Is Room for Another Immense Hostelry and Has Plans Drawn and Cost Estimated—Decorate for Festival.

LONG BEACH, Aug. 27.—Following the permission granted last week by the City Council for the building of a retaining wall and parking the bluff, between Pine avenue and American avenue at the expense of the abutting beach property owners, the Ocean Pier and Oxford companies today acknowledged further plans. These include the immediate building of a six-story reinforced concrete hotel, plans for which have been drawn by Architect Munson of Los Angeles and an estimate of cost made by Contractor Spalding, who built Hotel Virginia. The site chosen is on the beach south of the bluff, between Locust avenue and Collins Way, now occupied by the skating rink.

The building contemplated is larger than Hotel Virginia, will contain 280 rooms and will cost $250,000. The promoter is J. M. Parsell, who owns the rink property and is also a heavy stockholder in the Virginia.

BY WAY OF REVENGE.

"Your son is mine within the next two weeks. Make any fuss and your life is endangered. I am wise to all you do."

"You have guarded your child too well, but time will tell and I will get him yet. Remember you and yours are in danger. Leave him not alone for your own welfare."

These two letters, printed with pen and ink on manila wrapping paper, adorned with skull and cross-bones, and signed with a crudely drawn black hand, struck terror to the heart of Mrs. Elmer Brower of No. 227 Cedar avenue. They were promptly turned over to the police, who today arrested Geodfrey Mills, as the writer. He confessed, but claimed he only meant to frighten the woman's husband with whom he had a row, and who succeeded him as foreman of a local plumbing shop. Mrs. Brower declined to prosecute so the man was released with a warning.

FOR THE FESTIVAL.

The work of decorating for Festival week was commenced today. Pine and Ocean avenues are strung with festoons of colored lights, while the pier is gay in waving strings of red, yellow and green pennants and American flags and bunting. An elaborate scheme of decoration in the auditorium, where the juvenile queen of the festival will be crowned, makes one think of fairyland. Work on the business house decorations will begin tomorrow. The grand stand, platform and queen's shell on the beach, near Hotel Virginia, are nearly completed, lacking only the decorations and electric effects. The grand stand will seat 25,000 people.

The official line of march for all parades was decided today. Forming on Sixth and Pine, the parade will move down Pine to Ocean, west to Magnolia, north to Fourth, east to Locust, north to Sixth, east to American, south to Ocean avenue and disband.

Final arrangements were made today with the Los Angeles Aëro Club for two aëroplanes and a dirigible balloon. Harry Wright, with his hot air bollaan, arrived today and will make ten ascensions during the week.

FOR GOOD TIME.

The Independent Telephone Dealers' Association of California will hold its semi-annual convention here September 26. In the evening the members will be the guests of a Los Angeles company at a banquet at Hotel Virginia. Acceptances from 100 members throughout the State have been received. Manager Linnard will place the Maryland-Virginia special car at their disposal to and from Los Angeles.

FOUR ROBBERIES.

Four robberies were reported to the police today. At Dr. Maltby's residence a silk skirt, a gold cross and $3.50 in money were secured. J. H. Richman, a tenter on the beach, lost two suit cases and a basket of clothing. John Lee, a Chinaman, had his home at Tenth and Orange robbed of $30 in gold and silver. Mrs. L. M. Coombs, living on Railroad avenue, lost two dozen chickens.

AT THE VIRGINIA.

HAS MURDERER, SHERIFF THINKS.

WOMAN'S TALK LEADS TO THE ARREST OF SUSPECT.

Half-Breed Believed to Have Killed John Baldwin Near San Bernardino Arrested—His Wife Makes Damaging Admissions to Officers—Old Woman Near Starvation.

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 27.—Sheriff Ralphs believes that in the arrest of Frank Morales he has the brutal slayer of John Baldwin. Morales is a half-breed Mexican Indian. His wife, Murial Morales, has made damaging admissions to the Sheriff, besides which she informed another squaw before her arrest that Morales had beat Baldwin to death, and told in detail of the circumstance. This tale-telling reached the ears of Morales, and he thrashed his squaw unmercifully.

The Sheriff has four other persons under arrest as witnesses, among them being a white man named Praster, who is known to have been with Baldwin in the tules the day he was killed, hunting squaws. It is known that Baldwin and his set have for a long time practiced squaw hunting, and their conduct enraged the men of the tribe.

The officers believe that Mrs. Morales will soon make a complete confession. Baldwin was buried today.

IN ABJECT POVERTY.

A wrinkled old Indian woman, said to have passed the 110-year mark, was found this morning by Deputy Sheriff Velarde in abject poverty in a tumble-down shack near the Santa Ana River. With her was living a five-year-old great-granddaughter, and but for the charity of the impoverished Indian families about them the two would have perished of hunger. For the past two weeks the two have been deserted by the parents of the child. The Indians could spare but little for the couple, their entire meal for today having consisted of two crusts of pancake.

TO HANDLE ESTATE.

Articles of incorporation were filed this morning with the County Clerk for the Pacific States Land Company, composed of San Francisco men, to handle the large land interests of the late John V. Benson, who died recently at Ontario. This morning John A. Benson filed a petition for letters of administration on the estate in question. The realty holdings in this county are valued at $20,000, and comprise town lots at Ontario. The land company is capitalized for $75,000, the incorporators being John A. Benson, B. McGillan, C. E. Glover, James H. Lavensoft and G. H. Perrin.

TROLLEY TO RIVERSIDE.

Before the year ends cars of the Huntington system will be operating between this city and Riverside. This information comes from an authentic source. All day yesterday General Manager Merrihew of the local system, was in Riverside in connection with the work being completed out from that city toward San Bernardino, and word comes that grading on this extension has been completed to the county line, four miles south of Colton. Merrihew denies that his all-day visit at Riverside had any bearing on the proposed extension, but from inside information this statement is regarded with a smile.

CRITICISM NOT JUSTIFIED.

Supervisor C. H. Charlton was in from the Mt. Harrison fire today, and explained that the criticism of the firebreaks was not justified, for the reason that they were not constructed for the purpose of alone checking a fire at a given line, but that from them the rangers could with more safety back-fire, and enter sections which otherwise they would be unable to reach during the time of a forest fire. He stated that the firebreak on the ridge above Plunge Creek was what made it possible to finally extinguish the fire on Mt. Harrison.

BETTER LATE THAN NEVER.

Michael Chwastek and Kavolina, both natives of Austria, this afternoon brought into the County Clerk's office a marriage license which had been issued to them two weeks ago, and in troubled voice asked what they should do with it. Questioning disclosed that they had taken the license home, supposing that its purchase comprised all there was in the marriage ceremony, but the inquiry and laughter of a friend this morning aroused their suspicions. They were given the desired information, and were soon formally married by Justice of the Peace C. L. Thomas.

WANDERED WEST.

Word was received from Pittsburgh today that James C. Gray, whose actions here yesterday caused so much comment, is a son of Mrs. Eleanor H. Gray, whose home, "Watson Place," is located in the fashionable Sewickley Heights district. Early today his mother received a telegram from a hotel at San Bernardino saying her son was ill. Some time ago he left here to visit a brother in Chicago. That the young man had wandered to California was surprising to his mother and his two sisters, but it is expected he will regain his accustomed health within a short time. The Gray family is very wealthy.

VENTURA.

VENTURA, Aug. 27.—Señor Enrique Ornelas, Mexican Consul at San Antonio, Tex., was here inspecting work on the streets. The city is using the petrolithic process, and the visitor, who was sent out by his government to study good roads, was much impressed.

The San Jacinto, the new steam schooner built for the People Lumber Company of this city, made her maiden voyage to this port this week. She is a handsome craft, costing $95,000, and is commanded by Capt. Rasmussen and has a crew of nineteen.

The will of the late Herbert Frye, who committed suicide on his ranch near Torrey a few days ago, has been filed for probate. The estate is valued at $35,000, and was left to three children of a sister, Mrs. Holdsworth, living in England.

REDLANDS.

REDLANDS, Aug. 27.—Senator H. M. Willis has been appointed on the committee to purchase the furnishings for the new Senate chamber and offices.

Ranger Bert Switzer is crippled as the result of a narrow escape from death while fighting fire on Mt. Harrison yesterday. The flames drove him to a steep embankment. He had to either jump to the bottom, many feet below, or be burned to death. He chose the former, and though seriously bruised, he escaped without any broken bones.

E. C. Kirkpatrick, the young man apprehended at Colton yesterday and brought here today on a warrant issued by Judge Gifford, charging him with securing sums of money on forged checks, has confessed.

SUCCORED.

BOY FALLS OVER STEEP CLIFF.

CUCAMONGA LAD IS SAVED BY HIS COMPANIONS.

Relief Party Goes from Upland and Brings Injured Youth Down Mountain on Litter, Taking Twelve Hours to Make Perilous Journey of Few Miles.

UPLAND, Aug. 27.—Arnold Weber, one of a party of four boys of the Cucamonga-Ioamosa territory, who went up into Cucamonga Cañon for a short stay, fell over a cliff at a point back of the "Third Falls," and sustained a sprained ankle and several severe cuts and bruises. The lad was too much injured to walk back, and one of his companions returned home to organise a relief party, to carry him down. Twelve men and boys went up, made a litter, placed young Weber thereon, and brought him home. It was extremely hard work making the several miles' journey back and it required just twelve hours. There are many perilous places.

BOOST GOOD ROADS.

The "boosters" for the good roads bond issue, an election for which is scheduled in this county for September 17, were here yesterday, and spoke to quite a number of the voters, on the streets here. Messrs. Roberts, Cooley, Gill and Vestal, of San Bernardino, and Dr. E. W. Reid of Cucamonga, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, and Col. James L. Paul and R. T. Nelson of Upland, were among the speakers. While there is some opposition, it is thought the issue will carry by a handsome majority.

EIGHT MILES OF MACADAM.

The Board of Trustees will probably favor the macadamizing of eight miles of the important highways within the city limits. Euclid, First, Second and Third avenues, it is said, are to come in for this treatment, as are also portions of Ninth, Tenth and Eleventh streets, while it is probable the two main business blocks will receive a genuine asphalt pavement, from curb to curb. All the other traveled streets of the city are to be brought to the grade, oiled and rolled. This work is made possible through the $50,000 bond issue, just sold by the city.

Careful estimates show that twenty cars of oranges are still to go forward from this point. Most will be shipped through the Exchange, though some will be marketed by independent buyers.

CROPS SHOW UP WELL.

Lompoc Valley Yields Rich Returns. Child Dies from Eating Matches. Political Notes.

LOMPOC, Aug. 27.—As usual, in this valley, crop returns are showing up well. Although this year has been a semi-dry one, all crops have done remarkably well. Local apples, that are fast becoming noted for their flavor and well keeping, will this year bring in good money to the grower. They are peculiarly free from blight or defection. C. M. Clark, one of the pioneer apple men of this valley, will ship several thousand boxes to Australia, where he is sure of good prices.

The onion crop is almost universally good here. The Chinese and Japanese devote much acreage to this vegetable. This year the crop will bring good prices. Harvesting has already commenced.

Beans and mustard both are doing well. The latter will not average as well as last year, but the reports from the bean fields are very encouraging.

A comparatively new crop here, now being harvested, is the swet pea, grown for seed. This season the number of acres set to this plant was three times as large as last year. The returns are remarkably good for the amount expended on growing and harvesting.

ATE MATCHES; DIES.

Mr. and Mrs. David Badger mourn the loss of their fifteen-months-old baby, who died at the Santa Barbara Hospital day before yesterday, after eating matches, which caused phosphorus poisoning. Death was very sudden.

The High School has commenced its school year, and the outlook is very encouraging. The attendance is larger than for several years. The teachers are all new, with the exception of Prof. Luton, who has charge of the commercial course.

CANDIDATES.

George Rucker, who was nominated for Supervisor from this district at the Democratic convention recently held in Santa Barbara, will be opposed by J. C. Frick, Republican. Both men have many friends and the contest is likely to be warm. The local men on the new County Central Committee are: W. L. Spanne, Paul Fox, Charles Douglass and Gus Wood. Santa Rita is represented by Carl Gifford and Cojo by A. B. McMichael.

The Virginia, Long Beach, equaled by none. Moderate rates for the summer

Misses Martha Baltzer, Ida Baltzer and Ferda Islen of Riverside arrived yesterday to be the guests of Misses Dena and Anna Bethurum for a few weeks.

Jochim Streliner, wife and daughter of San Diego arrived yesterday to take the baths for several weeks. They are occupying the Gorton cottage on Ellis street.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Dillings arrived yesterday from St. Peter, Kan., to spend a couple of weeks at the home of Mr. Dillings's uncle, H. B. Hanna. They are on their wedding tour.

OFFICERS SEEK ARLINGTON MAN.

HE IS ACCUSED OF FORGING GOVERNMENT WARRANT.

Panic Among Riverside County Druggists Who Violate Prohibition Ordinance—Three Charged With Selling Liquor Illegally—Fifteen-Year-Old Girl Becomes Wife.

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 27.—H. B. Parker, who was employed for a time as a blacksmith at Arlington, is accused of having forged a government warrant, and afterward raising the amount from from $2.40 to $240. Parker presented this warrant at the Citizens' Bank at Arlington and it was taken for collection. On the strength of this he is said to have succeeded in victimizing several local merchants by obtaining about $240 worth of goods.

The warrant was sent to San Francisco for collection, and advices have just been received that the paper is not only a forgery, but that it has been raised from the original amount. The work was so skillfully done that detection was difficult. Among the Riverside firms claiming to be swindled by Parker was the Pollock Bros. jewelry house, from whom the man bought a gold watch. This was sent to Los Angeles, with other articles purchased in a similar manner, and was later forwarded to Bakersfield. There both Parker and the goods disappeared. Government detectives are mkaing vigorous efforts to apprehend the man.

DRUGGISTS IN PANIC.

Three arrests in the past two days on the charge of the illegal sale of liquor have caused something of a panic among druggists of the county who are violating the county prohibition ordinance. This morning Herman Brandner, a clerk in the drug store of F. G. Wedemeyer of Hemet, was brought in from that town and was given his preliminary hearing before Justice Thomas B. Stephenson. He pleaded not guilty to the charge of selling liquor illegally, and was released on $500 bonds. His case was set for trial September 12. Yesterday Mr. Wedemeyer of Hemet and Frank Grazide of Beaumont were brought before Justice Stephenson on the same charge and both pleaded not guilty. Wedemeyer will be tried September 10 and Grazide September 11.

ABUSED HIS FREEDOM?

Charged with having violated his parole from San Quentin, Serafin Corona was brought to the County Jail yesterday by Marshal Lyman of Corona, and will be held pending an investigation. The prisoner was sent up from Orange county some time ago to serve an eight years' sentence for horse stealing. A few months ago he was released on parole, and has been employed at Rincon. The charge against Corona is made by his employer, T. J. Scully, who refuses to state wherein the man has abused his freedom. The prisoner denies the charge.

BRIDE A MERE GIRL.

Miss Lulu I. Towers, the pretty fifteen-year-old daughter of William A. Towers, foreman of the Southern California Cement Company, was married yesterday afternoon to Chris L. Sorenson of Long Beach. The wedding took place in the apartments of the Board of Supervisors in the Courthouse, with Justice Thomas B. Stephenson officiating.

NEARS COMPLETION.

The classic new Woman's Clubhouse, on the corner of Main and Eleventh streets, is approaching completion, and according to present plans will be ready for dedication October 2. The building is a particularly beautiful type of Ionic architecture, designed by Franklin P. Burnham of Los Angeles, and will cost $15,000. At the dedication of the new building, the Woman's Club House Association, which built the structure, will hold open house during the afternoon, with a reception in the evening.

PROPOSED BOND ISSUE.

It is understood that an election for the voting of bonds for a city hall and other public improvements will be called within the next week. Mayor Evans, who is a strong advocate of the proposed bond issue, is hopeful for the outlook, and declares that the election will be held either the latter part of September or early in October. One of the items to be included will be the extension of the waterpipe line from the Gage canal to Casa Blanca, giving that section better fire protection.

CARRIED BY CURRENT.

Body of Drowned Athlete Discovered Four Miles North of Hueneme Bath-house.

OXNARD, Aug. 27.—The body of Charles Kellogg Richardson, the University of Southern California athlete who was drowned off Hueneme Beach two weeks ago today, was found last night by two laborers, A. T. Davis and Oscar Blair. Both men are strangers and had not heard of the drowning. They feared being accused of some crime in connection with the body and for five hours kept the news secret; then Constable Charles Eason was informed.

Eason accompanied the father of the drowned boy to the beach this morning and the body was recovered at high-water mark. It was in a wonderful state of preservation and there was no difficulty in identifying it. It had been carried far up on the beach by the high tide of two nights ago. The point is four miles north of the Hueneme bath-house.

Not a single person had patrolled the beach at the point where the body was found as it was the general belief it would be carried south.

The funeral service was held this afternoon at Santa Paula and the remains were buried in the private grounds of the Richardson family.

WILL PLAY BALL.

Ventura and Oxnard high schools will play two games of baseball at the local high school grounds day after tomorrow. The two teams have recently reorganized for the school year and will play a series with the Santa Paula and Thatcher schools.

EDMONDSON WITHDRAWS.

Another Democratic candidate has withdrawn. R. B. Edmondson, who was nominated for Supervisor for the Fifth district, which includes the city of Oxnard, has declined to run. Maj. P. S. Carr is the Republican nominee.

LYDIA E.
PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

No other medicine for Woman's ills in the world has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs.

No other medicine has such a record of success for woman's diseases, or such hosts of grateful friends as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been the standard remedy for feminine ills, Inflammation, Ulceration, and consequent Spinal Weakness.

It has relieved more cases of Backache and Local Weaknesses than any other one remedy. It dissolves and expels tumors in an early stage of development.

Irregularities and periodic pains, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility, quickly yield to it; also deranged organs, causing pain, dragging sensations and backache. Under all circumstances it acts in harmony with the female system.

It removes that wearing feeling, extreme lassitude, "don't care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, dizziness, faintness, sleeplessness, flatulency, melancholy or the "blues." These are indications of Feminine disorders, which this medicine overcomes as well as slight derangement of the Kidneys of either sex.

Women who are sick and want to get well should refuse to accept any substitute for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

CHARGED WITH ENTERING COTTAGE OF RICHER MAN.

Millionaire Owner of Warner's Ranch May Be Called Upon to Appear in Justice Court to Give Evidence Against San Diegan—Socialist Scorns Nomination.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 27.—Robert Vail, the millionaire owner of Warner's ranch, may be called upon to appear in justice court at Julian, a mining town adjoining the ranch, to prosecute a charge of burglary against Sidney O. Chase, son of Charles W. Chase, a wealthy resident of this city.

The District Attorney's office issued a complaint charging young Chase with entering the Vail cottage and ransacking it. A writing desk was broken open and the contents disturbed. A carving set is missing from the kitchen, an Indian basket from the parlor and a bed quilt from a bedroom. It is alleged by Samuel Taylor, foreman of the ranch, that young Chase was seen to emerge from the house, and that a man named Hartshorn saw him carrying a quilt. Thomas Conley, a Los Angeles stockman, is also summoned as a witness. It is said he saw some one in the house disguised in an automobile outfit.

Officers say young Chase went to Warner's in an automobile, and that he was there on the day the house is alleged to have been burglarized. Chase is out on $500 bond to appear for preliminary hearing. The Chase family is well known in this section of the State.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Vail and family, who have been spending the summer on the ranch, left the house a day previous to the burglary, going to Riverside county by motor car.

MILLER UNDER BOND.

H. E. Miller, who was brought back from Los Angeles to answer a charge of defrauding an inn-keeper, was arraigned before Justice Thorp today and given twenty-four hours in which to plead. Although he puts on an air of braggadocio he has not yet succeeded in convincing court officials of his innocence. He has been put under $1500 bond. In connection with the arest of Miller, it was stated that he was at one time secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. This is incorrect. For four months he acted as a membership solicitor, but aside from this, was not identified with the organization.

EXONERATES ANDREWS.

The report of the special grievance committee of the Bar Association, which investigated charges of unprofessional conduct against the law firm of Crane & Andrews, exonerates C. N. Andrews, but declares H. S. Crane to be guilty of the indiscretion of attacking the credit of San Diego merchants. Crane has left the city.

WANT MINING AMENDMENTS.

The Chamber of Commerce is preparing to conduct a campaign to enlarge its membership and to interest more capital for the development of the county's resources. Ed C. Hinkle and A. E. Dodson, Republican and Democratic candidates, respectively, for the Assembly, have addressed the chamber, and each pledges, if elected, to use his best efforts to secure needed amendments to the mining laws.

WILL ADJUST MATTER.

The differences between the Point Loma Electric Railway, in which Col. D. C. Collier is the leading spirit, and the Keller-Kerckhoff road, represented by Col. Ed Fletcher, regarding the crossing of the tracks on Tide street, may be amicably settled. However, Col. Collier says the cost of a permanent crossing will have to be borne by the Keller-Kerckhoff people.

DEBS COMING.

Local Socialists are making preparations for an open air demonstration in honor of Eugene Debs, candidate of the party for President, on September 9. He will come here in his $20,000 "Red Special," accompanied by Socialists from the North. Austin Adams, who was nominated by the local convention for Assemblyman, declines. In an open letter Adams declares that he "belongs to the upper set of socialism and cares not for the petty nomination of Assemblyman."

INSPECTS WORK.

Rear-Admiral H. N. Manney (retired,) special representative of the chief of the Bureau of Equipment, arrived last night from San Francisco for the purpose of inspecting the work at the coaling station. He is the guest of Commander A. C. Almy and spent the morning on the works where several contractors have portions of the construction in hand. He will remain several days.

SAVED FROM DROWNING.

F. E. Barrett, a prominent man of East Highland, and his sister, narrowly escaped drowning today at La Jolla. They were bathing in the surf and were carried beyond their depth and cut t sea, but caught on Friend's Rock. There they clung for half an hour, the sea breaking over them. Dr. Robert Powell, with a life preserver, a rope and a box of medicinal restoratives, managed to reach them, though he was seriously cut against the rocks. Aided by those on the beach he successfully landed both. Mr. Barrett was also severely bruised on the rocks.

PART TWO, PAGE FOUR

"AMONG THE MOORS," will be the title of a timely article in The Times Magazine the coming Sunday.

Weak Men, We Can Cure You

We have the largest practice because we cure our patients.

Men whose vitality is exhausted, who have some private disease or weakness lurking in their system, and who are prematurely old while still young in years, broken down wrecks of what they ought to be, and who want to be strong—and to feel as vigorous as they did before they wasted their strength—to enjoy life again—to win back the vim, vigor and vitality lost, should consult us before it is too late.

It is humiliating to know that your manly strength is slipping away—to be weak, nervous, fretful and gloomy, have pains and aches in different parts of the body, your sleep disturbed, weak back, headache, despondency, melancholia, too frequent urination, palpitation of the heart, unable to concentrate your thoughts, poor memory, easily fatigued, specks before the eyes, aversion to society, lack of ambition, will power depleted, dizzy spells, vital losses, poor circulation, to feel cold, lifeless and worn out, primarily induced in many cases by abuses, excesses and overwork.

Vigorous manhood is the stepping stone to success in life. The man who has preserved the vitality given him by nature, or having lost it, has again regained it by securing proper treatment, is enabled to shove aside all barriers which impede his progress both commercially and socially. It forces men to the front in all walks of life. Do you want to be strong, possess nerves of steel, self-confidence, strength in every muscle, ambition, grit, energy and endurance in order to make your life complete? We have gladdened the hearts of hundreds of young and middle-aged men—restoring them to perfect specimens of physical manhood. If you are lacking in these essential elements, you should consult us at once.

Weakness

We were the first specialists in the United States to publicly announce diseases as the primary cause of weakness. By our new, original and improved methods we have cured hundreds of cases pronounced incurable by other specialists. And today we are the only Specialists curing Vital Weakness under absolute guarantee. Loss of power is invariably due to local disorders and cannot be cured by internal medicine or electric appliances. Our treatment quickly removes all abnormal conditions in the organs involved, and invariably results in complete restoration of functional activity.

Contracted Diseases

We cure these troublesome diseases quickly and [illegible] by our new and improved methods. Neglect, [illegible] or harsh treatment may result in serious and painful complications, entailing in some instances irreparable injury to the organs involved. Hence the wisdom of seeking the sympathetic aid of a reputable specialist in the very incipiency of the disease.

Consultation and advice free at office. All medicines are prepared in our own laboratory from the finest standardized drugs, and are furnished free.

Varicocele

One man in every four has some degree of varicocele sapping his vital strength, but not one in a hundred knows how to distinguish a genuine successful specialist from a smooth advertising pretender. There is but one certain and infallible way to be sure, and that is to visit and personally talk with 10 or 15 prominent business men who have been cured. We have been curing varicocele in Los Angeles 16 years, and are prepared to show cured patients by the dozen. Don't take any doctor's word, but be sure to see the men who have been cured before you pay one cent. If you will observe the above advice you will not use your time and money in vain. Read the above over and over again and remember that varicocele never was and never can be cured without an operation. Our operation is absolutely painless and devoid of danger, and we never fail to obtain a perfect cure in one week. We will give $1000 to any specialist or electric belt vender who will produce a single case of varicocele cured without an operation.

Specific Blood Poison

Our treatment for this loathsome disease is precisely that used by the most celebrated physicians at the famous Hot Springs of Arkansas. It is mild, yet thoroughly effective and curative, and under its benign influence every particle of virus is thoroughly eradicated. Beware of unskilled or harsh treatment. Improper treatment administered by inexperienced specialists may do more harm and work more havoc to the system than the disease.

My Original Methods Cure Every Case I Take for Treatment

I know exactly what to do to effect a thorough cure in every case that I accept for treatment. Though this is something that every specialist ought to know, it is rare knowledge, indeed. The hundreds of evidences of mistreatment that come beneath my observation prove the general lack of a clear understanding of men's diseases and their treatment. I have devoted 20 years to the study and treatment of the very few ailments constituting my specialty, and have acquired the knowledge and skill and developed the original and scientific methods that enable me to accomplish results such as no other physician anywhere has ever accomplished. I understand my work from first to last, know what to do and what not to do, and treat every case without the slightest idea of failure. I positively confine my practice to the

"Weakness" is not a nervous disorder, demanding a tonic system of treatment, but is merely a symptom of chronic inflammation or congestion in the prostatic gland. This condition exists as a result of early dissipation or some improperly treated contracted disorder, and requires carefully directed local measures only. By my own original methods, the prostate gland is quickly restored to its normal state, which results in full and complete return of strength and vigor. My cures are permanent because the condition responsible for the functional disorder is entirely removed, and I am convinced that by no treatment other than my own carefully directed local measures is a radical cure of this ailment possible.

I offer not only FREE Consultation and Advice, but of every case that comes to me I will make a Careful Examination and Diagnosis without charge. No ailing man should neglect this opportunity to get expert opinion about his trouble.

SALES: 5000 California Hills at 1⅛; 5000 Consolidated Mines at 2⅜; 5000 do. at 2½. B. 30.

THE MARKETS.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

The time when apples and grapes are at their lowest prices has arrived, and yesterday, on account of the usual dullness, prices were slashed right and left and dealers lost on sales rather than retain the stock that might spoil in a day or two. Black Morocco grapes, Zinfandels and the Thompson seedless moved at 25 cents per lug box, less almost than the actual cost of gathering and shipping. Muscats were sharply cut while the Malvoisi and Concords remained the same.

The bottom almost dropped out of the apple market. Fancy Gravensteins brought from 75 to 1.15. Alexanders, Skinners seedling and Violets sold at 10 cents less, while Bellefleurs are the only variety that kept a semblance of former prices. The letter notices to apple shippers at Watsonville, Lompoc, San Luis Obispo and other northern towns, in regard to the wormy fruit, were sent out and all of the papers of the same places were notified of the recent ruling of the local health department as well as the action of the Produce Exchange in conjunction with all fruit dealers here.

Although unchanged, egg prices were firm. Receipts were 132 cases, and offerings were limited to a few case counts which being held too high, were not taken.

Butter arrivals were the smallest in months and counter balanced the large arrivals of the day previous. They totaled only 4072 pounds. Creamery firsts and cooking butter were the varieties placed on sale.

Diversity marked the cheese offerings although they were not widely scattered through the list as is usual. American anchor, eastern singles and northern fresh were the chief offerings. Receipts were 6092 pounds.

The potato market was firm and offerings small. Arrivals were chiefly from Ventura and Anaheim districts and were reported as 1486 sacks.

Onion arrivals were 42 sacks. Silverskins were the best sellers. Garlic was well called for and on 'change, five sacks of the product were sold and prices declined fractionally on arrivals from this vicinity as well as continued large receipts from Mexico.

Beans were in little demand. Receipts were 60 sacks. Pinks and small whites constituted the chief offerings. Arrivals of sweet potatoes showed 129 sacks in. Apple arrivals were reported at 948 boxes.

Vegetable changes were few and there were all sorts and varieties on hand in plentitude. Okra was down fractionally. Tomatoes looked upward and celery remained stationary. Carrots, beets and kindred products, moved slowly.

While there has been no decided change in meat prices, the outlook continues toward advances. With the cattle all grazing and ready for market and the demand in the east better than here, the majority of the beef of the west will be shipped east. Live hogs are firm but cured stock is uncertain, with a trend downward.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE.

OIL DIVIDENDS ADVANCE PRICE.

LITTLE TRADING ON ACCOUNT OF HIGHER ASKINGS.

Associated Shares Change Hands and Other Issues Make Gains All Along the Line—Mining Stocks Weak, but Industrials Show Continued Increase Above Bids.

Prices were firm to fractionally higher on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday, although trading was limited to one oil stock. There was some activity among the mining issues, but this was of a rather insignificant nature, only cheap stocks being handled.

Associated Oil was the issue traded in during the early call. Prices on this weather beaten stock advanced materially yesterday under what seemed a strong demand from inside sources. Sales were made at 30.62½ on a cash basis, and at 30.00 flat, seller thirty days. Twenty shares were handled in all. The stock closed at 30.25@31.00, the bid showing an advance of 1 point, while the asking price was unchanged.

Two points were gained in the bid for Amalgamated Oil, which was quoted at 80.00@95.00. The asked price was up 5 points above Wednesday's market. Central weakened in the holding price, closing also with a ½ point drop in the bid, at 92@1.03, the asked showing a 7-point decline. Columbia Oil was up ½ point in the bid, and remained unchanged in the asked price, closing at 90@93. Continental Oil was up 1½ points in the bid, closing at 20@30. Globe remained at 11½ bid, but was one point higher in the holding price, at 14. Union closed with a ½ point advance in both quotations at 234.50@239.00. Union Provident was quoted at 230.00@238.00, up 1½ in the asked, while United Petroleum was at 415.00@450.00, the latter quotation being 10 points above the previous close.

Home Telephone preferred, in which so much trading has been carried on within the last week, was in strong demand yesterday, closing with an advance in each quotation. The bid was up 5-8 of a point, at 45.00, while the holding price was at 46.25, up 1½ points. A one point rise also was scored in the asking price of Home common, which closed at 8.00@13.00.

Other industrials remained almost inactive. A three-point drop is noticable in the asked price on California Portland Cement, which was offered at 72.00. Edison preferred was up ½ in the bid at 78.00@81.00. The common stock was unchanged. United States Long Distance was off 1 point in the asked, and up 1-4 in the bid, closing at 41.25@44.00. Others were unchanged.

A few fractional changes were made among the bond quotations, several advances being made in the asked prices on these securities. Edison Electric Oil issues were bid for at par, but were not offered at less than 106, which is one point above Wednesday's market. Temescal Water Company was up 2 points in the asked at 103, and ½ was gained in the asked price on Union Transportations, which were offered at 90, closing with a bid at 87.

The bank stocks were practically neglected. Consolidated Mines was the largest trader on the mining call. A total of 10,000 shares were sold in all, half of which were at 2 3-8 cash, and the remaining 5000 at 2½, buyer thirty days. Five thousand shares of California Hills were sold at 1 1-8.

The announcement of several dividends on oil stocks was a factor in creating a very lively demand for these issues in the local market, and investors are beginning to realize that a great boom is coming in the oil industry.

The Continental Oil Company has declared a dividend of one cent a share, payable September 10. The books will close at noon, on September 7.

The Pinal Oil Company has declared its regular monthly dividend of fifteen per cent. on par, which is payable September 5. Books close soon.

The regular monthly dividend of the Brookshire Oil Company, of two cents a share is due and payable September 1. The books closed August 25.

236 is issued. It has about 100 acres of land, and eight producing wells, giving a production ranging between 8000 and 9000 barrels a month. It paid its eighth dividend of ½ of one per cent. on par, on August 25, and also an extra dividend of the same amount making one cent a share in all. The company expects to be able to maintain this dividend at least, and with increased production to increase it.

DULL TRADING.

Business on Los Angeles Nevada Exchange Is Sluggish and of Little Importance.

The mining market on the Los Angeles-Nevada Exchange yesterday was a dull and sluggish affair. Trading was restricted almost entirely to the cheapest issues on the board, and was not very extensive. Price changes were few and unimportant.

Combination Fraction, which was so strong on Wednesday, sold off yesterday, closing weak at 1.55@1.58, showing a net decline of 3 and 2 points respectively. Trading amounted to 600 shares at 1.58@1.57 on the morning call, and to 300 on the informal at the same prices.

Florence was in demand, but was not handled, although it closed with 7½ points gained in the bid, at 3.62½@3.75. Goldfield Consolidated was handled to the extent of 20 shares at 6.00, and closed at 6.55@6.75, up 2½ points compared with Wednesday's prices.

Jumbo Extension sold at 47 cash to the extent of 100 shares on the morning call, but was inactive during the afternoon call, closing at 47@48. Daisy was the firmest feature of the entire list, failing to move in either direction, although handled extensively on Wednesday, a total of 200 shares changing hands at 74@75. The close was at 74@75, unchanged.

MacNamara sold at 63 during the morning call, when 1000 shares changed hands. The stock closed with 63 bid. Tonopah Extension was bid for at 75, but remained unoffered.

Bonnie Clare sold at 10, and Baby Florence changed hands at 9. Columbia Mountain was a trader at 28, and Globe Oil sold at 12½.

There was some minor trading in Dixie at 1⅛, Milltown Fraction at 2⅜, Triangle at 5¼, Johnnie Consolidated at 9.00 a thousand, and Eureka at 12.50@9.00 a thousand shares.

LOS ANGELES-NEVADA EXCHANGE QUOTATIONS.

SAN FRANCISCO LIST.

GENERAL BULL MOVEMENT DUE.

BROKERS ADVISE PURCHASE OF CHEAP ISSUES.

Insiders Absorbing Quantities of Booth, and Entire List Seems on Move Upward—Wire Trouble Cuts Down Eastern Business—Local Traders Buy Leaders, However.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—The market was inactive today owing to poor wire service to eastern cities. Stocks, however, were in demand and steady. There was good buying of the Goldfield leaders at steady prices. Florence and Goldfield Consolidated look considerably higher.

The Bullfrogs had a setback by a big block of Homestake-King being thrown on the market and breaking it to 22. The Manhattans remained firm and should be bought at present quotations. The Round Mountain Mining Company has declared a dividend of 4 cents a share, payable September 17.

There was considerable trading in Portland today, closing at 11@12. This property belongs to the Red Hills crowd.

Curb trading started early this morning, when the high figures of the day were made, Fraction selling at 1.62½ and Florence at 3.70.

Booth is being quietly absorbed by the insiders on offerings under 50. The whole list looks better and there are many cheap ones that will soon be favorites. Brokers generally seem to be advising the purchase of the low-priced issues, and the opinion is that the market as a whole is in line for a general bull movement. The following are the closing bid and asked prices, with sales on the formal call:

RAILWAY SECURITIES LEADERS IN ADVANCEMENT.

Southern Pacific Advances to New High Level and Union Pacific Sells at Highest Figure in More Than Year—Generally Better Demand for High-Class Bonds.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WALL STREET, NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Under the influence of a heavy covering movement, induced in large part by an "evening up" process of the shorts concerned in the suspension of A. O. Brown & Co., today's stock market made pronounced progress in the direction of higher prices. Again the leaders were the Harriman issues, Southern Pacific advancing to a new high level and Union Pacific selling at its highest figure in considerably over a year. As has been the case right along, no tangible news attended the upward movement of these stocks, but the board room was full of gossip about an increase in the Southern Pacific dividend and talk of better earnings by both roads for July. Encouragement was found in the belief that no more untoward incidents are likely to result from the early-in-the-week excitement. An excellent impression was created by the ease with which the new Atchison $47,000,000 bond issue was marketed and by the generally better demand for high-class bonds. Then, too, the continued cheapness of money has driven many wealthy individuals and institutions into the purchase of bonds, assured dividend payers. Trading during the first hour was almost as large as for the entire previous day, and such adverse factors as the flood damages in the South and numerous unfavorable railroad returns seemed to call for scant attention. For the month of July fifty-five railroads reported a decrease of 16.57 per cent. in gross earnings.

The Harriman issues became buoyant in the late session and the entire list participated in the rise. Reading made a net gain of 4⅛, and Southern Pacific and Union Pacific scored net gains of 3¼ and 4⅝ points, respectively. Trading in the last two issues constituted over 33 per cent. of the day's business, which closed at top prices, despite heavy realizing for profits.

The demand for money continues at a standstill, with freer offerings.

The general bond market was strong; total sales, par value, $6,420,000. No change in government bonds on call.

BEAR SENTIMENT IN WHEAT PIT.

LOWER CABLES AND WEATHER CONDITIONS THE CAUSE.

Buying of September by Shorts and Cash Interests Strengthens Market Later in Session, and Close Is Easy—Small Receipts Cause Good Demand for Corn.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—The wheat market was inclined to be weak at the start today, opening quotations being unchanged to ⅛@¼ lower. The influences that created this bearish sentiment were lower cables and weather conditions in the spring-wheat country. The rain predicted for last night for Minnesota and the Dakotas failed to materialize except in portions of Minnesota, and reports received today indicated that, although harvesting had been somewhat delayed across the international boundary line by wet weather, the new crop in the Canadian provinces would be ready for market at an early date. Toward the end of the first hour the market became firm owing to buying of September by shorts and cash interests, the latter taking the nearby delivery and selling December. This resulted in a narrowing of the premium on December to only ⅝ above September, and caused September to advance from 93⅞ to 95 cents. Sentiment became bearish again late in the day and prices yielded to fairly liberal profit-taking by local holders. The weakness was partly due to the poor demand for cash wheat. With the exception of a few bids for Durum wheat and for hard winter wheat for August loading, there was no export demand today and no cash sales were reported. The market closed easy, with prices ⅛@⅜ higher to ⅛@¼ lower.

Small receipts and an excellent demand for the cash grain caused strength in the corn market. The close was firm, ¼ to ⅝ above yesterday's final figures.

Oats were strong all day, particularly the May delivery, which advanced to 52 cents, a new high point for the crop. The market closed strong, with prices up ⅜@½ to ⅝.

Provisions were firm. Total arrivals of live hogs today were estimated at 46,000, compared with 73,000 the corresponding day a year ago. At the close, prices were a shade to 12½ higher than the previous close.

Cash quotations were as follows: Flour was firm; No. 3 spring wheat, 95@1.04; No. 2 red, 94¾@96¼; No. 2 corn, 79@80½; No. 2 yellow, 80@80½; No. 2 white oats, 52⅝; No. 3 white, 49@51½; No. 2 rye, 76@78; good feeding barley, 61@64; fair to choice malting, 63@66; No. 1 northwestern flaxseed, 1.28⅝; prime timothy seed, 3.50; short ribs, sides (loose,) 8.62½@8.87½; mess pork, per bbl., 14.50@14.62½; lard, per 100 lbs., 9.35; short clear sides (boxed,) 9.00@9.25; whisky, basis of high wines, 1.37.

REVERSES HIS OWN DECISION.

GRANTS NEW TRIAL IN NOTED BACK TAXES SUIT.

Bisbee Judge, After Finding Against the Territory, Now Says That His Determination Upon an Important Point Was Unsound. Opium Smugglers Arrested.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

BISBEE, (Ariz.) Aug. 26.—Judge Nave has practically reversed himself in granting a new trial in the noted suit of the Territory against the Copper Queen Consolidated Mining Company for the collection of back taxes, alleged to have been due from the company since 1901, in the amount of $175,000. Last May, the Judge decided against the Territory on the basis that the large raise in valuation had not been collectable, in that it had been upon the entire group of sixty-four mines, without reference to their individual value. He now states: "I find that my determination upon a point that I deemed decisive in this case was unsound." He now believes that no essential right of the defendent was imperilled by the assessment of the property as a whole, and quotes some fundamental law in support of the change in his position.

UNIQUE RULE.

The Cochise County Board of Supervisors has made a unique rule in regard to the action of the Territorial Board of Equalization, in raising the valuation of patented non-producing mines in the Territory from $96 each to $686.95 each. It has determined that the Territorial tax of 75 cents on each $100 value shall be collected from the mines affected, but that for county purposes the old rate shall stand. This makes a difference to the county on the tax roll of $539,979. It happens that in only one county in the Territory is the assessment of patented non-producing mines as low as it was put by the Territorial Board, with respect to the Cochise County mines. In Yuma, Pima and Graham counties, the assessment on each patented claim of this character is $1000 or more. By reason of the increased assessment upon producing mines, the tax rate in Cochise county will be the lowest in the Territory, about $2 on the $100 of valuation, the assessment generally being about one-half of the sale of ordinary realty, and possibly one-twentieth of the value of producing mines.

OPIUM SMUGGLERS.

Walter Dean and J. W. Campbell of Bisbee have been arrested on a charge of smuggling opium across the International Boundary. The men were confirmed users of the drug, and were frequenters of the baser parts of the city. They were captured near Naco by Inspector Smith, who chased them down and found in their buggy opium that had been purchased in a store across the line. A local livery stable is interested, in that the buggy, which had been rented only a few hours before, was confiscated, in accordance with the rules of the Customs Service.

Four troops of the Fifth Cavalry from Fort Huachuca have just broken a two days' camp at Warren, near here. During their stay, the officers and men were the recipients of lavish hospitality from the townspeople.

The city is in financial straits, and will not be upon a cash basis again until November. Current expenses are being met by the issuance of warrants.

The Territorial Treasurer has turned over to the receiver of the First National Bank of Bisbee the sum of $568.45, premium on $25,000 worth of United States bonds, which had been deposited by the bank in the Territorial Treasury as security for a like sum in cash placed in the institution by the Territory. When the bank failed, the Treasurer sold the bonds.

BOAT OF MANY COLORS.

William B. Cleary, a local lawyer, is to be candidate of the Hearst party for the office of Delegate to Congress this fall. Cleary was formerly a Democrat, but latterly has been associated with the socialists, having been one of the leaders in the fight wherein the Western Federation of Miners sought to secure control of the Bisbee mines.

During the years that the Copper Queen smelter operated here the hillsides around were brown and were bare of vegetation, all growth being killed by the sulphur fumes from the smelter stacks. This season, favored by abundant rains, the hillsides now are recovered with verdure, and the lawns and yards of the city are wonderfully improved.

Abandonment of wells, use of the new sewerage system and greater sanitary precautions, have resulted in a remarkable decrease of the number of cases of typhoid fever usually known here during the summer season.

When Joseph F. McKeehan, secretary of the local lodge of Elks, was en route here with his bride, formerly Miss Grace Mitchell of San Francisco, he was met by enthusiastic friends when he arrived in the city, and appeared on the car platform before the entire membership of the lodge and a few hundred miscellaneous citizens, he was securely handcuffed. After an impromptu reception at the Elks' club, the bridegroom was compelled to spend an hour at a blacksmith's, getting the shackles filed from his wrists.

FRIENDLY FEELINGS.

scientiously support those principles or those candidates, it is his Godgiven right to forsake his party and flock by himself, but if he wishes to have any part in the administration of political affairs he must belong to a party. It is just as impossible to accomplish anything politically without organization as it is for an eagle to fly without wings, and if you have organization you have a party, and just in proportion as your organization is complete your party machinery will be affective. [Applause.]

"Now, do not misunderstand me. Do not get the idea that I am advocating a boss-controlled machine. Members of the Union League are unalterably opposed to boss dictation in the Republican party, but in this they are no different from any other intelligent, self-respecting citizen whether or not he belongs to the Union League. No man worthy the glorious name of American citizen believes in or will tamely submit to arbitrary dictation by a political boss, no matter by what name or under what guise he may appear, but we must not make the mistake of supposing that every man who trains with a so-called machine in politics, national or local, is corrupt or boss ridden, or that every man who opposes the organization is above reproach. Human nature is pretty much the same in politics, religion or business, and while good people may and will differ in all these lines of human effort, you will never find all the good people in one band wagon and all the bad in the other.

"Take our own community. We are given to boasting somewhat of the intelligence and integrity of our people, and every word of commendation is fully justified. We have here in Los Angeles city and county a body of citizens as intelligent, as broad-minded, as independent, as progressive, as patriotic, as loyal to all the best ideals of citezenship, as can be found in any other community in the world, and these citizens, nearly all of whom are Republicans, through their representatives in convention assembled, have chosen these gentlemen, our guests this evening as the candidates of our party, to be voted for at the coming election.

"So I say again, our duly constituted authorities having spoken, our party principles declared in the platforms adopted, and our candidates nominated by delegates lawfully chosen for that purpose, let us get together, and whoop it up to beat the band for our grand old party and big Bill Taft for President." [Cheers.]

FORCE FOR GOOD.

At the conclusion of his address the toastmaster gracefully introduced Senator Flint, who made a distinguished appearance, and who was listened to with marked attention.

After commenting on the level-headed good sense of the Union Leagle in having called this meeting, he spoke of the recent contest in the party as having been a force for good.

"We have such a large majority in this county that we Republicans do not need united action. The result is, naturally, that we sometimes have factions. It is necessary for the betterment of the party that we should have differences of opinion.

"Without this contest, there would be—and there have been—nominees who would not be and have not been satisfactory.

"There should be a contest and it should be an active one, but after the convention it should be at an end and all should support the choice of that convention, as we are doing here tonight.

"I know of no disagreements now. Not only have we nothing to complain of locally, but we have as our national standard-bearers men who represent all that is highest and best in American citizenship."

Turning to Roosevelt, Mr. Flint paid the President a sincere tribute of admiration as the man "who has done more good than any other man in the same space of time, who has inspired our citizens to decide vigorously between right and wrong." He said Roosevelt has forced Congress to do many things concerning which it was reluctant and had caused many things to be placed upon the statute books which would never have been there but for him.

"As a test as to whether I have favored his policies or not, I will not refer you to this or that man. I refer you to Roosevelt. If any man questions my course, let him ask the President.

"As long as he is in office I intend to follow his leadership."

Senator Flint said that Taft is, in his opinion, the best man in the United States not only to carry out the Roosevelt policies, but to inaugurate the Taft policies.

"Four years from now," he said, "I hope we will all be here again and I know that we will all be then as enthusiastic for the reëlection of Taft as we are now for Mr. Roosevelt."

The toastmaster announced that Mcachian and Judges Wilbur and Monroe were absent, and called on Judge J. P. Conrey.

HIS IMPORTANT HALF.

"I have been informed," said Judge Conrey, "that my time is limited to four and a half minutes. I don't know what the half minute is for, unless to recall the half vote that was significant to me at the recent county convention."

As Judge Conrey failed of nomination on the first ballot by just half a vote, this raised a laugh.

He expressed his sense of obligation to the Republican party for having nominated him for the third time and said: "We are not supposed to be in political life, yet I think that the judge who is nominated by the Republican party is always doing politics for his party. He does it best by devoting himself heart and soul to the work of administering justice and doing his duty as best he can.

"I have certain ideals. I maintain of course that a fair knowledge of the law is necessary to a judge on the bench, but above that should be a love of justice and of his fellow-man."

Judge Conrey paid a high tribute to his associates on the bench.

"I am glad," he said, "that the party does itself the honor to place in these offices men who, without exception, are devoting themselves to their duty.

"Our business as judges is to forget friends and party in the administration of justice, but since we come under the elective system, it is our part to distinctly remember and acknowledge our obligation to the party which has recognized our efforts to do the right thing."

LEGISLATIVE CANDIDATES.

Before introducing the candidates for the Legislature, the toastmaster took occasion to defend our lawmakers. "It is one of our worst habits to continually criticise our legislators, acting on the theory that they are all cutthroats and rascals."

Although evidently speaking seriously Mr. Bulla was interrupted by loud laughter. He said that he believes the majority of the members of the Legislature do their duty to the best of their ability.

M. W. Thompson, candidate for State Senator in the Thirty-fifty District, was then introduced.

He said he could testify to the truth of the toastmaster's remarks. He said that most of the legislators go to Sacramento intending to do right, but that in the great hurry and in the limited time mistakes are often made.

"If I can find the enthusiasm in my district I do here," said Thompson, "my opponent will wake up on the morning after election and wonder where he ever got the idea that he was a real candidate."

"The candidate for Senator in the Thirty-seventh District mest be a good man," said the toastmaster in introducing Mr. Hurd, "for he beat Marshall Stimson."

Hurd spoke nicely of Stimson and of the latter's graciousness in accepting defeat at the convention. He promised, if elected, to work for the interests of Southern California.

Mr. Cogswell, the one Lincoln-Roosevelt nominee (Sixty-seventh,) said that he had never attended a ratification meeting before.

"I have attended surprise parties, though, and hoped that I would never be visited by one, but this seems to be pretty nearly one."

Mr. Cogswell expressed the belief that this country is facing the most serious crisis since the Civil War and rejoiced that it should face that crisis under men like Taft and Roosevelt.

Harry Barndollar (Sixty-ninth) wittily said: "This is the first time, although I have been in politics for thirty-four years, that I have ever been placed on exhibition." He told a funny story and sat down.

LEEDS MAKES A HIT.

One of the big hits of the evening was made by Walter R. Leeds, a candidate for the Assembly.

"I have been entertaining Mr. Barndollar," he said, "with stories of my forlorn wanderings to Sacramento when I was green to the ways of the Legislature, as he is.

"When I went there for the first time I went up with Jake Transue and Phil Stanton. I told them that I wanted to vote right and not be the object of a mass meeting called for the purpose of denouncing me at home.

"But I guess they must have slipped me one, for I got all the roasting I had dreaded. In fact, I discovered that I was the only wrong one on every proposition."

Mr. Leeds then turned to a serious discussion of some of the constitutional amendments about to come before the people, such as the proposed system of corporation taxation. He expressed the belief that the direct primaries law and the anti-race track measures will pass this time.

The toastmaster specially thanked Mr. Leeds for his explanations of these measures, and expressed the hope that at some future club meeting he may give a more extended explanation.

Otto Rech, candidate from the Seventy-second, spoke briefly and glowingly of his hopes and his ambitions. Transue was then called.

DEFENDS LAST LEGISLATURE.

He almost pleadingly defended the record of the last Legislature, and affirmed his belief that the legislators mean to do right, and that they are criticised too harshly.

"One young Assemblyman from Los Angeles came to me one day with a newspaper held open in his hand. 'Good God, Jake,' he said, 'what do you think of that?'

"It was his first grilling. I told him not to mind that, for he would get it worse before long. Well, he did."

Transue said that sometimes for variety the people ought to speak well of the Legislature. "Sometimes Leeds's feet slipped and sometimes mine slipped, and sometimes others' feet slipped, but all tried to do right."

Percy Hammon of the Seventy-fifth said he was suffering from a terrible headache, and would make no speech. "I find, anyhow," he said, "that all that is necessary for us to do is to be able to take a programme. The recent county convention laid down instructions for us on anti-race-track laws, and direct primaries and other things, laeving little room for our discretion."

WITTY WILLIS.

F. R. Willis made a witty speech. He said that the county had always gone Democratic until he arrived from the Republican State of Iowa; since then, it has always gone Republican with the exception of one year, when he was not watching closely.

He said that the recent convention pleased him more than any other he ever saw, meaning, of course, his nomination. "By the Constitution," he said, "the judiciary are prohibited from making long speeches. They are prohibited from inflicting cruel and unusual punishments."

FRANK, HE'S APPLAUDED.

H. D. McCabe, candidate for Supervisor, spoke ingenuously and so frankly that he received the loudest applause offered any one.

"I had a speech all framed up," he said, "but I can't remember what it was now. When I hear these Assemblymen telling what they got from the newspapers and the people, I can't help wondering what's going to happen to me if I get elected. On account of all this money we will have to spend for good roads, I figure that there is going to be a man standing on every corner with a big club. We are going to be watched closer than ever, Supervisors were watched before."

C. J. Nellis, who told the story of his life and R. W. Pridham, who spoke earnestly on the responsibility of the coming Board of Supervisors, followed.

A toast was then offered to Gov. Gillett and Col. George N. Black of his staff spoke eloquently and wisely of the character, ability and honor of his chief, the Governor.

He quoted a recent letter, written since the county convention, in which the Governor said: "The time has come for Republicans to stop all dissentions. Our contest has been decided by the people. Particularly is it our duty who may be considered as victors to forget every unkind thing that has happened and remember simply that we are Republicans."

The banquet broke up with cheers for the Governor.

WERE POOR SHOTS.

Greeks Fire on Comrades, but Injure None, and Are Arrested Upon Minor Charge.

Charged with assault with a deadly weapon, James and William Aramy, Greek laborers employed on the roads near San Fernando, were arrested by Constable Strader late yesterday evening, and locked up in the County Jail.

Trouble between the Greeks in the road-grading camps had been brewing for some time and yesterday resulted in a free-for-all fight. During the fracas, it is alleged the Aramy boys secured revolvers and fired upon other laborers. No one was injured and the arrival of the constable soon put an end to the trouble.

James Aramy is 19 years of age, his brother 22 years. They were unable to furnish bail last night and were held pending arraignment.
